1997 The Jerusalem Pow

υ.

が他

۵K

à *

THE JERUSALEM

Make international connections From Israel, just dial: 177-100-2727

PA prevents more Hebron riots

'Catch 22' on the stage

Arts & Entertainment, Page 8

TUESDAY, JULY 15 199725 TA

Barak meets Blair at 10 Downing Street

Page 16

index Arts & Entertainment . . . . 8 Crossword ..........15

NIS 4.50 (Ellat NIS 3 80)

Tragedy at Maccabiah ceremony

1 dead, 66 hurt

By ARIEH O'SULLIVAN, BATSHEVA TSUR, HEATHER CHAIT, RAINE MARCUS, and Jerusalem Post Staff

A pedestrian bridge collapsed at the opening of the 15th Maccabiah Games last night, sending a group of Australian athletes plummeting into the Yarkon River. One person was killed and at least 66 were injured, at least five seriously.

The dead accident victim was a man, 36, a member of the Australian bowls team. According to Israel Radio, he drowned in the river. His who was on the bridge with

Winning card

A STATE

Hollywood

film planne

on Operation

Moses

BY TOM TUGER

11

3.1

: "---"

11/2

1.0

- - 6

آر بدر : این س

27 2 20 20

الماسينين الماسين

4 - 1 7 - 144 ....

1 - 2 - 2 - 2

....:

75,55 - 702

12. of

Decision to go ahead with ceremony criticized, Page 2

him, identified his body, ltim said, The organizers announced last night after midnight that the games would be suspended for 24 hours, resuming tomorrow morning.

Witnesses said at least a hundred people taking part in the opening procession were on the bridge which had been specially built for the Maccabiah and led into Ramat Gan's National Stadium - when it collapsed. As stunned athletes tried to grope their way to safety, dozens of rescuers and fleets of ambulances rushed to the scene.

They were soon joined by teams of divers who searched the murky river for victims. Two policemen who jumped the river to help the injured were also hospitalized, Army Radio said.

Despite the accident, Maccabiah organizers, after consultations with political leaders and officials, decided to go ahead with the opening ceremony. Ramat Gan Mayor Zvi Bar explained the decision by saying they did not want the crowd - which was still unaware of the tragedy - to panic. However, he said the parade of national teams and the fireworks show was canceled.

Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu, who was attending the ceremonies, said initial reports did not mention fatalities; but the moment it was confirmed a person died he asked the show be stopped.

The accident occurred just after the Austrian team had crossed the bridge six abreast and about 100 of the 373-member Australian team were on the bridge, witnesses said.
"We were walking across," said

Harry Purcell, the Australia team manager, "All of a sudden we heard a bang. It was like a loud noise. And then all of a sudden, in slow motion, it just collapsed in the middle and we started to slide."

One of the Australian athletes returned to the river and retrieved the soaked flag of Australia, Army Radio said. Others huddled on shore in their muddied sports uniforms. "I fell in the water and suddenly I felt air, thank God, but I don't know what happened to the other people," Australian delegation member Ari Kochmalik told Channel 1.

Police Inspector-General Assaf Hefetz said the collapse was "absolutely not [due to] sabotage. There was something wrong with this bridge."

Internal Security Minister Avigdor Kahalani said the police had issued a permit for the bridge after receiving approval from the engineers who built it and it had passed a safety test. He said the police would investigate the approval of the bridge.

For previous events, the IDF built the footbridge. This year, however, organizers decided this would be 100 expensive and used a private construction company, Irgunit.

Education Minister Zevulun

Hammer last night appointed

Deputy Minister Moshe Peled to head a committee to investigate the incident, a spokesman for Peled said. The committee is to include representatives of the police, the organizing committee, and Sports Authority director-general Yehoshua Dekel.

Immediately after "Hatikva" was ang, closing the ceremonies, President Ezer Weizman and Netanyahu left to visit the injured at Ichilov and Beilinson hospitals.

We should all unite now in the hope that this disaster will not be repeated," Netanyahu said at an impromptu news conference outside the hospital.

Earlier, some 40 minutes after the collapse, Weizman had taken the stage and opened the ceremony.

"I am sorry that this is the way I have to open the Maccabiah. It should have been happier. But I hope that the Maccabiah will bring us happier achievements," Weizman told the crowd, many of whom were unaware of the bridge collapse.

Weizman, who was shown by television waving to the crowd after reportedly visiting the scene of the accident, was initially reported to have been responsible for the controversial decision to go ahead with the ceremony. Beit Hanassi spokesman Batya Keinan, who received a flood of protests about the decision from journalists, later denied Weizman's responsibility.

The decision to continue was taken by the organizing committee, the police, and the other organizers," she said. "Not by the president, but in his presence."

As rescue efforts continued, the crowd saw a program featuring a three-dimensional laser-created hologram of a Star of David, along with a memorial ceremony to the victims of the Holocaust and the fallen of Israel's wars and terrorist attacks. This was followed by a song-and-dance show. Even those who participated in the show protested the decision. "It was a disgrace and shame that we carried out this performance with girls flipping around with their skirts flying and people singing after a tragedy such as this," Shalva Ben-Gal, one of the show's directors, said.

See TRAGEDY, Page 13

Rescuers evacuate victims from the collapsed footbridge over the Yarkon River last night.

Witnesses, team members, decry disorganization, praise rescuers

By JOEL GORDIN

The ill-fated bridge over the Yarkon River may have collapsed under the Australian Maccabiah contingent because of bad organization of the delegations' march-past and not just because of faulty construction, according to eyewitnesses.

The bridge had been built adjacent to an older, permanent bridge over the Yarkon, just outside the stadium. Contingents from the 53 countries were to assemble on the north Yarkon bank and walk across the bridge into the stadium for the march-past. Evelyn Cohen, a member of team members had been told to cross the bridge no more than six abreast. The contingents were to cross in alphabetical order. The small Austrian team crossed in orderly fashion, just

But the 373-member Australian contingent, according to Cohen, "bunched up and rushed over the bridge. There were no monitors in control and there were many more than six abreast in most parts of the bridge." Most eyewitnesses estimated there were about 100 people on the bridge when it collapsed. Joshua Freidenberg, a member of the Australian tennis team, said: "I had been waiting on the bank to step on the bridge. There was a crack and the bridge snapped in half and collapsed at the middle.

"The bunched-up athletes slithered down to the center into the the Australian team, said that filthy water, falling on top of each other. The lucky ones managed to keep their heads above

> Mike Suzman only remembers that he "heard a bang" and saw people sliding into the water on the ruins of the bridge.

> > By JAY BUSHINSKY

"It was horrific," he said, shud- are middle-aged, even elderly

The bridge was made of wood and the walk was covered with aluminium sheeting. After the bridge snapped at the center the aluminum sheets slithered down onto the athletes who were struggling in the water, further adding to their distress. Many received broken limbs either as a result of the aluminum, or from falling on top of each other or when they his the bottom of the shallow river."

"Luckily, most Australians learn how to swim well at an early age," said a member of the Most of the 100 or so athletes were evacuated from the water in less than 20 minutes.

Freidenberg said the uninjured athletes formed human chains to help the injured up the steep. slippery banks. A number of the team members, including the bridge, golf, and bowls players, people. Some were carrying video cameras and other heavy equipment and none were dressed for the task of scrambling up the banks. Without exception, eyewitnesses praised the swift action of the rescuers, including the Magen David Adom personnel, policemen, border policemen, and hystanders. Many jumped fully clothed into the filthy water to help the injured. Long afterwards, police divers scoured the murky river looking for people who may have been swept away and overlooked. All the divers found were dozens of Australian bush hats that the athletes had left behind.

Some of those looking for loved ones, however, had a more difficult time. "It was the scariest hour and a half of my life before I located my brother," said Stephen chairman of the Australian squad. "There was no help from the officials on the scene, and I had to leave and listen to my radio to find out information." Boris Sorenstein, the son of Yisrael Ba'aliya MK Michael Nudelman, was a member of the delegation, having traveled to Australia last year to train the team in football and light athletics. He could not contact it's father directly, but after a couple of hours managed to get him a message that he was all right. Nudelman reportedly was furious at the decision to carry on with the opening ceremony.

But team members were not prepared to comment.

"What can I say?" said one squad member. "No word is big enough to say how tragic it was. Daniel Chalfen and Liat Collins contributed to this

PM warns of 'strong action' on Hebron

By LIAT COLLINS

Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu yesterday accused the Palestinian Authority of being behind the violence in Hebron and warned Israel would take "strong action" if it continued. He did not elaborate, and ducked a question on whether such action would include reentering areas under Palestinian control.

"If the violence continues it will oblige us to take strong steps by a variety of means I don't want to elaborate on at the moment," he told reporters, after a meeting of the Knesset Foreign Affairs and Defense Committee. "We cannot accept a situation in which IDF soldiers are sitting ducks for all sorts of Palestinian rioters whose actions are not prevented by the Palestinian Authority. We have different focused - means of acting in Hebron using different measures, both security means and others."

"I think the Palestinians bave to understand that this so-called 'spontaneous violence' - which is violent enough but not at all spontaneous [and] is organized and abetted by the Palestinian Authority – is unacceptable to us," Netanyahu said.

"It is an unacceptable tactic that has to be done away with. And we've made in clear that just as we would not accept negotiations for peace under the threats and implementation of terror, we cannot view the continnation of peace talks with continued violence formented by the Palestinian Authority," Netznyahu szid.

See HEBRON, Page 2

PA police settlement attack foiled

Israeli security forces three arrested Palestinian policemen last night as they attempted to carry out a shooting attack on the Jewish settlement of Har Bracha on Mt. Grizim. overlooking Nablus, the IDF said.

One of the Palestinian policemen was wounded during the arrest when he tried to open fire at the security forces, the army said.

The Palestinians also were found to be carrying illegal weapons.
The IDF is investigating whether the three were linked to previous shootings in the area. Arieh O'Sullivan

UN Har Homa debate begins today

Foreign Minister David Levy marshalled his diplomatic forces yesterday to head off a General Assembly resolution, sponsored by the Arab states and initiated by the PLO, that would penalize Israel for proceeding with the Har Homa housing project and other construction in eastern Jerusalem and the West Bank.

The draft's most drastic proposals include suspension of Israel's UN membership and imposition of economic sanctions against Israeli products that originate in Jerusalem or Jewish settlements. ministry officials said.

They charged that the Arab states, including Egypt, "are cooperating in an effort to have Israel condemned by the international community" and to ostracize it from all of its institutions, including the World Court.

Because of this objective, these sources expect the US and Israeli al Gideon Rafael ridiculed the delegations to refuse to discuss the anti-Israel assault under way, say-proposed text, "because this ing "the General Assembly is the of which would be to impose its would turn it into a subject for negotiations."

Article 8 of the Arab-sponsored draft "stresses that normal participation of a UN member in the work of the General Assembly cannot occur when that member simultaneously and systematically violates international law as well as the precepts of the UN Charter and the relevant UN decisions."

Article 7 "asks UN members not to allow the import of goods made in settlements situated on conquered Palestinian land, including Jerusalem."

Israel's enlarged delegation, which was reinforced on the eve of the General Assembly debate with a large number of seasoned diplomats, bas been engaged in an intensive lobbying effort designed to present the Israeli position to all the member states willing to lis-

Former ministry director-gener-only battleground where the Arabs can win a skirmish, but not the

Rafael, who served as ambassador to the UN before, during, and after the Six Day War, contended that the Palestinians "cannot seek peace while trying to mobilize the wbole world against Israel. They are shooting themselves in the foot."

Levy spokesman Freddy Eytan said it was "impossible that the Egyptians could lend a hand in promoting an extreme resolution at a time when they wish to serve as mediators in the dispute with the Palestinians,"

He conceded that Israel is bandicapped by the fact that a UN emissary who was to have come to Israel to investigate the Har Homa project and other construction projects was unable to do so.

Article 10 recommends that the member states which subscribed to the Fourth Geneva Convention convene a conference, the purpose clauses on the "conquered Palestinian territory, including Jerusalem, and to assure its implementation."

Israeli policy since the Six Day War has been to exempt the areas that came under Israel's military control from this post-World War II humanitarian pact, on the grounds that the territory in question was not seized from states that had sovereign rights over it. Marilyn Henry adds from New

The Americans are expected to oppose the resolution in any form. sources said. Germany is expected to oppose it if it retains language about "participation." "It is not acceptable to Germany to have language that would limit Israeli participation" in the General Assembly, a ranking diplomat at the German Mission said yesterday. Bonn, he said, is prepared to break away from the European Union if the Europeans

H 177.022.118

alfa and Vorthern In The second of th The state of the s The second second second

in brief

Palestinian killed in Bethlehem explosion

A Palestinian man was killed in Bethlehem in a bomh explosion vesterday, in a house that he had rented only on Sunday.

The explosion occurred a few hundreds meters from the city center, in the A-Saf neighborhood, which is known to be a stronghold of Hamas and Islamic Jihad. Among the residents are a large group of the extremists expelled to Lebanon in 1992. Palestinian policemen had sealed off the area and were investigating.

Netanyahu, Sharon to meet

Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyabu and National Infrastructure Minister Ariel Sharon are scheduled to meet around noon today. This meeting comes six days after Sharon walked out of a meeting with Netanyahu, saying, "I don't want to listen to you." The prime minister is expected to ask Sharon to be a partner in all the senior decision making forums and the consultations on state and security affairs. Netanyabu's offer is intended to appease Sharon after, at the last minute, he was not given the finance portfolio. Netanyahu yesterday confirmed that e had scheduled a meeting with Sharon, and that the two will discuss state and security affairs.

Police to try for further remand of Ben-Ari

Police will ask for a further 10-day remand of alleged "Russian mafia" boss Zvi Ben-Ari (Gregory Lemer) at a hearing this morning in Petah Tikva Magistrate's Court.

Ben-Ari, suspected of organizing massive fraud scams, the murder of a banker in Russia, hribing bank managers, and trying to pay off politicians, has been in custody since May 12, following his arrest at Ben-Gurion Airport as he was about to leave the country. At the last remand hearing, Judge Yeshayahn Schneller warned that if police requested a further remand without producing enough evidence for an indictment, he would probably release Lerner from custody.

Suspected murderers' remands extended

The Tel Aviv Magistrate's Court vesterday extended the remands of the two sisters from Taiba suspected of murdering Berta Klein, a resident of the Ramat Efal nursing home where the sisters work.

Dalal Ghenam, 22, who is suspected of committing the murder, was remanded for 10 days. Sana Ghenam, 21, who is suspected of assisting and covering up for her sister, was remanded for four days. Judge Mordechai Peled said that the evidence submitted so far strongly suggests that the sisters are responsible

Army on alert after two Lebanese civilians killed in IDF shelling

By DAVID RUDGE

IDF troops were on full alert along the northern border and in the security zone last night following another day of heavy fighting, in which two Lebanese civilians were killed and two South Lebanese Army soldiers were wounded.

Hizhullah leaders had earlier warned of Katyusha rocket retaliation oo the Galilee if Israel persisted in what it described as consistent hreaches of the Operation Grapes of Wrath understandings.

OC Northern Command Maj.-Gen. Amiram Levine last night warned Hizbullah not to fire Katyusha rockets at the Galilee. He said that the IDF would respond severely.

The warnings by the organiza-tion's spiritual head Sheikh Mohammed Hussein Fadlallah and other leading officials were made before the latest incident, in which a woman and her son were reported to have been killed and a girl wounded as a result of IDF and SLA fire. Reports from Lehanon said the wounded girl and the bodies of those killed were brought to hospital in Sidon. They were apparently hit during heavy IDF and SLA shelling of Berti village, east of the Lebanese port city.

The shelling was in response to earlier Hizbullah attacks on the Jezzine region, in which the two SLA soldiers were wounded and

The unveiling of the tombstone of our beloved

SALLY KATZENGOLD

will take place on Thursday, July 17,1997 at 5 p.m. at the Kiryat Shaul Cemetery

We deeply appreciate all condolence visits and messages

Our beloved

MANZI

left us

We shall never forget her

Willi Aptowitzer

her sister Ruth

Families Aptowitzer, Wachtel, Kaiser

The funeral took place on July 13, 1997

Prof. RUTH SILBERBERG

mortars fell oo two villages in the Christian enclave.

The IDF spokesman said Hizbullah gunmen fired anti-tank missiles at SLA troops on operational duties in the Jezzine area; one soldier suffered moderate wounds and another was lightly wounded. Simultaneously, Hizhullah opened fire with mortars at the area and hit the villages of Zaidoun and Hidab. There were no reports of any casualties among the local residents. In response to the attack, IAF warplanes struck at Hizbullah firing positions in the Jezzine region and IDF and SLA gunners also returned fire Levine and the IDF's commander in Lebanon, Brig.-Gen. Ali Amitai, visited the Jezzine enclave last Thursday following earlier Hizbullah attack on the region in which a number of SLA soldiers and civilians were killed and wounded.

The visit was apparently prompted by concern that the support of local residents and SLA troops in the area for the IDF was heing undermined by the Hizbullah attacks and other measures heing taken against the Christian population.

It was not clear last night how Hizbullah would react to the latest civilian fatalities and casualties north of the zone as a result of the IDF and SLA shelling.

The Family

Controversy rages over decision to proceed with opening ceremony

By ARYEH DEAN COHEN and Itim

"I am shocked, outraged and for the first time in Israel embarrassed at the extraordinary lack of sensitivity hy those who decided to proceed with the artistic and dancing program [of the Maccabiah Games opening ceremony] at the same time they were looking for survivors, and a person had been killed," Isi Liehler, chairman of the governing board of the World. Jewish Congress and former president of the Australian Jewish community, said last night.

"I believe this is one of the most horrible examples of lack of sensitivity that I've ever experienced, and to hear the mayor of Ramat Gan describe this as Zionism suggests that the man is a primitive person, without any sensitivity," he said.

Liebler said he has three children living here and is very involved with Israel, "but I have never been so shocked, especially in a tragedy of this nature, at the lack of sensitivity in a country that understands sensitivity. I hope the people responsible will be brought to trial and appropriately dealt with.

The controversy over the decision raged on last night, with opinion divided over whether it was proper to have started the opening ceremony at all.

President Ezer Weizman, while visiting the injured at Ichilov Hospital, said when discussions were held to decide whether or not to proceed with the event, no one knew anyone had been killed, but only that there had been people injured.

"We knew there were people hurt, [and] there was a problem as to whether to go ahead and start or not. The committee met and decided to hegin, because 50,000 people had already taken their seats. I asked that they change the program, and this was done," Weizman said.

The president said he understood those who criticized the Weizman's wife, Reuma, said they had felt the program should not go on, but all the spectators were sitting in the stadium and some of them did not know what happened. "We decided to officially open the games, and then leave," she said. Minister Binyamin

Netanyahu said that when he heardof the tragedy before the ceremony, he told the organizing committee that if it turned out that even one person died, the ceremony should not go on.

The opening took place while it was still unclear what the status of the wounded was," he said. "After it was determined that someone had been killed, I left the ceremony and sent a request to the organizing committee to stop it, and this was done." He added that at this time, everyone should stand together in the hope that such a tragedy does not happen again.

Asked about the rest of the games, the prime minister said he was not completely familiar with the schedule, but that the immediate step of stopping the ceremony had been taken, which was the contect thing to do. Deputy Education Minister

Paramedics rush a victim from the collapsed Maccabiah footbridge to a waiting ambulance last night in Ramat Gan. (Israel Sun)

Moshe Peled said he was astonished that the opening ceremony continued, which contradicted what he had been told would happen.

A spokesman for Peled said he had been told that the artistic portion of the opening ceremony would not take place, and when to his surprise it did, he left the stadium.

Peled also called for the games

MK Emanuel Zissman (The Third Way), chairman of the Knesset Committee for Education, Culture, and Sport, denounced "the decision to go on with the ceremony despite the shocking tragedy which occurred." He called for those who took the decision to go ahead to apologize to the families of the victims. He said the committee would be convened shortly to demand full explanations from the organizers of the Maccabiah.

David Re'em (Likud) filed an urgeot motioo to the Knesset ageoda on the disaster and is demanding a commission of inquiry ioto the incident.

Micha Goldman (Labor), former deputy education minister in charge of sport, also demanded a state commission of inquiry. "It is impossible that the Maccahiah organizers were not aware of the fact that the hridge could not hold such a large number of people. Micha Goldman (Labor), former The matter must be thoroughly investigated and conclusions reached and lessons learned to be applied to other mass sport events in Israel," Goldman said.

Organizing committee chairman Yoram Eyal said that when the decision was made to go ahead with the ceremony, no one knew the full extent of the tragedy, but that even if it had been known, the decision would have been the same, because it was an important national event. He said it was a difficult decision, but that they had taken into consideration there were 50,000 people in the stadium, and they did not want to create panic. Eyal told Channel 1 that Maccabiah officials would meet to discuss how to proceed with the games.

Game organizers consulted with Weizman, Maccahi organization leaders and Ramat Gan Mayor Zvi Bar, and it was decided to go ahead with the artistic side of the program, marking 100 years of Zionism and 50 years since the establishment of the state. - ---The organizers said there were the people of Israel have suffered through many difficult and painful moments," and it was therefore decided to go ahead, hnt with changes in the program. Bar said last night he backed the decision by the organizing committee to proceed with the opening cer-emony. He told Channel 1 that the program was about 100 years of moments when they leaned toward cancelling the entire event, "but Zionism, to which people had come from around the world, and if the 50,000 spectators had been sent home, a riot would have hroken out. "We live between tears and that he took responsibility for it. Knesset Speaker Dan Tichon said considering the type of panic that would have been created had happy events," he said, arguing the decision had oot been wrong, and the tens of thousands of spectators been told to leave, "I believe the decision to continue the ceremony in a reduced fashion was correct.

Chairman Jewish Agency Avraham Burg left the stadium immediately after the ceremonies began and sent his condolences to the Maccabi family, a Jewish Agency spokesman said. Burg said he did not think the ceremony should have gone on after the tragedy, and explained that he felt he could not remain in the stadium "with the dead person and the injured still before us.

I can't say "whether the organizers' decision to continue with the opening ceremony, with changes, was justified or oot, but it's clear it. was jarring," Ashkenazi Chief Rabhi Yisrael Meir Law said. Batsheva Tsur and Liat Collins contributed to this report.

Cabinet confirms appointments

The cabinet confirmed the nomination of Dore Gold as ambassador to the United Nations yesterday. along with 13 other diplomatic nominees whose appointments had been held up for the past month due to ministerial infighting. Veteran diplomat Herzl Inbar, who the ministry had proposed as envoy to Moscow, withdrew his candidacy last night because of the controversy that surrounded it, Itim reported.

A telephone poll resulted in an overwhelming ministerial majoriin favor of the Foreign Ministry's choices for overseas postings. Inbar's candidacy was omitted from the list following Yisrael Ba'aliya's objections.

director-general for American affairs and one of its most experienced diplomats. But Industry and Trade Minister Natan Sharansky and Absorption Minister Yuli Edelstein objected to his assignment to Russia, saying they believe the incumbent envoy to the Ukraine, Zvi Magen, should be given the Moscow post.

The two ministers contend their party was supposed to he consulted on the nomination of an Israeli ambassador to Russia.

Although Gold could not be reached for immediate comment, sources said they doubted that he would leave immediately for New York to head the Israeli delegation at the UN General Assembly.

Car rental booking all over Europe and the U.S.A.

Attractive prices - Direct booking

MasterCard 😂 ישראכרט 🛂

Up to 12 equal interest free unlinked installments in NISI

79* Nis Germany from from 106* Nis France from 108* Nis England. from 115* Nis from 137* Nis

For reservations dial now: 03-565451

They have to choose: either violence or progress towards peace," Netanyahu said.

HEBRON Continued from Page 1

He said Israel is avoiding collective punishmeot and said this means the PA is finding it hard to mobilize protesters.

According to an official briefing, he told the committee that the youths rioting in Hebron had been brought in from outside the city.

He also apparently complained of the double violation of the Hebron Agreement on the part of the PA, which allowed people to gather in the huffer zone around the Jewish quarter and not preventing the violence there.

Netanyahu told the committee that Defense Minister Yitzhak Mordechai is in touch with the PA's Nabil Shaath and that contacts have not been completely cut off. He said Israel is trying to encourage those around PA Chairman Yasser Arafat who want to return to a dialogue and negotiations.

In other matters, Netanyahu linked several successful IDF actions in Lebanon with the fact that Hizhullah has reduced the oumber of amhushes, roadside bomhs, and infiltrations into the security zone and is shooting more from a distance.

Former Labor Party chairman Shimon Peres made a rare appearance at the committee session yesterday. As in the past, he and MK Ze'ev Begin (Likud), argued, this time over the question of whether or not the issue of Jerusalem's status was raised under the Camp David agreements.

This claim by Peres led Begin to accuse him of "imagining things." Peres reportedly claimed that it is not the government which has improved the security situation but the PA which has wiped out Hamas.

has passed away, deeply mourned by her family For details call Nurit Sherf, 09-744-4050.

debts fr nearly

MKs:

polic on He

The Bear and the feeding was the The second secon

without the Ramat Gan. 🗽

F .7_ . 22 750g 100 mg and contract

Palestinian Police keep lid on Hebron riots

By MARGOT DUDKEVITCH

A tense calm prevailed in Hebron yesterday as approximately 200 Palestinian policeman and other security officers fanned out along Shallalah Street - the site of fierce clashes with IDF troops in previous days
- and prevented Palestinians

from rioting.

It was the first time such a large contingent of Palestinian security forces was present in the area to prevent rioting.

Throughout the day Israeli and Palestinian DCO officers visited the casbah and Sballalah Street sites to assess the situation.

On Sunday night, at the Palestinians' request, IDF officers met with their Palestinian counterparts and promised to maintain calm in the H1 areas and prevent rioters from throwing stones and firebombs into the H2 area under Israeli con-

According to the IDF Spokesman, the IDF officers then agreed to allow stores in H2 to reopen, after they'd been shut for four days.

Gadi, the IDF commander in Hebron, said the army would consider lifting additional restrictions gradually.

"Despite the rioting, the daily life of the lewish community was not disrupted," he said, adding that what happened yesterday proved that the Palestinian Anthority ean control wbat bappens in H1.

Palestinian security forces in different colored uniforms formed a long chain on both sides of Sballalah Street and Palestinian policemen perched on surrounding rooftnps. Plainclothes security officers mingled in the crowd and Hebron Municipality inspectors, wearing orange armbands, moved Palestinian youth gathering io the streets. Palestinian policemen charged a small group of boys stoning IDF soldiers at the nearby Yaakubia School and moved them away from the area.

In another incident, an Israeli Arab taxi driver was arrested by Palestinian policemen, who forced him into a jeep and drove

The driver had accompanied a Israeli reporter to Hebron. Other reporters immediately notified IDF officers and half an bour later the taxi driver returned. Hebron Palestinian Police eommander Tarek Zaid said yes-terday that maintaining the current situation required the full ecoperation of both sides. The decision to prevent rinting, he implied, stemmed from concern that IDF troops would seize some of the Palestiniancontrolled areas from where stones and firebombs were being

We must not give the Israeli side any excuse to retake Sballalah Road or any other areas," said Zaid.

Commander of the Palestinian National Security Forces in Hebron, Akid Sbarif Abu Ma'ali said that the Palestinian Police had received direct orders to stop the riots in Shallalah Street and were therefore obeying

Olmert: Har Homa will go on

BY HERB KEINON

When the UN takes up the issue of Har Homa today, it will be dealing with a hill on Jerusalem's southern extremities that looks considerably different than it did when the Security Council first debated the issue in March,

In the intervening four months, the 1,850 dunam wooded hill has been cleared of about two-thirds of its pine trees, and a system of roads and retaining walls, built of Jerusalem stone, is beginning to

Tractors and buildozers continued to wind up the hill yesterday, as infrastructure work on the new neighborhood continues unabated. And unabated it will continue, promised Jerusalem Mayor Ehud Olmen, despite the UN, despite riots in Hebron, despite warnings that the West Bank is on the verge of an explosion. "I do not agree with estimations of the sources of tension," Olment told Israel Radio yesterday while on a tour of Haifa. "I think the tension is first and fnre-

mnst a means of pressuring

Israel into further concessions. "If we make these enncessions, this artificial tension will have achieved its aims, and I don't think this is what should be guiding Israel," he said. "It is inconceivable to me that Israel will make a concession in Jerusalem."

A bulldozer continues work on Har Homa yesterday.

IN CONTEXT / HERB KEINON

At the UN, Israel will hear a familiar refrain

The script is all too familiar. The UN, in an emergency special session of the General Assembly today, will likely censure Israel, in response to UN Secretary-General Kofi Annan's critical report on construction at Jerusalem's Har Homa and in the territories.

The Foreign Ministry will protest, saying the decision is one-sided and unfair, Many men and women in the street will respond by mumbling Ben-Gurion's famous words of disregard for the UN: "Oom [UN] shmoom." But much has changed in Israel's standing in the world since the days when the country reflexively disregarded anti-Israel resolutions at the UN as Israel-bashing by countries which didn't recognize it

For starters, we are no longer isolated. As opposed to the days when Ben-Gurion with China and so many other countries that uttered his remark, or when Abba Eban, Chaim Herzog, or Binyamin Netanyahu were fighting the country's rhetorical battles from the General Assembly's podium. today we bave relations with most of the world. In other words, we have bilateral ties with many of those nations whose representatives will be raising their hands to vote against us in the General Assembly today.

And there, exactly, is the rub. It was easier to disregard a censure from, say, China, when China would totally ignore us and there were no ties between the two states. Then, after China cast a negative vote in the UN, we could say, "Who cares what China thinks anyway?"

But today, when there are bilateral ties used to snub us, their negative vnte at the UN casts a certain shadow over bilateral

Yebuda Blum, Israel's ambassador to the UN from 1978 to 1984, said "yes and no" when asked if a vote against Israel has any real significance. "As far as imposing sanctions, the General Assembly has no binding authority," he said. "But, at the same time, it can be used as an excuse by certain countries to refrain from certain types of ties with us, such as commercial ties."

Blum said these types of resolutions may up the price of maintaining bilateral relaoons with certain countries, especially those in the Third World. In addition, he said, these types of resolutions also create an international climate of hostility to Israel, a climate that breeds other attempts at pressure, and which could have repercussions as far as investment or tourism are concerned.

Although the General Assembly has no power to enforce sancoons against Israel, it can recommend that other UN bodies have nothing to do with Israel, or that they kick Israel out of these organizations.

The meeting today is a continuation of an emergency special session on Har Homa in April. That session empowered the secretary-general to issue a report on building in Jerusalem and the settlements, a report the assembly will deal with today.

In that report Annan wrote that construction at Har Homa poses "a serious threat to the peace process.

MKs: Retrieving debts from PA areas nearly impossible

of Palestinian areas, which became extremely difficult after the start of the intifada, has become a near impossibility now under the Palestinian Authority.

This was the consensus which emerged from a meeting of the Knesset's Law Committee yesterday, called to look into legislation to deal with the matter.

The committee heard the views of Justice Minister Tzahi Hanegbi and Attorney-General Elyakim

"The Palestinians either don't appear in Israeli courts, if they are summoned over debts, or else don't pay when they are sen-tenced," committee chairman Shaul Yahalom (NRP) said in introducing the subject.

Rubinstein warned businessmen to think twice before making deals, since there could be no govemment guarantees. He also called for normal legal relations with the PA, saying this is the "ABC of coexistence." MK Moshe Shahal (Labor) said estimates put the total debts of Palestinians to Israelis at NIS 60 million.

uation as unbearable, said the government had decided last year not to allow such debtors to enter Israel.

However, the decision has not been implemented.

The ministry and the police had drawn up a list of offenders, be said, and he would ask the premier to reacovate a ministerial committee on the subject. Hanegbi said Rubinstein would also examine the possibility of returning the 17% VAT paid by traders who did not manage to collect their debts.

The possibility of subtracting debts from funds to the PA, if this were legal, would also be considered, he said.

An eastern Jerusalem lawyer attending the meeting dismissed the claims of those who say they cannot retrieve their debts from areas controlled by the PA, suggesting that Israelis would be better off retrieving debts with a Ramallah court order than they are when they try to do so from other Israelis.

TEMPLE SCHOOL OF LAW

TEL AUIU UNIVERSITY The Buchmann Faculty of Law

Symposium: Whither the Peace Process?

Wednesday, July 16, 1997, 9 a.m. to 12 noon Tel Aviv University Buchmann Faculty of Law (entrance through Ramniceanu Gate 4)

Participants include:

Ambassador Mohamed Bassiony, for the Arab Republic of Egypt Uzi Arad, Advisor to the Prime Minister, for the State of Israel Ambassador Omar Rifai, for the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan Minister of Higher Education, Hanan Ashrawi, for the Palestinian Authority Richard Roth, Deputy Chief of Mission, for the United States Professor Shimon Shamir, Moderator

The Public is invited

To confirm your attendance, call Tel. 03-6407257, or Fax 03-6407259

Professor Burton Caine, Director.

What will we do to make some kids happy??? The sky is the limit.

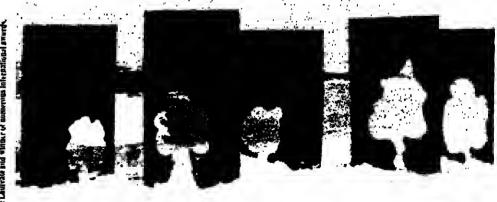

To celebrate fifty years of operation in Israel, Swissair will fly 180 children-new immigrants and children treated unkindly by fate - over Israel. The flight will take off from Ben Gurion Airport on Tuesday, July 15, 1997. So if you see Swissair flying above, wave and make the children happy.

swissair world's most refreshing airline.

"Swissair thanks the Israel Civil Aviation Administration, the Israel Airport Authorities, Q.A.S Israel Ltd., Catering Ltd. & Israel Edible Products Ltd. for their assistance.

CREATIVE BANKING

Because Standard Solutions Are Simply Not Enough

In today's rapidly evolving economy, standard financial solutions are simply not enough. To take full advantage of expanding opportunities, you need a dynamic and inventive banker who is one step ahead First International Bank of Israel offers you a comprehensive range of innovative products and services, coupled with a long tradition of financial solidity. As a member of the prestigious international

Safra banking group, we merge an emphasis on safety with professional creativity - in tailor optimal solutions to your every need. First International Bank's business philosophy and performance has been widely applauded both at home

The First international Bank of Israel is the country's quality bank attracting a sophisticated customer

Face. Quality hard with international reputation. Societe Generale Equities, October 1996 Strong 1-86 to allow revealing positive growth, the valuation of Ernel's highest-quality bank remainattractive. Union Bank of Switzerland Global Research, 21 March 1997

TEL-AVIV - Head office, Shalom Tower Tel. (972)-3-5196111 Fax: (972)-3-5100316 International Private Banking & Foreign Relations Dep. Tel.19721-3-5603606 Fax: (9721-3-5603797

*

ITHE FIRST INTERNATIONAL BANK

in brief

Big city mayors: discrimination in funding

Mayors Ehud Olmert of Jerusalem, Ronni Milo of Tel Aviv. and Amram Mitzna of Haifa said in Haifa yesterday that they are planning to pull their cities out of the Union of Local Authorities, claiming that the Interior Ministry is discriminating against them in the dispersement of funds. The three promised, however, to meet with ULA chairman Adi Eldar before implementing the secession. Mitzna said the three also are to meet with Transport Minister Yitzhak Levy to demand that the Licensing Bureau not renew the licenses of people who don't pay parking tickets. Itim

MDA begins emergency drive for type-O blood

A severe shortage of type-O (universal donor) blood was reported yesterday by Magen David Adom. The seasonal shortage, due to people going on vacation, is causing difficulties in the supply of blood to hospitals and may cause some non-emergency operations to be cancelled. A special campaign to collect type-O blood will be held from today through Friday at MDA stations in Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, Haifa, Beersheba, and the Central Blood Bank at Tel Hashomer. They will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. during the week and from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Friday. Information about donation hours at other stations can be obtained by calling 177-022-5911. Donors receive a year's blood insurance for themselves and their immediate family. Judy Siegel

Project 700 reducing deaths, accidents

The number of people killed in traffic accidents has decreased by 28 percent, on roads involved in the Transport and Internal Security ministries' Project 700, the Transport Ministry said yesterday.

The figures refer to the first three months of the project, April through June, in which the police increased its presence and the enforcement of traffic regulations on 700 kilometers of roads deemed among the most dangerous in the country. The number of serious accidents went down by 20% on these roads during the same period, the ministry said.

Parents to have say in where school trips go

"Parents will also have a part in determining the sites their children visit and trip routes they take," Deputy Education Minister Moshe Peled said yesterday. Peled, speaking on a trip he took yesterday with the National Parents Association's trip committee and the Council for the Preservation of Settlement Sites and Buildings, said parents' groups will be consulted regarding planned school trips. Following the killing of seven Beit Shemesh schoolgirls in March by a Jordanian soldier at Naharayim during a school trip, parents said they never knew their children were going to visit Naharayim and, had they known, they would not have allowed them to go there.

Beersheba student wins-physics contest

Dimi Boyarsky, a 12th-grade student at the Amit Comprehensive High School in Beersheba, won first prize in the Polish Academy of Sciences' International Physics competition, entitled First Step to the Nobel Prize. Boyarsky was awarded a scholarship to study at Warsaw University in November for his research paper, "Chalcogenide Glassy Semiconductors." He competed against 12th-grade students from 57 countries, including the US, Japan, Russia, and Germany.

TA flautist wins award for second time

The Israel

Philharmionic Orchestra

Zubin Mehta, conductor

TURANDO'

Tel Aviv musician Amos Meller learned this week he had won first prize in a contest sponsored by the Utah-based International Volunteers' Association. Meller won first prize last year, too, for his voluntary activity as a flautist and conductor with organizations here and abroad, performing in schools and before children and adults suffering from a wide variety of illnesses and handicaps.

Finance Minister Ya'acov Ne'eman and Education Ministry officials yesterday worked ont additional details regarding plans for the long school day to be implemented this coming fall. Fifteen percent of the nation's

Principal:

'Khomeinist'

remarks not properly

understood

By ARYEH DEAN COHEN

A high school principal who warned his pupils against the "dark forces"

who want to instill a "theocratic, Khomeinist" regime in Israel will remain in his post after reaching an agreement with the Education Ministry whereby he clarified that his remarks

Yekutiel Dagon, the principal of the

Herzog Regional High School run by the Gezer local council, had a hearing with Education Ministry officials oo Sunday. They said that Dagon understood that "he could have been more

He also reportedly accepted a sentence in the declaration issued by the ministry that he "sees nothing wrong with individuals becoming newly penitent Jews in and of itself, if it is by free choice, including with parental approval."

day on Israel Radio, Dagon said

"the whole storm [surrounding my remarks] focused on one sentence,

The main thrust of his remarks had been aimed at convincing his pupils of the importance of serving in the IDF, he said, adding:

"My pupils' blood is not any less dear, red, or pure than others."

While refusing to say just which political parties were involved in trying to establish a "Khomeinistic regime," Dagon said: "If I know as an Israeli citizen that judges in the State of Israel need to be guarded, and ... if a prime minister is murdered in the State of Israel, and there are those who praise this, and this is just allowed to pass - I don't want to talk about politics, it's not my job. But I had to warn against these trends, and people can:

believe what they want. We all hear the voices and see what is happening.

"In any case, it was important for me to make clear—and there are observant teachers who work for me - that I have no problem with any person regarding their beliefs. Let them believe in what they want, but I want them to also respect my beliefs," he said.

which admittedly was strong."

Asked about the incident yesterwere "not properly understood."

careful in his remarks."

pupils will benefit from the plan, which is to provide them with an additional two hours of instruction a day, four days a week.

According to the Finance Ministry, Ne'eman and Education Ministry Director-General Benzion Dell agreed on a budget of NIS 400 million, including NIS 70m from

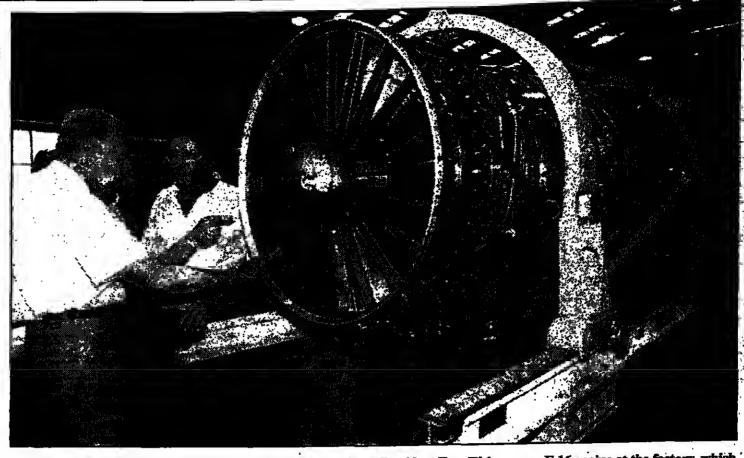

The latest plans for the long school day program call for it to be coordinated by the Education Ministry, but staffers, who will include teachers and students, will be employed by an external body. School principals will determine

Education Ministry funds, for the how many students and how many teachers will be used in each school. According to information presented at the meeting, the instruction will either be one-on-one or in small groups, with a maximum of five pupils participating in each group. Emphasis will be placed on help with homework assignments and basic understanding of material. There will be direct contact between those giving the afterschool help and the pupils' teachers, who generally will recommend those pupils they believe need such assistance. However, the pupils themselves also will be able to request such help.

Beit Shemesh Engines' president and CEO Avner Shaham shows President Ezer Weizman an F-16 engine at the factory, which Weizman toured vesterday.

Weizman: Why have foreign workers when there is unemployment?

By STEVE RODAN

President Ezer Weizman yesterday questioned the wisdom of maintaining foreign laborers in Israel at a time of growing unemployment,

There are 100,000 unemployed," Weizman said, "We have to ask why are there 200,000 foreign workers?"

Weizman was speaking during a tour of Bet Shemesh Engines Ltd., until 1994 an ailing government defense company and today operating at a profit. The president spent more than three hours at the company, speaking to managers and employees.

This is an example of how to take a factory that failed and bow with good management and lots of motivation, you can turn it around," Weizman said.

He suggested that Bet Shemesh Engines represents the future of the government-owned defense industries, which today are struggling to gain profitability.

Avner Shacham, Bet Shemesh Engines' president and chief executive officer, told Weizman that the company doesn't hire foreign workers. However, the town of Bet Shemesh itself has 600 foreign laborers, with about 400 on the unemployment roll.

The president said he could not understand the need for foreign laborers when the unemployed can easily move into available jobs. "Something doesn't seem to be ight here," he said. During Weizman's visit, Bet Shemesh Engines announced a $12m. expansion program with investment to buy new manufacturing equipment. Bet Shemesh Engines, founded hy the government to. Ormat Industries Group in: 1992. At the time, the company was overstaffed, inefficient, and could not pay its 420 employees. Its production lines were often idle for lack of funding. Salaries were so low that some employees were eligible for state welfare.

The company has been prof-itable since the end of 1995 and executives said they expect to. make a net profit of $1.6 million this year. They said sales for 1997 will be at about $30m.

The company overhanis, main-tains, and manufactures parts for engines designed by Pratt and Whitney and General Electric in 1969, was literally given away . Aircraft Engines. These include engines for the F-15L F-16, F-4 and Kfir. Bet Shemesh also repairs and overhauls helicopter engines for the Apache AH-64 and Biackhawk UH-60 engines, as well as the Allison 250 engine for the Bell 206 helicopter.

In addition, the company has launched several projects in the field of jet engine development.

Pupils to study improved ways of spending their free time

By ARYEH DEAN COHEN

Add another R to the traditional "Three R's" taught in Israeli schools: Recreation.

Under a new addition to the Education Ministry curriculum, reading, writing, and arithmetic are to be joined by recreation, as the ministry makes what pupils do in their free time part of what they

Yesterday the ministry announced plans to integrate into the curriculum a program, pre-pared by a panel of experts, intended to get youngsters to make better use of their free time.

According to the ministry, the experts wrote that "education regarding use of free time will help the individual improve his ability to develop desirable patterns of bebavior, which will improve his quality of life."

The panel of experts, headed by Prof. Hillel Ruskin of Hebrew University, included principals, and recreation, sports, and health pupils. Education Ministry Director-General Benzion Dell said recently the increase in the amount of free time that youngsters have, and the stimuli provided by advanced technology, especially in communications, has made it necessary for the educational system to try to pass on desired modes of behavior.

The decision is regarded as an outgrowth of a Central Bureau of Statistics poll oo what Israelis prefer to do at home with their free time. That poll indicated that 94.9 percent The new program is to include said they watched television, while kindergarten through 12-grade 92.6% said they listened to the radio.

Caspi, Artzi, Geffen, and Orlev to appear at Arad Festival

By AMY KLEIN

Under extremely tight security, the Arad Festival opens tonight with, among other events, Matti Caspi's first concert here since he left the country more than four years ago. There will be 750 policemen and border policemen, 1,200 hired security personnel, and 450 ushers. The police held security drills at the beginning of the week, stressing elements of crowd control. Two years ago, three teenagers were trampled to death when a crowd got out of control at a festival concert, a disaster that a govemment committee attributed to negligent management, overcrowding, and inadequate security.

The festival will run for three days and nights with some 60 different performers, including Rita, Riki Gal, Shlomo Artzi, and Aviv Geffen. Each night will be capped by a moonlight performance at Massada at 3 a.m.: tonight with David Broza, Wednesday night with Rami Kleinstein, and Thursday with Ehud Banai. The festival administration anticipates 30,000-40,000 participants. Hotels in Arad are said to be nearly filled. Bezeq will be bringing cellular phones to Arad to. facilitate communication between parents and children. In a new twist, National

Zevulun Orlev will be featured tomorrow night, singing the "Adon Olam" prayer to the popular tune by Uzi Hitman. ALC: OF THE EL

Smally of the men

The second second

12 m. e. . and (

Partie Commen

The second second

经过一个工作

The state of the s

Part of the Control of the second

The Party were being the state of the state of Service of a few services for

Section 1

Company of the S

de la companya del companya de la companya del companya de la comp

Michael Col Made I

All pe later and the Or

The section of the information

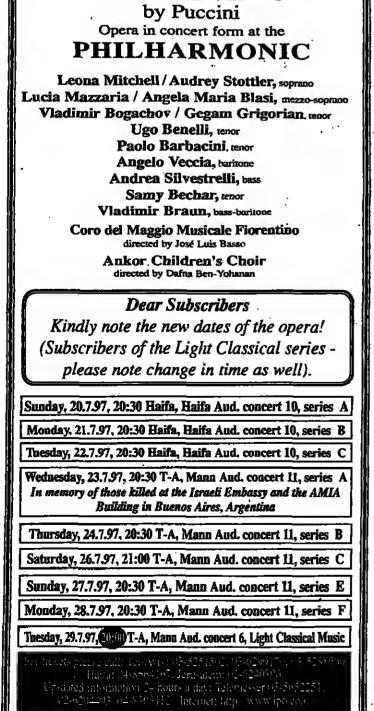

1

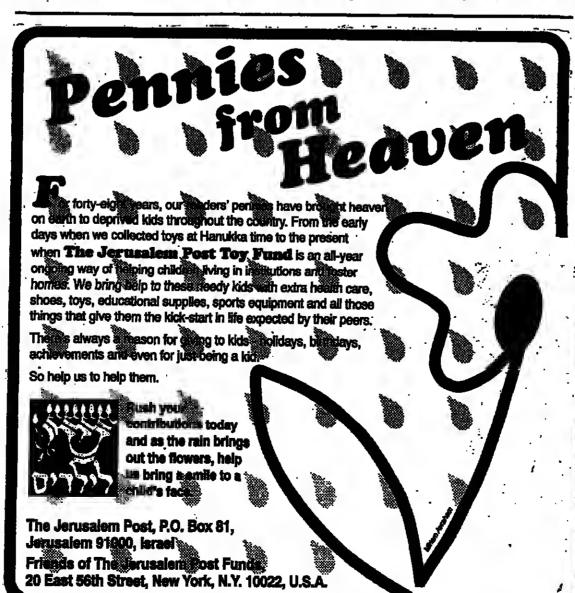

Orley, who leads the High Holiday prayers in his Jerusalem synagogue, will be the only religious politician appearing in an event billed as "MKs and Politicians" Sing With Saraleh Sharon." Others expected to participate include MKs Shimon Peres, Ophir Pines, Rafi Elul, Benny Temkin, Naomi Blumenthal, Meir Sheeirit, and Eliezer Zandberg. All the politicians are to join in singing the song "Thank You," also by Hinman.

Orlev said he is participating, because "religious Zionism should he found everywhere that the Jewish people is found."

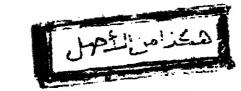

He had originally wanted to sing the prayer "Unetaneh Tokef" from the High Holiday liturgy, but Sharon convinced him that it would not be appropriate for the occasion. Meanwhile, Deputy Education Minister Moshe Peled, in a letter to Defense Minister Yitzhak Mordechai, protested Army Radio's decision to broadcast Aviv Geffen's performance.
"The esteemed Geffen did not don an army uniform and he has come out against military service," Peled wrote. Itim contributed to this report.

Serbs rage against NATO as war criminal gets 20 years

By JOYANA GEC

1997 The Jerusalem Pour

servations of the p

Serenally

assistance

n F. le origine at the factor, and n workers

The conjunction has been

and the state of

200 E

2.25

5 2 N 158m

day straining paid

្រ ក សុះ⊐ស្រីឡុខ

The state

The second secon

The second of the second ment?

PALE, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) Serb outrage over NATO's moves against war crime suspects prompted international officials to increase security yesterday after a bomb targeted a housing compound, Serb leaflets threatened murder, and UN police were harassed.

The Serb rage increased after the UN war crimes tribunal in the Hague, Netherlands, sentenced Bosnian Serb Dusan Tadic to 20 years in prison yesterday for crimes

That man is not guilty, and not a single witness could confirm that he was responsible," said Goran Neskovic, deputy Bosnian Serb justice minister. "All this is one propaganda war against us."
"It's more a political than a legal judgment, said monitorio Krajisnik, Serb representative on the three-man collective Bosnian Tadic came from Prijedor, the northwestern Busnia town that in 1992 was site of some of the worst detention camps for Muslims and Croats during the 1992-95 Bosnian war.

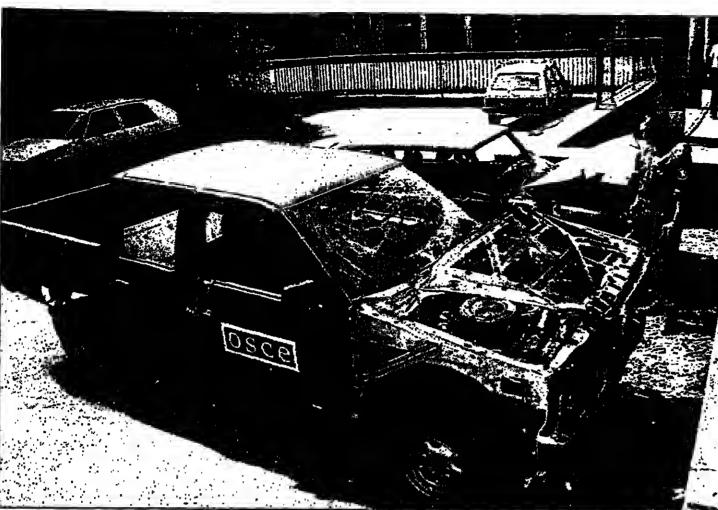

Priedor's former police chief, Simo Drljaca, also was indicted by the Hague tribunal for helping run the camps. He was shot and killed while resisting arrest by NATO forces last Thursday, and was given a hero's funeral Sunday in the northern town of Banja Luka.

Hours after the funeral, an explosion blew out windows of a hotel housing three international organizations and a nearby school in Zvornik, a Serb-controlled town on the other side of Bosnia bordering Yugoslavia.

A jeep belonging to the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe was destroyed and at least one civilian vehicle was damaged, said Liam McDowall, a spokesman for the UN police force.

"We have to consider the reasonable possibility that this is in some way linked to the events in Prijedor," he said.

The Hotel Drina houses local offices of the OSCE, which is orgamizing Bosnia's local elections in September, as well as the UN police and UN refugee agency. An OSCE spokesman, Johan

A Bulgarian policeman with the international police in Bosnia examines a damaged jeep from the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe in the town of Zvornik yesterday. The jeep was damaged in an explosion after the funeral of war criminal Simo Drijaca, who was killed by NATO forces last week.

Verheyden, said at least two kilograms of explosives were planted under the engine of a jeep.

OSCE ordered personnel not to move around Serb territory without escort from the NATO-led peace force, Verheyden said.

On Sunday, pamphlets typed in broken English appeared in Serbheld Doboj in north-central Bosnia. promising "a head for a head" and warning that "Somalia was too gentle" for US troops:

Eighteen American soldiers were killed in Somalia in 1993 during an unsuccessful attempt to capture a faction leader, a debacle the US. military is determined not to repeat. The pamphlets were signed by a provide information on policies issued by Generali Branches in Central and East European countries to, or in favor of persons who perished in the Holocaust, to the extent that such information is available to

It should be noted that the information available to Generali relates to policies issued by Generali branches in the respective countries sixty, seventy years ago and more. Generali holds, in its Head Office in Trieste, the first pages only of those policies, which were sent to it by the branches upon the issue of the policies.

Generali does not have any information as to the status of the insurance coverages under those policies

during the period following the issue thereof since all policies and all records relating thereto were kept

The information in Generali's archive is unindexed and Generali is not in a position to determine that the first pages which it does have in Trieste exhaustively reflect all policies issued by its branches in Central

To facilitate a search for names and information available in Trieste, Generali is in the process of : Information request forms will be ready for distribution as of July 15, 1997. Requests for such forms should be addressed to the Generali Policy Information Center, at one of the following addresses:

in the branches, of which Generali was ousted immediately after World War II.

previously unknown Serb group, McDowall said.

Since Thursday, UN police also have had their windshields smashed, bottles hurled at them, and threats of eviction from rental housing, he said.

The rhetoric at Sunday's funeral was sharply anti-NATO.

Milenko Karisik, the deputy Bosnian Serb interior minister, said the effort to apprehend war crimes suspects was a move to crush the Serb republic, which shares Bosnia with a Muslim-Croat federation.

"They killed a patriot, without an investigation and without a trial," Karisik said. "They killed him perfidiously, from the back, because they didn't dare to look him in the

Maj. Chris Riley, a spokesman for the NATO-led peace force in Bosnia, said autopsy reports showed Drijaca was shot "from a distance" four times, three times in the side and once in the chest.

Serb rage over international moves against war crimes suspects prompted Radovan Karadzic, the wartime Bosnian Serb leader twice indicted for genocide, to try and end a power struggle with Bosnian Serb President Biljana Playsic.

Two weeks agn, Playsic accused Karadzic and his allies of amassing wealth by smuggling. Karadzic was ousted last summer under international pressure but maintains much power. He has rallied army and police behind him, His media have accused Playsic of betraying the Serb cause.

Karadzic's chief ally Krajisnik met Playsic in her northwest base Banja Luka yesterday, but they failed to settle their differences. Krajisnik offered a compromise under which Playsic would withdraw her decree dissolving parliament, while parliameot would stop trying to replace her.

Playsic rejected that. "If we don't make a radical cut, everything will turn to rot because of the crime, and everything we strived for will be destroyed," she said.

Venice mayor fears secessionists

By CELESTINE BOHLEN

VENICE, Italy - Last September. Venice was made to play the unwilling host at the theatrical birth of Padania, the name of northern Italy's threatened breakaway state.

Then, in May, in a dramatic latenight stunt, a group of radical seces-sionists scaled the bell tower in St. Mark's Square and unfuried the banner of La Screnissima Repubblica the Most Screne Republic - as this watery city and its far-flung empire were known until two centuries ago.

Venice is not a city that needs to attract attention, but flamboyant publicity like this would be a nightmare for any mayor, which is why it is probably a good thing that Venice's mayor, Massimo Cacciari, is, by profession, a philosopher.

Now 53, he will return to the study of theological philosophy when he steps down after the November mayoral elections. But as be gets ready to leave, Cacciari, who came to city hall three years ago advocating greater local powers for Italy's cities and regions, is increasingly worried that Rome is taking too long to face up to the secessionist fevers that are running high through the Veneto region around Venice. We need some real tangible pro-posals, otherwise the delirium of secession will only grow," said Cacciari, sitting in an office with high windows on the Grand Canal. "A process has been set off in the northeast and especially in the Veneto with the set of social dynamics which, if not met by a strong political response, will only continue to grow. If a snowball doesn't stop, it will become an avalanche."

Italian parliamentary commission charged with producing a package of sweeping constitutional reforms this summer. But Cacciari and others feel that the commission has so far dealt with the issue of decentralization in a superficial manner, oblivious of the urgency that the Northern League the major secessionist party - and various splinter groups, like the one that briefly seized the St. Mark's bell tower, have injected into the debate. The league, headed by Umberto Bossi, perhaps Italy's most volatile political figure, has shown no signs of gaining strength since 1996, when it won 10 percent of the national vote - and as much as 40% in some regions of the Veneto.

But Cacciari says that the league, fed by frustration with the government in Rome, is now after more

"The electoral question is not the one that is troubling but rather the fact that the league has taken on an increasingly hostile and overbearing anitude," Cacciari said. "They are becoming more intolerant, more bel-

Even if the constitutional commission comes up with a federalist solntion, the proposals must be approved by parliament and a national referendum. In the meantime, Italy is heading for another key test, as it struggles to meet the criteria for the European monetary union.

If Italy is left out of the first launch of the common European currency in 1999, the exclusion will give the Northern League more ammunition to argue that Italy's fortunes are being dragged down by an economically backward south, and a politi-

Column One Candle in the sea By Thomas O'Dwyer

They want to make Cyprus a Greek island," Turkish Cypriot leader Rauf Denktash loves to tell journalists who visit his handsome imperial-era sandstone palace in the northern sector of Nicosia, the last completely divided capital on

The very first line of Denktash's highly articulate (and bighly spuo) history of Cyprus begins: There is not, and there has never been, a Cypriot nation."

These opinions are a weather-battered old stumbling block that Denktash once again carried all the way to last week's latest abortive talks on solving that wilting international affairs perennial "the Cyprus problem." It's very hard to explain to Denktash that Cyprus was a Greek island for eons. Its proximity to south Turkey has been no excuse for the labeled a puppet. Denktash is a creeping Turkification "We are like litbegan Ottoman tle candles in a emperor . the sea of Greeks. Greeks call Suleyman the One storm and Sot (who loved syrupy we are snuffed Greek wine) destroyed the medieval Latin-Venetian outpost in Nicosia bulging tax-collecting files of the Grand Pone. It reached its nadir in 1974 when Turkey invaded independent his

-Turkish Cypriot leader Rauf Denktash

and added yet another coo-

quest to the

Cyprus, conquered the northern third of the island - which contained 70 percent of its productive capacity - and proceeded to drive out 200,000 Greek Cypriot owners of the land and import tens of thousands of mainland settlers from Anatolia. It was a far more "successful" ethnic cleansing than Bosnia ever saw.

But in Rauf Denktash's book, The Cyprus Triangle, the second chapter, "Early History," are three paragraphs, half a page long. The first paragraph begins "The Turks conquered Cyprus from the Venetians in 1571 in order to end Mediterranean trade routes ..." The second begins "The Turks terminated the Latin persecution of the Greek-speaking Christians on the island ..." It's an odd revisionist spin on Ottoman conquerors as altruistic anti-pirates and benevolent saviors of infidel Christians persecuted by other infidel Christians.

Today the Turks have expunged almost every iota of the extensive Greek culture in the oorth, and whatever their self-serving excuses for invading the island, this is one of the most disgraceful and revealing aspects of their ethnic "purification" of the north.

Masses of antiquities, including priceless whole collections, have been looted, broken up and sold from the north, church icons included. Irreplaceable painted churches from early Christianity have been hacked to rubble or rain. The Cypriot government has raced around the world trying to intercept and buy back the most precious items and halt sales of stolen collections.

Even in the wonderful old museum in Kyrenia Castle, Turkish custodians have removed references to Greek culture in what is still overwhelmingly a Greek dis-

Yet, argues Denktash - "they" want to make it a Greek island.

Denktash has difficulty recognizing other ethnicities - politically at least. After once questioning him heavily on the Kurdish problem, I was pursued out of the presidential palace by a scurrying "aide" - a mainland Turkish official - who informed me breathlessly that everywhere the president had "inadvertently" used the word "Kurd" I must change it to "mountaio Turk" which is what he meant to say. There were, of course, no such things as Kurds.

That has since changed in Ankara's lexicon - and therefore in Denktash's. What probably has not changed is the fact, known to all old Cyprus hands, that for all his fine democratic system in the breakaway Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus, it was the Turkish Embassy in Nicosia, not the presidential palace, that ran the statelet.

But this must be made clear -Rauf Denktash may be a man in a vise between Athens and Ankara but his ethnic blindness is political, not personal. He is hy no means a Radovan Karadic; he is too powerful a character to be civilized and cultured man. but a genuine Turkish Cypriot patriot believes in the separation - for their security of his people. We are like little candles in a sea of Greeks," he once told me

Oddly, there was not even a hint of racism in that passion - nor did we detect here a man who hates Greeks. Indeed he counts Greek Cypriot leader and Cyprus President Glascos Clerides as a personal friend who happens to be a political adversary. The two studied law together as students at the Inns of Court, London.

with the passion

of a poet. "One storm and we spuffed

are

OUL.

That is genuine - oot posturing. Once when Clerides was leader of the opposition, he asked me to bring "Rauf" a message on one of my cross-border forays. "Tell him," boomed Clerides, "I saw him on television. He's gaining weight physically, but not to worry - he's losing it politically." Denktash grinned across his desk and never even paused for

"Tell Mr. Clerides I saw him also. He too is putting on weight physically but that's OK, because he never had any politically." No matter what we foreign correspondents ever wrote about the internationally uorecognized Northern Cyprus and the Turkish invasion, - Denktash probably would get our massive vote as the most charming, hospitable, and kindly world leader we have ever

He epitomized an opinion we often got in trouble for expressing in Cyprus - that Greek and Turkish Cypriots are more like one another than either of them are like the natives of their motherlands. That is the tragedy of Cyprus.

There is a softness and a love of life - wine, women, and song - in the Cypriot that is hard to find in Turkey and even harder to find in Athens. Correspondents liked Denktash. but wrote his stand will not outlast him. We disliked the dour and humorless little President Spyros Kyprianou, but his Greek Cypriots were the traumatized victims, first of a coup by Athens generals, then of a brutal invasion the Turks proudly called "Operation Attila." The Turks are still wrong. They have invaded, plundered and stolen a third of a country. If the Greeks will now accept a federal solotion - it's a good deal. No one will ever recognize North Cyprus. Its time for Ankara to shut up, pay up and sign up. The Greek Cypriots will forgive Rauf Denktash, if oot Turkey. He's a Cypriot - even if he doesn't believe it.

Defense lawyers urge clemency for ex-Nazis

ROME (Reuters) - A lawyer for winners," Naso said. ex-Nazi Erich Prichke yesterday A lawyer for Priebb told a court trying him for his role that he was obeying orders, like bombs on Hiroshima, and should be freed.

"Priebke obeyed an executive order," defense lawyer Giosue Naso said, referring to the 1944 massacre in which the 83-year-old former SS captain is charged with complicity.

"What could the American officer who was ordered to drop the Atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki have done? Has he been tried for what he did? Obviously, history is always written by the sentences each.

A lawyer for Priebke's co-defendant, former SS major Karl Hass, in Italy's worst wartime massacre 84, told the court he should be set free because he had not participatthe American who dropped atomic ed in the planning of the massacre. Priebke and Hass have each admitted shooting two victims of the 335 men and boys rounded up by the Germans and shot at the Ardeatine Caves south of Rome as a reprisal for a bomb attack on Nazi troops. Seventy-five of the victims were lews. Priebke also admitted ticking the names of victims off a list at the caves.

A lawyer for the city of Rome told the court earlier this month the Germans deserved five life and East European countries before World War II.

computerizing the data available to it in Trieste.

Generali in its archive in Trieste.

NOTICE OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A POLICY INFORMATION CENTER Notice is hereby given that Assicurazioni Geoerali S.p.A. has established an Information Center to # rtzi, Geffen ev to appear

d Festival

_ -::23

The second secon

and the

Generali Policy Information Center Segreteria Centrale Piazza Duca degli Abruzzi 2 Trieste 34132, Italy Fax No. 0039-40-671006

Generali Policy Information Center P.O. Box 20310 Tel-Aviv 61202, Israel

Additional addresses for the United States and Europe will be published in a few days.

The computerization of data in Generali's archive in Trieste may take several months, and Generali will respond to inquiries as soon as possible.

Please note that since the expropriation of its properties and branches in East and Central Europe after World War II, Generali is not obligated under the policies issued in those countries. The policies and the assets related to them were all subject to the local laws. The policies and the reserves underlying them became the responsibility of the states or state-owned entities that took them over.

Generali is setting up a fund in the amount of US$ 12,000,000, to be applied over a period of twelve years, inter alia, for ex gratia payments to beneficiariea under such policies, and their legal successors, in accordance with priorities and criteria to be determined by a Committee - headed by a retired Justice of the Supreme Court of Israel-to be appointed by the Chairmen of the Finance -Committee, the Insurance sub-Committee, the Committee for the Restitution of Jewish Property, of the Knesset and Migdal Insurance Company Ltd. The procedures for applications to the Committee will be published by the Committee, once it begins functioning.

The setting up of the information Center and the establishment of the Fund should not be taken as a recognition by Generali of an obligation to pay any amounts under policies issued by its Branches in Central and Eastern Europe before World War II.

cally irresponsible Rome. Federalism is on the agenda of an Jewish book center

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) - An unidentified male caller claimed responsibility for yesterday's firebombing of a Jewish book center and warned of further attacks on Jewish targets.

firebombed in Cape Town

Police said they had oo further information on the pre-dawn attack on the home of Jewish businessman Brian Marron. His home includes the Jewish Book Center, a meeting place for people seeking to read about and discuss Judaism and related issues.

The attack followed an anti-Israel march Saturday in Cape Town by Moslem groups angry over the anti-Moslem leaflet in Hebron. Police Superintendent Shorty Pistorius said investigators were studying the possibility the attack was politically or religiously motivated.

Later the same morning, a phone call was received from someone claiming responsibility for the attack and saying that they are going to attack other Jewish institutions," Pistorius said.

JEFF BARAK. Editor

CARL SCHRAG, Managing Editor AMOTZ ASA-EL, Associate Editor, Business

DAVID BRINN, News Editor

F. DAVID RADLER Chairman. Board of Directors NORMAN SPECTOR, President & Publisher

ELIOT ZIMELMAN. Night Editor LEORA EREN FRUCHT, Features Editor JUDY MONTAGU. Op-Ed Editor

AVI GOLAN, Executive Vice President, Marketing & Advertising PAUL STASZEWSKI, CPA. Vice President, Finance YOSSI HORN, Vice President, Production MARRA MESSINGER, Circulation Manager BENZION MILLER, Tel Aviv Office Manager

Founded in 1932 by GERSHON AGRON

EDITORIAL OFFICES AND ADMINISTRATION The Jerusalem Post Building, P.O. Box 81, Romema, Jerusalem 91000 Telephone 02-531-5666, Fax 02-538-9527, CIRCULATION — 02-531-5610, Fax 02-538-9017, ADVERTISING - 02-531-5608, 02-531-5637-40 Fax 02-538-8408. TEL AVIV: 5 Rehov Hamasger, POB 28398 (61283) Telephone 03-6390333, Fax 6390277. HAIFA 20 Nordau, Hadar Hacarmel, Telephone 04-8623166, Published daily except Saturday, in Jerusalem, Israel by The Palestine Post Ltd. Printed by The Jerusalem Post Press in Jerusalem. Registered at the G.P.O. © The Jerusalem Post 1997, Reproduction, or storage in a retrieval system, or in any other form, is prohibited without permission. Editors: 1932-1955 GERSHON AGRON, 1955-1974 TED LURIE, 1975 LEA BEN-DOR, 1975-1989 ARI RATH and ERWIN FRENKEL, 1990-1992 N. DAVID GROSS, 1992-1996 DAVID BAR-ILLAN

INTERNET EDITION: http://www.jpost.co.il General E-mail: jpedt@jpost.co.il Editorial E-mail:editors@jpost.co.il Subscriptions E-mail: subs@jpost.co.il

An insensitive ceremony

Maccabiah was made worse by the stone-Ahearted insensitivity of the games' organizers. Even after the full scope of the disaster was known, Yoram Eyal, the chairman of the Maccabiah's organizing committee, still had the effrontery to insist that the decision to go ahead with a shortened version of the opening ceremony, colorful dancers and all, was the correct one.

Shock affects different people in different ways, but it cannot explain away the organizers' staggering lapse of hoth judgment and good taste in deciding that "the show must go on," blithely ignoring the fact that a bridge carrying Australian athletes bad collapsed into the Yarkon River, leaving one dead and dozens injured, some seriously.

Eyal last night claimed that when the decision to go ahead was made, the committee did not know the extent of the disaster. That being the case, they should have postponed making a decision a few more minutes until they bad tion of this lofty aim.

ast night's tragic beginning to the 15th more information. Prudence is preferable to punctuality in such cases, and the crowd in the Ramat Gan stadium would not have suffered from a balf-hour delay until the news could be broken to them.

Ramat Gan Mayor Zvi Bar, who hacked the organizers' decision to proceed with the celebrations, argued last night that since Israel is now celebrating 100 years of Zionism and its 50th year of independence, there was no choice but to continue and mix, in his words, joy with sorrow. Israel and the Ramat Gan Municipality will have plenty of opportunities to celebrate 100 years of Zionism and 50 years of independence; last night was not one of them.

The aim of the Maccabiah is to unite Jewish athletes from around the world in Israel, in a joint celebration of their Jewishness and sportsmanship. Bringing on the dancing girls while seriously injured athletes are being pulled out of a river behind the stadium walls is a sad nega-

UNfriendly gathering

General Kofi Annan will unveil a package of reforms of the UN system, capping its budget at $1.3 billion and cutting about 1,000 jobs. The United States Congress, which appropriates about one quarter of the UN budget, will be watching the reform effort closely, as it should. Congress also would do well to watch today's emergency special session on Jerusalem's Har Homa as well, because political and financial irresponsibility go band in

When the General Assembly in 1991 finally reversed its infamous "Zionism is Racism" resolution of 1975, many thought the era of outrageous anti-Israel resolutions in that body had come to an end. At the time it seemed as if the long hegemony of the Arab world, the Soviet bloc, and the "non-aligned movement" on Middle East issues had finally collapsed. But if the assembly passes a resolution on Har Homa today with even a veiled recommendation of sanctions against Israel, it will be a sign that not so much has changed at Turtle Bay.

It is a shame that the assembly, even in today's more enlightened era, has given up even the pretense of fairness or objectivity in the Arab-Israeli conflict. The names of the structures created to deal with the conflict say it all: the UN Secretariat has a Division for Palestinian Rights, created at the behest of the Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People. In a sense, it is lucky for Israel that the UN bas drained itself of any credibility it might have on the issue by being so lopsidedly anti-Israel.

The danger is, bowever, that the UN obsession with attacking Israel also undermines a serious focus on the real threats to peace and stability in the region. For example, even an issue of undeniable importance that deserves to be on the UN agenda, such as the risk of nuclear proliferation in the middle east, becomes distorted when passed through the UN's unique lens. Rather than expressing concern over Iran's burgeoning nuclear program, or its attempts to acquire missiles that can reach Israel, or the threat of Iraq's rebuilding its program despite UN sanctions, the assembly singled out one nation for attack -Israel, for not signing the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty.

It is tempting at this point to simply write off the United Nations as a force for good in the world, at least when it comes to achieving the lofty goals ensbrined in its founding charter. It was, perhaps, unrealistic to expect the UN to be greater than the sum of its parts, the nations of the world.

The UN is not without its successes, even in the peace-making arena. The sad thing about the traction from direct negotiations.

FROM OUR ARCHIVES

Sir, - Kol Hakavod to Limor

Livnat, the Israeli Annie Oakley who beat the bubble gum out of Bezeq's

Limor's victory gives hope that

Israel will finally evolve from small-time Stalinist shtetl shlepper-

60 Years Ago, July 15, 1937

In an article on Palestine published in London's Daily Herald

David Ben-Gurion comments on

Lord Peel's Royal Commission's findings that "the aspirations of Arabs and Jews in Palestine cannot be satisfied under the terms of the present Mandate" and the planned scheme of partition. He argues that Palestine is the only country which Jews can rightly call their own. The Jewish people have always regarded and will continue to regard Palestine as a whole, as a single country which is theirs in a national sense and will become theirs once again.

No Jew will accept partition as a big boys for the benefit of us all.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Tomorrow United Nations Secretary- UN today, however, is that in many areas it not only fails to lead, but lags behind the wave of liberal democracy that bas swept the globe.

The UN's stance on the Middle East is still trapped in a cocoon of anti-colonialist ideology developed at the beight of the Cold War. The Soviet Union is now gone, Nelson Mandela is president of South Africa, England has even handed Hong Kong back to China - yet the UN is acting as if the Arab-Israeli conflict is essentially an anti-colonial struggle.

This shoe simply does not fit. Through the Oslo process, Israel and the Palestinians bave agreed to "recognizing their mutual legitimate and political rights." The conflict, therefore, is seen even by the parties themselves as a mutual struggle for self-determination, not independence from some colonial power.

Though Israel is way ahead of the Palestinians in terms of its physical existence as an independent state, Israel is still striving for full recognition and acceptance as a legitimate, not just de facto, state in its own region. Israel's recognition of Palestinian nationhood has been the stated price of sucb acceptance. The main obstacle in the way of Israel's going ahead with the grand bargain is the fear that it will not result in the Arab world's full acceptance of the Jewish

The attempt by the Palestinians and the Arab states to use the UN as a cudgel against Israel is contrary to the spirit of Oslo, which embodies the spirit of mutual recognition and of direct negotiations to achieve peace and security for both parties. It is for this reason that the United States has wisely fought such resolutions in the both the General Assembly and the Security

Since the US stance is well-known, the greatest onus for taking the moral wind out of the Palestinian-Egyptian effort at the UN belongs on the shoulders of the Europeans, who wish to raise their profile as brokers in the peace process. If they support the draft resolution with minor changes, the Europeans will have failed the test. A vote against would show that the Europeans are serious about changing their approach, and that there is some bope that they could play more of an honest broker role in the peace process.

Even if today's resolution were crafted in a balanced and constructive spirit - which is far from the case - it should be opposed by any nation that really supports the peace process. International resolutions, like violence, were supposed to be a thing of the past once Israel and Palestinians committed to negotiating peace with each other directly. The Palestinian resort to such measures is a step backwards and dis-not build their dreams here.

that I can now afford.

So please excuse me! I must make some urgent business calls abroad

ishes mapping the entire surface

15 Years Ago, July 15, 1982

stage in liberation of Jerusalem."

Iranian forces are reported to have penetrated Iraqi territory in

10 Years Ago, July 15. 1987

British prime minister Margaret

Thatcher flies to Washington to make "one final push" to persuade the Reagan administration to come out publicly in support of an international Middle East con-

Alexander Zvielli

the sector of Basra.

Iran invades Iraq as a "first

ARYEH GALLIN

ocracy into the Jewish equivalent of came to America because they could an Anglo-Saxon capitalist Protestant democracy. Then this will no longer be a society where those with "get-up-and-go" got up and went, like the expatriate Israeli businessmen I met in New York who told me that they

50 Years Ago, July 15, 1947

the Netanya area for the two sergeants held by the Irgun Zvai

Leumi as bostages, continues.

Martial law cuts off Netanva

25 Years Ago, July 15, 1972

"Time is working for us,"

declares Foreign Minister Abba

Eban addressing the ZOA convention in Tel Aviv. He emphasizes that the future map of Israel will only be made at the peace

The US spacecraft Mariner fin-conference table.

from the rest of the country.

"Operation Tiger," the search of just and rightful solution.

AMIEL UNGAR

Kong Tung Chi Wa easily fielded the inevitable question: Would the new management treat demonstrators civilly as under British rule, or would they be disposed of in Tienanmen-Square fashion?

DON'T DISTURB ME, PLEASE

Tung good-naturedly invoked Western standards. Those planning to stage a demonstration were merely expected to apply, as in Western countries, to the local police station and secure a permit for the demonstration. It will be interesting to see how many residents of Hong Kong prove willing to step into the police parlor and announce their advance intention to demonstrate against the rulers in Beijing.

Tung adroitly exploited the West's penchant for self-deception when it wrestles with misgivings or a bad conscience. The best way to lobotomize such feelings is to fail back on terms which have a tranquilizing effect on Western listeners, but imply something totally in a dictatorial context.

This technique was employed to the hilt by Joseph Stalin, who gave his assurances concerning "free elections" in Eastern Europe: The elections were duly held in accordance with Stalinist definitions of freedom.

Israel's relations with the Palestinian Authority are replete with examples of this pitfall.

Once it was decided to elevate Yasser Arafat from terror chieftain to respected interlocutor we ton began playing at double entendres to establish a sham normalcy. It just would not do, for example, to call Jibril Rajoub head of Arafat's secret police, although Rajoub's men act like a secret police.

When one Israeli security source referred to Rajoub as a "tough with a cravat," be was immediately pulled on the carpet for lese majeste. Rajoub's finest were repackaged as the Preventive Security service, or even advertised as the Palestinian equivalent of Israel's General Security

Since we all believe in an ounce of prevention and (Avishai Ravivs sive charges from area to area.

apart) generally respect our GSS, this placed Rajoub's minions in a favorable light. If Rajoub is Ami Ayalon, who are the Israeli opposite numbers of Amin el-Hindi and the heads of the other security services, whose overlap and duplication are part and parcel of a dic-

Terms that tranquilize

tatorship's checks and balances? Freih Abu Medein is dutifully referred to as the justice minister of the Palestine Authority. If a jus-

In feeding our penchant for selfdeception the Palestinians are using an old and well-tried method

tice minister exists, we are undoubtedly dealing with a lawabiding entity. Medein's concept of justice calls upon Palestinian land dealers to commit suicide in order to spare the Palestinians the bother of murdering them.

Another nicety of Palestinian law bas been the modest request the authority addressed to Israel calling for the legalization of 15,000 stolen vebicles.

Why confine a stolen vehicle to the autonomy alone? Don't the intrepid thieves and their respected clientele deserve to drive their cars everywhere, perhaps even paying a nostalgic courtesy call on the vehicles' former owners?

Such interesting concepts of legality in no way deter Israeli lawyers from making pilgrimages to the authority to consult with fellow "jurists."

A QUESTION that preoccupies the media is how long it will take to restore "security coordination" with the Palestinians.

During the beyday of security coordination, Palestinian officials exploited their VIP status to smuggle wanted felons and exploIsrael "coordinated" with organizations whose performance level was strangely erratic. While adept at snatching people from sovereign Israeli territory to torture cells in the authority, they proved curiously inept at keeping murderers of Israelis behind bars. A successful rehabilitation program bas even turned some murderers into members of the Palestinian police.

The message dispatched by these inexplicable escapes is that the murderers of Jews are accorded more leniency than land dealers. Those murderers presumably imprisoned by the authority are actually in protective custody to preempt Israeli justice. When the Social Democratic government in Germany decided in 1969 to normalize relations with East Germany, the political vocabulary changed overnight. Gone were references to totalitarianism which could offend the new partners. The Bonn government ceased chronicling the rampant brutality and suppression in East Germany; unfortunate aspects such as the Stasi and the Berlin Wall were minimized, or totally sanitized.

Under the new approach, the East German regime was judged by its own yardsticks. Scholars accepted at face value and lauded the regime's claims of economic achievements. Such confidencebuilding measures of course went unreciprocated by East Germany, which continued to broadcast batred toward the Federal Republic.

Substitute Shimon Peres and the Labor Party for Willy Brandt and the SPD, and the story repeats itself up to a point.

When the wall crumbled and the truth about East German totalitarianism reasserted itself, some scholars and politicians were embarrassed. As the facade of Oslo crumbles, far more serious consequences are in store.

The writer is chairman of the political science department at Judea and Samaria College.

precluded from serving on such courts, where bigoted men determine women's fates, and the repeated opposition of haredi leaders to women in positions of power.

their self-imposed ghettos it would be bad enough. But the increasing

If haredim continued living in

Jobs or trees?

THOMAS L. FRIEDMAN

o I was visiting a businessman in downtown Jakarta the other day and I asked him for directions to my next appointment. His instructions were: "Go to the building with the Armani Emporition upstairs - you know, just above the Hard Rock Cafe - then turn right at McDonald's."

I just looked at him and langhed. Where am I?" Where I was washin one of the world's houest emerging markets. You've heard about emerging markets. American pension funds probably own shares in the $125h. Jakarta Stock Exchange. And thanks to those pension funds. and global companies like Nike. Freeport and thousands of Japanese and Korean firms that have moved their smokestack manufacturing here to tap the cheap labor and tax regulatory standards - Indonesia is a boom country.

There's just one little downside: The environment all over this remarkably beautiful archipelago is being devastated.

your poison: According to the World Wide Fund for Nature, 44 percent of the original natural habitats of Indonesia have been converted to other uses, and even larger portions of its lowland tropical rain forests have been lost. Several key. coral reefs have been decimated by dynamite and cyanide fishing.

Precisely because it is home to so many species, Indonesia today has more animals threatened with extinction (600) than any country in the world. All the rivers in Jakarta are dead, choked by acids, alcohol and oils, and a thick smog cloud envelops the city.

Environmental degradation, due to mining in outer Java islands and quarrying for building materials in Java, is constantly increasing, exposing Indonesians to erosions, a recent forest fire the size of Belgium, and landslides.

The rich, developed, northern nations, who've been polluting for years, have no right to lecture Indonesians, now that they're trying to develop too. Still, it is hard not to feel a sense of tragedy in the making, and Indonesians who have reached an income and education level where they can afford to think about the environment share this sense of being overwhelmed by global capitalism.

The dark side of globalization

For a developing country like Indonesia, plugging into the global market often means a brutal ultimatum: Jobs or trees? You can't bave both. This is globalization's dark

SOME artists on Indonesia's tropical island of Bali just held an exhibition protesting the paving of their paradise. The Jakarta Post said their drawings included a cartoon of a golf ball dribbling into a Hindu procession, another of Bali as a golf ball being batted around by the world, and one of a village farmer swinging his hoe like a golfer tee. ing off, only he is swinging away at developers. The show was wryly titled: "glo-BALI-zation."

I asked Agus Purnomo, who heads the World Wide Fund for Nature in Indonesia, what it's like to be an environmentalist in an emerging market: "We are in a constant race with development," he sighed.

Before we even have a chance to convince the wider audience here that environmentally sound development is a viable way to do things. the plans to build roads, factories or power plants are moving ahead.

"We have a problem here with unemployment, so any developer who can sell promises of employment will get support. When that penetration of many of them into the modern world is being accomhappens, we get labeled as against employment, and get treated as outsiders." There are environmental laws, but they are rarely enforced, and polluters can easily bribe inspectors.

Nabiel Makarim heads Indonesia's infant environmental protection agency. He knows that real enforcement is impossible, so he has opted instead for embarrassment - creating public awards for cities and companies that achieve standards of environmental protection and spotlighting those that don't.

Makarim is a realist. The power base for environmentalism is still very weak," he says:

Indonesia is now in a race. The same growth that is polluting its environment is also producing a middle class with an environmental awareness, as happened in the West Will that middle class reach critical mass before the environmental degradation does?

- you can't regrow it," said Purnomo. "If you cut the forests, yon can grow them back, but you lose the biodiversity — the plants, the animals. I'm worned that in a decade, we'll all be environmentally aware, but there'll be nothing left to defend."

Ghetto on wheels

was on the No. 27 Egged bus to Hadassah-Ein Karem last week when a man got on and proceeded to walk up and down the aisle looking for a seat.

He saw two empty ones, but made it patently clear that he preferred to stand.

I should elaborate. The man was haredi, and the empty seats were both next to other seats occupied by

One of them started to squirm as the haredi man continued to stand. Eventually she rose and went over to sit with the other woman, surrendering her seat to the haredi. He immediately slid into it, now that it was untainted by any immediate female presence. I was just working up the hutzpa to tell the woman that though she may have felt she was performing a good deed she was, in fact, abetting misogynistic bigotry when the finget of God intervened, converting me on the spot into a firm believer in Divine retribution. At the next stop a nubile, scantily dressed young woman got on and plunked herself down next to the baredi man, who, dismayed, shrank into the bus's metal wall so as to avoid even the hint of bodily contact.

THE following day, The Jerusalem Post reported the Transport Ministry's intention to initiate separate seating and separate entrances for men and women on some bus lines serving primarily the haredi neighborhoods in Bnei Brak and arrangement had been recommended by a committee headed by the ministry's director-general and representatives of the Egged and Dan bus cooperatives.

The women (of course) would be seated "in the back of the bus." This YOSEF GOELL

Now baredi men are fully entitled to view women both as inferior and

Haredim who won't ride the bus next to women should drive cars, ride bicycles, or walk

as deadly sexual threats, and to shun them. But any attempt to turn such bigoted thoughts and attitudes into publicly sanctioned behavior should be fought tooth and nail. While I cannot see myself ever becoming haredi. I have no problem admitting that some aspects of the haredi way of life are admirable - like the intricate network of intra-communal help, institutions like Yad Sarah, the fantastically well-developed volunteering system, and the emphasis on study, which has made its mark on secular life.

But the haredi attitude to women is despicable. Rabbi Ovadia Yosef's inanities about the dire fate awaiting a man who walks between two women is only the tip of the iceberg.

The real problems lie in the nasty treatment women get in rabbinical courts, in the fact that women are panied by an attempt to foist their own narrow life style onto that The fact that haredim now ride the buses along with everyone else is just one indication of their emergence from the ghetto into modern life. But modern Israel - which includes government ministries, Egged and Dan - should give no quarter to haredi attempts to impose the more benighted aspects of their ghetto life on the rest of society, Any haredim who won't ride the bus next to women - who comprise more than half the human race - should drive their own cars, ride bicycles, or walk.

This is not a narrow feminist cause. I suspect that many haredi women, in the forefront of the haredi penetration into modern Israel having been sent there by their husbands to earn a living - are themselves coming around to feeling resentful over being treated like second-class human beings

The spirited revolt by some of them against rabbinical edicts forbidding the wearing of alluring wigs, as reported on Israel TV last Friday night, seems one such indi-

The writer comments on current

J. Santa ALTERNATION The state of the s

PRINCES BUILDING

1.00

with way

- 10 Value A Trains of the self. A Grand "T / religi 12 X187 al #25 配合を 38 72

"TESKAM

The same of the sa

Political

Notice to All Hall

We are pleased w

My 15, 1997, the 14

be included in our se

A A DON PANE SUN POLITIES

Call US

"Yon lose a mountain, you lose it

(New York Times)

15, 1997 The Jerusalem Por

of was visiting a lating of the country of the coun

STATE OF STA

Ameni Rock Cafe the E.M.Danide

locked at him and he Spirit Still In Milette 108

the moral s poster and

Scock Exchange

Contract to those pension

Control companies in the post of the control of the

CONTRACT MANAGEMENT

Service of the servic

state s just one link

Total all on

pesantial artist

posser Accom

Water Fund for long

Sear and the cuising man

The of Interest have been to the cost and cal

to low and made

has been log Seed

The first been deine

and and fide

The state threams

9 m csd (0%, 2...

in the work All the

which had a war and Control of the series and a bed-

-- 42.14.320 grant

in the second

The state of the s

Conserve me

BERRETE ST. ST.

ter und bereit fin fie me

er - Tanna

The latest

and the Land of the Many

The second second

ここと ここで対象

E ZEME

The dark st

of globalizate

7 - - T- T- T-

والمسترون والمسترون والمسترون

فيهيل فرغت سرس بالعطاب 1 - 7:51/202

ery meeting

NO LONG PRIME

ing the second s

100 Apr 100 Mg 100

The same of the sa

The state of the s

العلام المراجع المراجع

ه محالید مهند به مرسد د

No. of the Arth

فليتوسط والمرازي

. . . . .

-೧೯೮೭ ೧೯೩೬

To the detaile

in a state of the state of the

 $1^{*} \subseteq V$

473

4.7

$ 100m $

50.0

∵y∂.

4.4.1

7277

6. . . . . . . . . . . . .

1.

 $\beta < 2^{n_{\alpha}}$

9 A-

is a froom country.

peing de araied

BOOK REVIEW

Enfant terrible Norman Mailer

(London Weekend Television)

A Greek tragedy in tabloid form

By NEIL BALDWIN

THE LAST PARTY: Scenes From My Life With Norman Mailer by Adele Mailer. Barricade Books. 400 pp. $25.

o corrupt Shakespeare's line (and I don't think Adele Mailer would mind), this is the stuff that tabloids are

And yet, in the aftermath of a bacchanalian, overcrowded party that lays waste to their apartment, by the time the besotted and disheveled Norman Mailer stabs his furious, fed-op and terrified young wife and the mother of their two girls, it still comes as a horrifying, blood-drenched shock.

The decade-long relationship reads like a classic, inexorable Greek tragedy, which we know from the start is going to end badly, but are powerless to do anything except keep turning the pages of this manie, sordid and decently written saga.

Adele Morales, attractive and ambitious daughter of a workingclass Brooklyn family, seeks ber intellectual, artistic and sexual forume in the Greenwich Village of the 1950s. She takes classes at the New School. She stays up late at night painting. She frequents candielit dives. She experiments with the organe bax. She affects Beatnik garb.

She takes several lovers, including a refreshingly endearing Jack Kerouac, who likes to dance and thinks of himself as a great writet "because Allen Ginsberg said so." And then she meets the 28-year-old, Harvardeducated, soft-eyed, curly-haired, F. Scott Fitzgerald-quoting enfant terrible who seduces her with deep love, and they embark on a surreal, beaven-and-

Adele discovers before too long the many faces of Norman. When he drinks, or ingests any one of a vast menu of illegal substances, he becomes pugnacious, rude and hell trip.

When writing, he is unapproachable, given to scribbling in his black pocket notebook, and stomping back and forth in the living room while crunching Scotchimpregnated ice cubes between his teeth and mumbling in an "affected, Texas bad-man accent" about the next precious line of his work in progress.

He is addicted to parties, adoring crowds and women of all shapes' and sizes. He fantasizes about orgies and fistfights, and instigates them at random.

But Norman is blessed with allure. He is a caring, sensual lover. He gets along famously with Adele's blue-collar father and overbearing mother. In the early years of their living together, Norman shares his would with Adele, drawing her into a fantasy realm she had always desired, of jazz, museums, exotic vacation spots and book lauoches. She meets and skillfully sketches the literary and artistic players of the day - Mark Rothko, Marlon Brando, Malcolm Cowley, Lillian Hellman.

Adele Mailer is not a polished wordsmith. She lacks the selfconscious, encyclopaedic, exhibitionistic style of her notorious exhusband, and is quite honest about it. She also has a tendency to wallow in self-pity. This is annoying at first, but by the end of the book we can't help forgiving her. She has, indeed, suffered, I asked myself numerous times over the course of her testimooy, as she endured yet another sleepless night alone while her compulsive busband roamed the city streets satiating himself in as many ways as possible: Why doesn't she just take the kids and get out?

(The Baltimore Sun)

Not Page One Sez You! Readers, writers By Sam Orbaum

s this a schizophrenic country or what? So much to love, so much to hate. Depending on your mood, the shuk can be dirty, rude and wretched, or quaint, earthy and great fun. The Western Wall impressive or oppressive. The Negev, boring or beautiful.

Readers responded to a Sez You! quest for the best and worst spots in Israel. Here's what they had to say ...

Heaven and Hell

I love Rosh Pina, Ziehron Ya'acov and Metulia: they're small, rustic, tranquil, far from the city huhbub ... and they convey nostalgia. - Raya Gensler, Herzliya

The Wingate Institute. It's a wonderful place, well-kept and peaceful, even though it's used by many people. - Rosa Shaw,

My least favorite place is Allenby Street in Tel Aviv. It has become rundown, dirty, with broken pavements, beggars lying on the ground, on benches, at bus stops. At night it is a badly lit and forboding road with prostitutes at every corner.

The Hamashhir store has lost its elientele and at night the back entrance is open to prostinutes and their clients who, under the watchful eye of the store's guard, take a quickie on the back staircase, and drop the guard a 50-shekel note. - S. Angel, Tel Aviv

The place I have in mind [for better or worse) is probably the most crowded, noisiest, messiest place in Israel - but it's bome. LH Jerusalem

The place I like most is the Lily Garden, a park betweeo Pinsker and Dubnow Streets in Talbieh, Jerusalem. It's beautifully kept, aromatic and generously lit at night. I could go oo and oo describing the lovely scenes in this park, where my daily attendance stretches from the early Sixties — when I brought my small children - to oow, when I bring my grandchildren.

The most awful place is again in Jerusalem: the #15 bus stop on Jaffa Road. The street is ugly and ooisy, there's a shmatte shop behind the stop, from which blares awful, loud and vulgar music, - Varda Brown, Jerusalem

I like the Delek station on the corner of Emek Refaim and Pierre Koenig Streets in Jerusalem Why? The bakery on the premises. The mix of gas and fresh baked goods ean't be smelled anywhere else. Viva, Jerusalem

Rowing on the Yarkon. What makes it so great? Rowing. Even makes up for the pollution

Runnerup: Mitzpe Ramon, My dream hike: camping on a cliff overlooking the crater. Lots of wide-open space and beautiful surrises.

Least favorite place: Ben Yehuda Street, Jerusalem. Too many tourists, too many people I know. - Maccabiah Games rower Tamara Kronis, Jerusalem

One of my favorite places would have to be the restaurant overlooking the Kinneret at Beit Gavriel. The view is spectacular especially at sunset. Actually, the whole of Beit Gavriel is just

My least favorite: any concert hall/theater/einema filled with native-born Israelis. Shows never start on time, late-comers walk in nonchalantly and talk as if the show hasn't started yet. And the mobile phones never seemed to be turned off. — Ruth Fisher

The place I love the very most Is Beit Hakerem where I live; It's full of gardens, flowers and

And tolerant people all at ease -It's simply not coercive. I avoid Malha's shopping mall -

Too strident, new and noisy, I don't like being pushed and shoved

Because of my avoirdupoisy. I savor Jerusalem's older feel Even though some shops are down-at-heel

They remind me of those days of When Jerusalem still was really

- Dvora Waysman, Jerusalem

Dear Prime Minister...

I think you should... . Keep the promises you made 2. Remember the people who voted for you 3. Get a new secretary of state

4. Not try to please everyone (sic! sie!) 5. Be more humble

6. Stop telling us how great you 7. Tell your wife to listen to her father 8. Tell your wife to wear longer

9. Tell your wife to keep her mouth shut. -- Hela Crown-Tamir, Mevasseret

I think you should announce to the world, and specifically to the Palestinians, that the next time acts of violence are carried out against Israell soldiers or civilians, the IDF will use live ammuoition.

I think you should allow Foreign Minister David Levy to resign. - Ben Rabinowitz, Jerusalem

Continue broadcasting the IBA English News in its present formai.

- Levine Family, Kihbutz Urim

Pass and enforce serious laws to stop the carnage [of road deaths]. Drivers with repeat violations must be jailed and fined so that it hurts. Impound vehicles during suspensions of repeat violators. Only our enemies benefit from us killing ourselves.

- Richard Betzalel LeVine, Safed

Re-educate all civil servants and bank workers in the country. And while you're at it, let the waiters and shop attendants join. - Alice-Berry de Bresser, Kfar book

Mohammed replaces Marx in Arab salons

By ANTHONY SHADID

del Hussein has an odd eol-A lection of books on his shelves for one of Egypt's leading Islamic thinkers.

Titles like Socialist Integration, On Communism and Planning in the U.S.S.R. speak more of class struggle than the hand of God. The authors themselves - G. Sorokin, for instance — suggest Politburo politics rather than a source for religious ideas.

Hussein is no eloset communist, however. Like a surprising number of others across the Arab and Muslim world, he is a one-time Marxist and nonbeliever who has turned to Islam, part of a new intellectual generation reshaping the religion.

"I benefited from Marx in both theory and practice," Hussein said in an interview at his Cairo apartment, remarkable for its lack of Koranie inscriptions so popular with other activist Muslims. "But now, Islam is my starting point and my framework." Unlike their predecessors, who spent years immersed in the intricaeies of Islamic law, these thinkers are often more adept at post-modernism than the sayings of the prophet Mohammed. They speak English and French, are versed in the literature and history of the West, and follow the latest trends in Western thought. In a jarring twist, they are the same thinkers who a generation ago provoked the ire of religious Muslims because their Marxist disavowal of God was seen as the biggest threat to Islam.

Today, they are often the public face of Islam - writing in leading Arabic newspapers, speaking at conferences and on television talk shows, enjoying the support of many younger, more political Muslims interested in their attempts to rethink Islam's relationship to democracy, minorities and the West.

They bring an overtly activist stance to Islam unlike traditional scholars who tend to be more concemed with questions of religious law, for example, or what is permissible under Islam.

They discuss contemporary issues - what capitalism does, what eonsumerism does, what modern society does to women," said Binnaz Toprak, a professor at Bosporus University in Istanbul, Turkey. They're not constantly referring back to Islamic history and the Koran." These thinkers say their change merely reflects reality.

Hussein, for instance, says his goals have not changed. He still believes in social justice and Third World development. But he now sees Islam, through its ability to persuade and to mobilize, as the best tool. Like some traditional Islamie scholars, running through their thoughts is an anti-Western current. They respect what the West has created, but they resent its dominance over the economy, culture and politics.

Abdel-Wahab Elmessiri, a former leftist with a doctorate in poetry from Rutgers University in New Jersey, considers everything from pomography to pollution as Western ills for which Islam must find a solution.

Mohammed Amara, who writes in the prestigious London-based newspaper Al-Hayat, sees Islam's historical tolerance of minorities as an alternative to what he considers the West's racism and nationalism.

"You will see that Islam is the one framework that is open to all of us," Amara said. Ali Bulac, a former Turkish leftist now prominent among Islamic thinkers with a following at universities, takes a similar tack. He uses the prophet Mohammed's ties with Jews as the basis for conceiving a Muslim community in which religious and ethnic groups have

Sudan's Hassan Turabi, who has tried to fashion an Islamic state in his country, recalls that in the early

In the early 1960s · all of Hassan Turabi's schoolmates were Marxists. Now they speak the language of Islam.

960s, all his schoolmates were Marxists. Now, he says, they speak the language of Islam. In Egypt, the phenomenon is, perhaps, even more widespread. Hussein, for years one of Egypt's most respected leftist economists, now leads the Islamic Labor Party, which publishes The People, Egypt's best-known Islamic newspaper. He and bis former Marxist colleagues speak of Islam as the only ideology still viable for discochanted Muslims. Pan-Arab nationalism, they say, was single-handedly discredited by the Six-Day War, in which Israel devastated the armies of Egypt, Jordan and Syria. Socialism, meanwhile, evokes images of corrupt state-run enterprises that have squandered the resources of many an Arab and Muslim country. The Baath Party, which rules in Iraq and Syria, is best known for cruelty.

In the beginning, these ideologies were like lightning.

They enthralled the people, said Amara, sitting in a cramped apartment with books stacked to the ceiling. "But until you tried them, you couldn't know that they wouldn't achieve your goals. Many of these intellectuals willingly acknowledge their past beliefs. All born as Muslims, they both religiously and politically as a conversion Elmessiri recalls the astonishment of his colleagues when he speak of their return to the faith -

numed to Islam. "If anyone would have told me that I would be a Muslim thinker,

I would have laughed," he said. "And when I converted, some of my friends fainted. They couldn't believe it." The turn to Islam has angered other intellectuals, paróeularly leftists, who eall the change of heart opportunism or worse.

In this mouth's issue of the journal Literature and Criticism, a reviewer criticized Amara, saying that "he was neither an asset to the Marxists nor to the fundamentalists." (AP)

srael's Southern andscapes by Aviva Bar-Am & Yisrael Shalem

Your personal guide to Eliat and the Negev. Another outstanding guide by these two veteran travel writers. Aviva Bar-Am is well known to The Jerusalem Post readers from her lively family travel columns. Dozens of family hikes and easy nature trails; fascinating car trips throughout the Negev; sensational walks of the beaten track; visits to ancient Biblical, Nabatean and Roman cities; explore Bedouin culture and modern settlements. Includes a unique English-Hebrew dictionary of flora and fauna. Highly acclaimed book. Softcover, 318 pp., with Iull-color illustrations.

SPECIAL OFFER - Beautiful Neger Touring Map free while supply lasts.

Books, The Jerusalem Post, POB 81, Jerusalem 91000 Please send me ____ copies of ISRAEL'S SOUTHERN LANDSCAPES at NIS 69 each Postage in Israel: one copy NIS 6, two or more NIS 10 or ainmail NIS 25 per copy _ Enclosed check payable to The Jerusalem Post, or credit cami details. Please list gift recipients' names, address and message separately. O Visa D Isc/MCD

Notice to All Haifa and Northern Region Subscribers We are pleased to announce that effective July 15, 1997, the Haifa and northern region will be included in our toll-free customer service line. If you have any home delivery inquiries or problems,

call us at 177-022-2278

and other Nature Notes. A delightful collection of articles by Divora Ben Shauk which appeared over the years in The Jerusalem Post. A long awaited gift for many regular readers of D'vors Ben Streut's column, with cheming drawings by Andrew Mann accompanying each article. Published by Moonon HOVEY HERERY, SOMEONER, 145 P.P. JP Price NIS 35 Please send me _____copies of:

SUNBIRDS AND MACO ****** Books, The Jerusalem Post, POB 81, Jerusalem 91000 SUNBIRDS AND MOONFLOWERS at NIS 35 each _ Postage in largel: one copy NIS 6, two or more NIS 10 ___ Enclosed check payable to The Jerusalem Post, or credit card details. Please list gift recipient's name, address and message separately. Dines D Isc/MCD

REVIEWS

in brief

Concerts

Two faces of the IPO were revealed last week. The orchestra which played Bruckner's Seventh Symphony (July 9 in Jerusalem) was superb; the orchestra that played the Mahler arrangement of Schubert's Death and the Moiden string quartet (July 10 in Tel Aviv) was far from inspiring. Zuhin Mehta conducted both pieces. His rendition of the Bruckner opus was riveting and the orchestra responded with precision to his every nuance. But the strings, for many years the orchestra's trademark, were unimpressive in the Schubert opus. On both evenings Itzhak Perlman played Bruch's First Violin Concerto. As usual his tone was sweet and rounded, yet he seemed engrossed in the lyrical schmaltz of the opus. In Tel Aviv the concert opened with devotion hy Mehta and the orchestra. This is not an easy opus but it is intriguing and is written in a clear late 20th-century idiom.

Michael Ajzenstadt

The Haifa Symphony Orchestra concluded its season at Jaffa's Noga Theater with one of the most exciting programs and performances this orchestra has given in a long while. The premiere of Jan Radzynski's Shirat Mo'ayan enjoyed, as is usual with this orchestra, a superb reading under the caring leadership of music director Stanley Sperber, one of the leading champions of contemporary Israeli music. The composer chose two psalms (including the over-used By the Rivers of Babylon), presented in his own relentless style.

his own relentless style.

Leading Beethoven's Ninth Symphony for the first time, Sperber conducted without a score, and occasionally without a baton, in a commanding rendition. It was a tender, lyrical reading.
The orchestra sound was occasionally thin, a note was missed here or there, and the choirs were less impressive than the orchestra. But overall it was an impressive performance.

Michael Ajzenstadt

Festival

"Do you want to hear something funky?" Nappy G. of New York City band Groove Collective asked rhetorically at Hayarkon Park Wednesday night. And the audience at this Parliament Arts festival gig, making up in spirit what it lacked in numbers, rushed to front stage center to boogie and shake their groove things from the opening number, "Saturday Night," which highlighted the finger gymnastics of Richard Worth on flute, straight through to the encore, "On the Mountain", a 20-minute jam which whisked you effortlessly back and forth from a smoky Chicago blues bar to a street comer in the Latin section of Manhattan's Lower East Side. The 10-member ensemble fused jazz, hip-hop, blues, tribal and Latin rhythms into a cohesive and joyous 90-minute romp that gave locals a taste of its four-hour long hometown gigs.

**Tracy Fiske**

Isaac Hayes and his band closed the festival with a high-energy show that had the audience dancing. In his deep, rumbling bass voice, Hayes captured his audience with hits such as "Walk on By," "Do Your Thing," and "The Look of Love." The highlight came with his take on Sting's "Fragile." The finale had Hayes playing orchestra conductor to his 13-member backing band doing the theme from Shaft. He bounced around waving his arms to punctuate the beat. Coming at the end of a two-hour set, the calisthenics proved that at 55, Isaac Hayes is far from fading away.

Shai Tsur

Dance

The Karmiel Dance Festival celebrated its 10th anniversary with an abundance of dance activities around the clock. The program of Karmiel '97 included the National Ballet of Korea, Contemporary City Dance Company of Hong Kong, PACT – Dance Company (South Africa) Expressions (Australia) and the Kibhutz Contemporary Dance Company, along with immunerable folk, ethnic and other dance expressions that are the core of the festival.

All the foreign dance companies made their Israeli debut in Karmiel, and all have terrific dancers. The Korean Ballet has male soloists who defy gravity, and supple, strong ballerinas. The contemporary company from Hong Kong fuses tradition with current disciplines to create a strongly political work. PACT of South Africa also walks the tightrope of cross-cultural issues.

Georgia and Chile, but the most dignified and touching performance was given by an amateur group, Hora on Wheels, of disabled ex-servicemen who took part in the opening night performance and brought to their feet some 15,000 cheering spectators.

Ora Brofman

THEATER REVIEW

A cast of promising young actors brings Joseph Heller's classic war comedy to life.

Heller's satire reduced to farce

By NAOMI DOUDAL

atch-22, Joseph Heller's satirical anti-war novel of the Sixties, receives at the hands of Ilan Ronen a spirited transference to Habimah's Hehrew stage. Production-wise it is an arresting feat. Ronen, with his usual verve, directs his own translation-adaptation, exploiting the theatrical skills (including good diction) of a cast of young actors.

The latter are the same who, trained on a special group project, met the commedia dell'orte demands of Ronen's recent Hahimah production of Machiavelli's Mandragola with such success. Here, however, the success of an otherwise excellent production is limited to external effects, physical feats and farcical posturing.

CATCH-22

Slick movement, masterly timing, snappy direction (the hrothel scene stands out among many), and use of a multi-level stage make for dynamic action.

By Joseph Heller

This is backed by some promising performances, among them Guy Lowel's. Guy Mesika's. Sigalit Fox's, and Revital Snir's. Every element of aerial warfare – strafing, sirens, flight operations, action-stations, massive formations – are also conscripted to galvanize the macabre goings-on, not to mention a rather superfluous

Dance of Death figure (Boris Sichon) that hovers in the wings.

All to little avail, however, as far as Heller's hlack humor and initial intention go.

For instead of his bitter parody of corrupted military power in all its manifestations, what we have here, for all its gruesome melodrama, amounts to little more than a travesty of the original.

Milking it for every ounce of easy fun and farce, it mainly delivers a series of nonstop monologues, in quality close to stand-up comedy, that with unremitting vigor scream ont for attention in typical Israeli vociferous style.

vociferous style.

Somehow, somewhere, in the process, it misses out on the essence of Heller's timeless novel and its awesome condemnation of war.

IN TUNE

A solo too far

BY DAYID BRINN

here may not be much demand for yet another live Neil Young album, but that doesn't seem to bother rock's elder statesman and his crusty long-time sidekicks Crazy Horse. For they plow through two CDs of old classics and forgotten B-sides with the same reckless abandon and ragged glory that has earned them the reputation as one of

YEAR OF THE HORSE Nell Young & Crazy Horse (Hed Artzi)

> OPEN ROAD Gary Barlow (Eled Artzi) BAGSY ME The Wannadies (Eled Artzi)

rock's premier live acts.

Since there are so many official and bootleg options available to the Young fan, the grungemaster wisely mixes things up hy featuring lesser-known work and altering well-worn arrangements. For worn arrangements. For instance, the 30-year-old Bnffalo Springfield opus "Mr. Soul" is dressed down in a laconic acoustic version, while the exquisite "Pocahontas," originally from Rust Never Sleeps, is given full Crazy Horse treatment and makes np in power what it sacrifices in sub-

Some of the tunes are no more than excuses for the hand to unleash its lumbering thunder. In concert, this may take the listener to the next plane, but on record the soloing seems end-

Both "When You Dance" and "Big Time" could stand for some tightening up, and even Young's best Dylan imitation, "Barstonl Blues," dissolves into a pointless jam.

But it's not all shattering guitars, as delicate treatments of "Human Highway" and "When Your Lonely Heart Breaks" provide a welcome respite. Young is in fine voice and spirit throughout, and his commitment to the music is palpahle.

There aren't many rockers into the fourth decade of their career of whom you can say that. May he stay forever young.

THE day teenybopper faves Take That broke np was a dark moment for music fans because it meant that all its former members would eventually be releasing solo albums.

Now it's Gary Barlow's turn.

Granted, he wrote some of the band's biggest hits, which is a duhions honor at best. But it proved that he's a master in the genre of light pop. And this set will only enhance his standing. There's nothing really dislikable about the songs, his voice or the music. But one can say the same thing about white bread.

The unifying musical theme of the record is that hokey synthesized keyboard sound which can be interpreted as either chimes or rain falling.

That sound effect would sound just right in an elevator, which is where you'll most likely be hearing these songs in the near future.

Power play: Neil Young (right) and Crazy Horse

THE Wannadies is the latest Swedish-via-England import, and they are every hit as engaging as last year's beroes The Cardigans. Bright, snappy pop suhverted hy distorted guitars, cheesy synthesizer, and offbeat lyrics that only non-native English speakers seem capable of writing are the main elements here. And it's quite grand, except for the overambitious finale "That's All," which at over eight minutes is about six minutes too long.

However, when they keep to three-minute vignettes. The Wannadies work quirky wonders with the pop form.

TOWER RECORDS' TOP 15

WEE	K WEEK	CHART	S ARTIST	TITLE
#1	2	2	V/A	HITMAN 8
#2	4	2	RAMI KLEINSTEIN	KOL MA SHETIRTZI
#3	1	3	PRODIGY	FAT OF THE LAND
#4	6	4	TEA PACKS	NESHIKA LADOD
#5	9	22	YEHUDA POLIKER	LIVE
#6	10	2	V/A	HOUSE OF AGNOSIA
#7	7	4	RADIOHEAD	O.K. COMPUTER
#8	5	2	OST	SPACE JAM
#9	11	9	EYAL GOLAN	WITHOUT YOU
#10	3	9	MICHAEL JACKSON	BLOOD ON THE
#11	22	46	RAMI KLEINSTEIN	COLLECTION
#12	12	68	RITA	COLLECTION
#13	RE	1	MADONNA IN	MACULATE COLLECTION
#14	14	4	V/A	JE TAIME
$15	NEW!	1	EN VOGUE	EV3

THE JERUSALEM POST INTERNATIONAL EDITION

From your home homeland to your home

With savings up to $76.00 off the cover price!

ERUSALEM POST keeps you repred about israel and The Yes! I want to start home delivery of informed about Israel and The Middle East. All important events and changes. Unmatched coverage and analysis. It is the Englishlanguage paper you can rely on. When you return home you can keep up with current affairs and special features every week in The Jerusalem Post International Edition. Written and edited in Israel, you have a direct line to Israel with the convenience of home delivery. No other international publication can give you that.

Don't miss a single timely issue. Subscribe now and save up to $76.00 off the cover price!

Order six months - 26 weekly issues - for just $46.00. Or save more with one full year - 52 weekly issues - for only $79.95. And bring a bit of Israel home to you.

Savings based on $3 cover price. Rates in U.S. dollars. Outside the U.S.A. and Europe add $10 per year. Personal and bank checks only dawn in U.S. dollars from a US bank or in local currency from local bank. Canadian orders add GST.

THE JERUSALEM POST. Please rush my first issue and start a subscription for the term checked below.

| Save 49%! One year - 52 weekly issues - for $79.95.
| Name

Address/Apt.

City/State/Zip

Country

1 ☐ Payment enclosed
1 Please charge my
1 ☐ MasterCard ☐ Visa ☐ American Express

Card no.

Signature Card Expiration date
 Send orders to: The Jerusalem Post International Edition

Subscription Department North America: P.O.Box 420700, Palm Coast. FL 3214

P.O.Box 420700, Palm Coast. FL 32142 Israel and other countries: P.O. Box 81, Jerusalem 91000, Israel

Joan Peters provides demographic and historical perspectives on the origins of the Arab-Jewish conflict over Palestine, and gives abundant justification for reversing the moral and legal presumptions that have led to Israel being cast as defendant before the court of world opinion. Softcover, 601 pp.

JP Price NIS 65.00 (not including delivery)

To: Books, The Jerusalem
Post, POB 81, Jerusalem
91000 Tel. 02-6241282
Please send me From Time
Immemorial, Mailing in Israel
1 book NIS 6, 2 or more NIS 10
Enclosed is my check, payable to The Jerusalem Post.
Credit card orders accepted by phone (02-624-1282).

Address_____
City____ Code____

A musical tribute to the Dead Sea Scrolls

By MICHAEL AJZENSTADT

ichael Wolpe's activities as high-school teacher and composer have found themselves intertwined in a very unique way. The Israel Museum bas commissioned the prolific 37-year-old composer, whose some 100 works are performed regularly by orchestras and musicians throughout the country, to write a new piece to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls.

Wolpe, who lives in the Negev kibbutz Sde Boker, is most familiar with the topic. He recalls: "There was a time when I read the scrolls in earnest. I was especially interested in the social aspect of the life of the people of Qumran. Their rules and regulations fascinated the kibbutznik in me."

Wolpe might have written a large-scale opus concentrating on the text of the scrolls, "but the museum's commission was very specific, so I wrote a sort of chamber cantata for a children's chorus, two vocalists [Mira Zakai and Ofer Chalef], a string quarter with flute, clarinet and guitar, as well as two trumpets which are used as an additional element. And perhaps it was for the best because at times the texts of the scrolls can sound quite fascist or even bolshevik." Wolpe has created a collage that moves swiftly between past and present. "The museum requested that the work be based on the text of the scrolls, but I could not detach myself entirely from our time. So the textual collage I have created also features voices from our present and not-so-distant past, as well as sounds of the Mahaneh Yehuda market in Jerusalem on a busy day."

Musically speaking, there is a mixture of styles as well. "On the one hand I tried to convey the modes in which those people would have sung. I invented a kind of folk music that would have been appropriate for the time. In other parts of the piece I wrote in a serial manner reminiscent of Partos. But on the whole it is a tonal opus which is quite eclectic."

The new opus is entitled Tunes of Light and Darkness, reflecting Wolpe's fascination with the duality in the life of the sect who lived in Qumran.

"On the one band you read that they had a very good life, but then the Romans came and slaughtered them. I'm not sure if they knew about their impending doom. My theory is that they moved to the desert because they were running away from the hectic political life in Jerusalem," says Wolpe.

In more ways than one, the composer himself, who also lives in the desert, seems to share that notion.

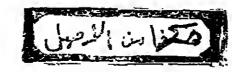

Wolpe believes his new work is very contemporary. "I'm not a politician and I don't want the work to be didactic, hut some of these texts are quite amazing. In their political content they are very extremist. Everything is either hlack or white for them and in that regard we have not changed. Their verbal violence is astonishing and to realize that nothing has changed since that time is very frightening."

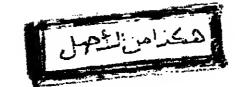

Wolpe teaches high-school students both in Jerusalem and on his kihbutz. "I have just finished a year with 12th graders, some of whom are already in the army. One of them recently called to tell me how difficult it is for him to get used to army life. At the same time, I was writing about these people who on the one hand seemed to be leading a good, quiet life while on the other, they were talking about the assassination of their leaders. It is all too perplexing and amazingly contemporary."

Tunes of Light and Darkness

will be premiered in Qumran on July 24 at 9:30 p.m. during the concluding ceremony of the international congress which the Israel Museum has organized for the 50th anniversary of the discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls.

Excerpts from the new work will be heard Sunday at the Israel, Museum in Jerusalem during the opening of the congress.

5, 1997 The Jerusalem Ar

THE day teenybopper to the control of the case teenybopper to the control of the 1000 prin Дh. Certified the winds of the country of country the winds of the country of the cou GCL. 332 T Proced that he's a many control that he's a mark at her an appear of light pop. And the control canance his water a nothing teally do about the songs, his water arrived while break arriving musical arriving musical states.

and any or white mean used keyboard sound who the second as either the 7 rain falling. Sound effect would an elevator w weese soull most per THE THESE SONES IN THE 12.

is off.

175 2

126

and Crazy Horse

Tief Augnaties is the ! 3 - 12 : 1 - 12-England & and the same of the same NOTE: DETERM Britis Maria ) -- 1742 () Carel E and and 200 IL 121 121 2002 300 C 400 C ere er and mis teite g the space Court Trans All ed o er ega materide or a constant of the constant

CORDS' TOP

10.55 10.56 MAN TENE

a Scrolls

By R.W. APPLE JR.

PRAGUE, Czech Republic - A diminutive figure in a black suit. Madeleine Albright emerged into the cobblestoned street from the old Jewish Town Hall, a pink neo-baroque building with a curlicue date, 1908, carved over its door.

Standing in the glare of television lights as twilight crept into darkness, she struggled not to cry and fought to banish the quaver from her voice as she told of the cmotions she felt a few minutes earlier on secing for the first time the names of her paternal grandparents painted on the wall of the Pinkas Synagogue, among those of 77,297 Czech and Slovak Jews who perished in the

Albright had been to Prague many times before, but Sunday night was different. It was her first visit since she became secretary of state and her first since a biographer's research demonstrated that her parents had been born Jewish and that at least two of her grandparents had died in concentration camps.

Before, she said, she had never thought to look for their names in the synagogue, but "tonight I know to look for those names, and their image will be seared forever oo my heart." There they were, at eye level to the left of the Torah - Korbel Arnost and Korbel Olga, the last name in red, the first names in black, their dates of birth in the late 19th century and death in the fires of World War II.

The true story of Albright's origins - what she called her "Jewish background" - was no longer a rumor, no longer a theory, but palpable, public and painful.

"As I stood looking at that melancholy wall, all the walls, I felt not only grief for those members of my family that were inscribed there, but I also thought about my parents," the secretary said. "I thought about the choice they made.

They clearly confrooted the most exeruciating decision a human being can face when they left members of their family behind even as they saved me from certain death. I will always love and honor my parents and will always respect their decision, for that most painful of choices gave me life a second time," Albright's father, a diplomat, twice fled from what was then Czechoslovakia, first to cscape Hitler, then to escape Stalin. He and his wife reached the United States in 1948. They brought up their daughter, she has said, as a Catholic, which by then they were too.

She later became an Episcopalian. Gripping a statement that aides said she wrote herself in longhand early Sunday moming, Albright read it in a small voice. She kept her heels clamped tightly together, and several times she paused to gather herself.

"To the many values and many facets that" make up who I am," she told a little knot of reporters and cameramen and a few onlookers, "I now add the knowledge that my grandparents and members of my famihed in the worst catastrophe in human history. So I leave bere tonight with the certainty that this new part of my identity adds something strooger, sadder and richer to my life." When she finished reading, she took off her glasses, folded them and walked quickly, alone, head down, up the street and into the gloaming. Nobody asked a question.

George Klein, a New York real-estate developer who said he was in Prague on vacation, came to hear the secretary. Klein, a co-chairman of the New York Holocaust Mcmorial Commission, said that "she seemed really, deeply, honestly and gen-uinely moved." Albright's emotionally charged visit began in the 15th-century Jewish cemetery, where an estimated 100,000 people are buried, 10 or more layers deep, in a tiny space littered with 12,000 tombs scattered like the rocks of a moraine. She walked with Tomas Kraus, executive director of the Federation of Jewish

The Jerusalem Post offers you a unique

"The whole object of travel is not to set

ERETZ Magazine takes you beyond political

of the place you live-the place you think you

ERETZ Magazine digs deeper than any other in ERETZ's seventy-two spectacularly of the world's most enchanting outdoor museums-the land of Israel.

Join us as we explore your home.

price of NIS165 and save NIS25!

periodical in its quest to unearth the romantic ethnic diversity.

follies in its future.

After seeing her grandparents' names inscribed on a synagogue wall, Albright read an emotional statement.

Communities of the Czech Republic, and Leo Paylat, director of the Czech Jewish Museum. Kraus stopped several times to point out tombs and to explain the symbols that denoted membership in various Jewish tribes.

When they moved on to the Town Hall, Kraus showed Albright the stark file card recording the fate of the Korbels: both deported on July 30, 1942, 55 years ago, to Theresienstadt, he to die there, she to die at Auschwitz.

James Rubin, a longtime spokesman for the secretary, said there was some confusion about the death of her maternal grandmother, Ruzena Spieglova. That name does not appear on the walls of the synagogue or in the Town Hall records, although there are other Spieglovas listed.

Albright's maternal grandfather died of oatural causes before the war. The name of a cousin, Milena Demlova, is listed in the synagogue. After a morning in St. Petersburg, Russia, and an afternoon in Vilnius, Lithuania, the secretary flew on to Prague, arriving in bright sunshine. In Lithuania, Albright attended to more mundane matters, working hard to convince a roomful of university students who were clearly but politely skeptical of her stated reasons for omitting the three Baltic countries from the first round of NATO expansion.

Some of the students at Vilnius University, which will soon celebrate its 400th anniversary, sent President Clinton a letter before the summit meeting in Madrid, Spain, last week urging him to support the admission of Estonia, Larvia and Lithuania instead of limiting the expansion to three nations -Hungary, Poland and the Czecb Republic.

In the final communique in Madrid. Romania and Slovenia were clearly placed at the head of the line for admission in the next round, probably in 1999, and the Baltic countries were mentioned much less prominently as candidates.

There and in meetings in Vilnius with the Baltic foreign ministers, Albright offered all the assurance she could, repeating pledges that "we are determined not to let any new lines appear in Europe." She told the ministers, "Europe cannot be whole without you," and described their nations as "serious candidates," subtly different from her description of Slovenia as one of the leading candidates during a stop in Ljubljana on Saturday.

During a meeting in St. Petersburg with the secretary early Sunday morning, Foreign Minister Yevgcoy Primakov of Russia reiterated Moscow's complaints about NATO expansion in general and said his country would take a particularly jaundiced view of any move to include the Baltic states, all of which have substantial ethnic Russian minorities.

Albright reiterated the standard NATO position that no country outside the organizaon could exercise a veto on its membership. including Russia. But according to a US official who spoke on condition of anonymity, she also said that no member had made a strong case for the Baltic states in Madrid.

In fact, only the Danes and the Norwegians, in what appeared to be a pro forma act of regional solidarity, spoke up for the Baltic nations at all at the summit.

When Albright appeared in the ceremonial hall of the university in Vilnius, a handsome, barrel-vaulted chamber with deep red walls and other Corinthian columns, it was clear that the students had done their homework. She spoke directly to their concerns, telling them that "we will not punish you in the future just because you were subjugated in the past." But she also said, on a more cautious note, that "NATO membership is not an entitlement." And when they persisted, she asserted that "the Baltic states have only embryonic military structures" that did not fit them for NATO now. (New York Times)

AFTER COMMUNISM

Autocrats fight George Soros

By JUDITH MILLER

MINSK, Belarus - For the past decade, George Soros, the Huogarian-born financier and philanthropist, has spent more than a billion dollars promoting a free press and political pluralism abroad - everything the world's authoritarian rulers despise. Now some of those political leaders are fighting back. ln Albania, Kyrgyzstan, Serbia and Croatia, Soros' foundations have been accused of shielding spies and breaking currency laws. His employees have been assaulted and threatened with imprisonment or financial sancoon for alleged crimes. Here in Belarus, Soros recently suspended operations after the government, headed by Aleksandr Lukashenko, the popular but autocratic 42-year-old president, fined a Scros foundation $3 million for alleged tax violations and seized its bank account. While expressing a desire to resolve the crisis here and lessen tensions with other authoritarian govemments, the man whose own fortune was made io bigh-stakes busiocss gambles is vowing not to

"We would like to continue working in Belarus, 10 do what we can wherever we can." Soros said in a recent interview in New York, "Bot we insist that all

Soros: democratic giving our foundations remain independent. We will oot play by Mr. Lukashenko's rules." The growing pressure on Soros' philanthropic empire, which stretches from South Africa to Haiti and employs 1,300 people in 24 countries, with two regional offices in New York and Budapest, appears to have only stiffened his resolve. This year he opened five new offices in Central Asia -Mongolia, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, Azerbaijan and Armenia - and one in Guatemala, his first in Latin America. And soon he is to open Africa, he said, expanding the number of countries in which his foundations are active to 40.

Moreover, given his growing personal fortune, which friends estimate at $5b., his efforts are likely to continue at current levels for at least a decade, and perhaps for two.

While American foreign aid in the last decade has been cut in half in real terms, Soros, 66, recently signed a 20-year lease on his new headquarters in New York.

In Central Europe alone, he speot more than $123m. between 1989 and 1994 trying to help democracy take root roughly five times the sum spent by the US government's chief democracy-promoting founda-tion, the National Endowment for Democracy. Unlike US government development aid, about 80 percent of which is given to American contractors and consultants, most money Soros distributes is given quickly and with few strings to local groups and individuals, says Thomas Carothers, a former State Department lawyer at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, because local activists are less expensive and more efficient at spreading the democratic, free-market mantra.

Soros' philanthropy has its critics. Some say it is too impulsive and mercurial, too arrogant and micromanaged, too confined to friends on the left of center and not as open to public scrutiny.

Others criccize his investment in countries to which he gives; Soros' defenders reply by citing strict rules within the foundations for avoiding conflicts of interest. Soros noted, for example, that his investment company sold its interest in Alliant Technologies, a French company, after learning that Alliant helped manufacture land mines, a direct conflict with his program to ban land mines. But Soros has permitted his foundation in Russia to own

GTS, now the second-largest telecommunications company in Russia, because the profits accrue to the foundation, not to him or to his investment funds. Some of those iovolved with his foundations wonder whether the financier is spreading himself too thin.

"His Central European giving has been effective partly because of his personal involvement and familiarity with the region and its problems," said a long-time associate, noting that Soros visits Eastern Europe about five times a year. "But can he possibly have the same passion for nine new African countries?" Soros himself acknowledges that he has had setbacks, including, for example, his founda-tions in Russia, which he was forced to restructure after discovering that employees were diverting foundation funds into Swiss bank accounts and using them to buy luxury cars.

"I never have regrets," Soros" said, "about having spent a lot of money trying to make things better." The current struggle in Belarus is shaping up as a test of Soros' staying power and a benchmark for him and perhaps for Central Europe.

Serbia last year revoked his foundation's permit before finally restoring it under Western pressure. Croada has put three Soros foundation employees on trial, charged with currency violations, a criminal offense.

But no government has ever forced a Soros foundation to close permanently. "If Lukashenko can take Soros down, no one is safe," said Andrei Sannikov, Belarus' former deputy foreign minister, who quit his post last year. "Perhaps not even in Russia. where our president's right-wing allies in Moscow sit and wait for Boris Yeltsin to die and their nationalist moment to come." Standing

(Israel Sun) up to the West by taking oo a man as powerful as George Soros would enhance Lukashenko's standing among hard-line nationalists, another diplomat said. "Kicking out Soros," he added, "is like shatting down General Motors," Soros' troubles in Belanis can be traced to the 1994 elections, when Lukashenko, a former boss of a collective farm, won an overwhelming victory.

. While Belarus' previous govemment had stressed national identity and sought to free the country from Russian control, Lukashenko campaigned on a platform of reunifying Belarus with the Russian heartland and its fellow Slavs, while ending соптирціоо. After taking office, he set out to restore at least the symbols of Russian rule, and appeared determined, one diplomat said, to make Belarus, a Kansas-sized nation of 10 million people, a "Soviet theme park." This year he and Yeltsin signed a "unity" agreement, though it was watered down at the last minute at the insistence of Yeltsin's liberal advisers, who dislike Lukashenko and fear his rightwing Russian frieods. But Lukashenko lost no time in (lit-

"We have McDonald's, but oo freedom of assembly," said Sannikov, the former deputy foreign minister. "People have subsidence potatoes and vodka; the streets are clean and well-maintained. Lukashenko doesn't kill massively because he doesn't have to. This is the new face of dictatorship in Europe." To express its displeasure, Washington has suspended some $40m. in aid. Europe, too, has frozen aid, as have the World Bank and the Ioternational Monetary Fund, all so far without visible political effect.

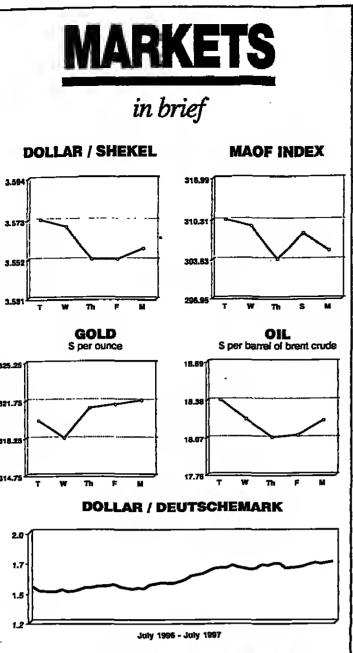

erally) re-hoisting the red flag.

A report in April from the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe accused Belarussians of "constructing a totalitarian government" and found a "clear pattern" that the government was using tax audits and fines to silence opposition.

The report also criticized a refereodum last November that allows the President to rule by decree, and permits random arrests of opposition leaders. The new definition of "order" was characterized as "a complete lack of public expression of any views not authorized by the authorities." It is no accident, diplomats say, that the first person expelled from Belarus was Peter G. Byrnc, an American who directed the Belarus Soros Foundation, which finances about 80 percent of the country's tiny independent sector. (In Belarus there are 1,115 officially registered associations not controlled by the government, only a handful of which are politically active or foreign sponsored.) Lukashenko has set his tax collectors against virtually every major foreignsupported foundation, as well as the independent news media, arguing that they support the

See SOROS, Page 10

Gov't to submit natural gas bill

July 1996 - July 1997

DOW JONES INDUST. AVG.

By Jerusalem Post Staff

Tho Finance and National Infrastructure ministries will introduce legislation to the Knesset to lay the framework for the natural gas industry, according to a joint statement published yesterday. No schedule was given for the start of the legislative process.

ments over the future of the industry, the two bodies reached agree-

The government will play no part in the running of the industry. which will he entirely in the private sector. However, the companies that win the operating tenders will have to operate within the framework of the "natural gas market

The agreement, which has still to be confirmed by the ministerial economics committee, calls for tho establishment of a committee under the chairmanship of National Infrastructure Ministry directorgeneral Giora Rom, which will work to hasteo the purchase of gas from one or more foreign suppliers. The relevant ministries will now sit together to decide on the exact geographical routes of the landbased and underwater pipelines that will bring the gas to Israel and then control its distribution.

Separate licenses will be awarded for imports, distribution, and marketing. The Israel Electric Corporation, which will be the largest gas purchaser, will enter negotiations for the supply of gas to operate its turbines.

Eventually, gas imports will not be restricted to a monopoly, but anyone will be allowed to purchase gas from foreign suppliers.

Later this month or early in August, the National Infrastructure Ministry will resume talks with Russian-based RAO Gazprom, the world's largest natural gas supplier.

Other countries still being considered as suppliers include Egypt and

Merrill Lynch purchases 12.5% stake in Bezeq

Livni: Terms of $250m. deal no more favorable than C&W's

By JENNIFER FRIEDLIN and Globes News Service

Merrill Lynch, the world's largest equities underwriter, bas bought from the government a 12.5 percent stake (90.6 million shares) io the national tolecom company Bezeq for $250 million, State Companies Authority director-general Tzipi Livni announced yesterday.

The deal caught by surprise

analysts, investors and company workers, who waged a protest

According to the terms of the Lynch purchased a 2.5% stake value minus 5%.

An additional 10%, bought for the full market price of $200m., was sold with an option to return the shares if Merrill fails to find buyers for it by the end of February 1998.

In that event the government will buy back the shares at NIS 9.79 a share plus an unspecified interest rate based on the London Interbank Offered Rate. The deal hriogs Merrill

Lynch's investment in Israeli companies up to NIS 1.2b. ln June, Merrill Lynch acquired a 19.2% stake in pharmaceutical company for $50m., which is market Industries Ltd. The company has also bought stakes in high-tech companies Formula Systems Ltd., Liraz Systems Ltd and Geotek Ltd.

The sale of Bezeq shares reduces the government's holding in Bezeq to 63.5% from

Earlier this year, the Knesset Fioance Committee approved the State Companies Authority's plan to reduce the government's stake in Bezeq to 52%.

Asked wby the move was made, Livni said the government did not believe it could unload the entire 24% on a stock oally planned to offer Bezeq shares on the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange in August, will offer up to 11.5% of the company later this year," she said. Cable and Wireless PLC of the UK, which has a 10% stake in Bezeq, has repeatedly said it would like to own a bigger chunk of the company.

The government is currently negotiating with C&W over the possibility of future deals. Livni flatly denied suggestions that the deal Merrill got was better than C&W's.

The Tel Aviv Stock Exchange responded positively to the news share by 1.5% to NIS 10.26. Meaowhile, Moshe Leon, senior economic adviser to the prime minister, said he sees the deal as a vote of confidence in the government's economic performance. "The size of the deal says it all," he said.

As a result of the sale, the government has moved closer. to achieving its goal of privatizing NIS 4b. in state assets in 1997. Leon said. If the government completes the sale of holdings in state-owned banks, the govern-ment will surpass its NIS 4b. target for the year.

Jerusalem-Tel Aviv line excluded from Railway 2000 program

New timetable includes 25% more trains daily

By SYBIL EHRLICH and DAVID HARRIS

Plans for a new commuter railway line between Tel Aviv and Jerusalem will not be implemented until 2005 at the earliest, Israel Railways director-general Amos Uzani said yesterday.

Uzani said the Railways 2000 program, which includes plans for widespread improvements and new services, would only include Gush Dan and the Haifa

As part of the plan's implemeotation, Uzani announced a reductioo in journey times between Haifa and Tel Aviv from one hour to 50 minutes, an iocrease in the number of daily passenger trains oationwide from 90 to 113, and long-term plans for electrified doubledecker trains.

While accepting the national significance of the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv service, which at some point in the future is supposed to also stop at Ben-Gurioo Airport, Uzani said current budgetary restrictions prevent the upgrading of the existing service for at National Infrastructure Minister Ariel Sharon agreed in recent days to support Israel Railways' claim for a 1998 budget of NIS 400 million.

Uzani bas already had tacit approval from Finance Ministry director-general Shmuel Slavin for NIS' 300m. next year. Uzani's initial request was for

NIS 500m. He was guaranteed by the government that there will be no cut in the railway's budget this year as part of the planned NIS 600m. additional reduction in government spending. A government discussion of the railways' budget will be beld in the coming weeks, according

He intends proposing the setting of a multi-year budget and permission to award future contracts well in advance. The new timetable, which while announcing the authority's long-term intention to operate them, with the introduction of the first electrified lines to Kfar Sava and Rishon Lezion.

comes into effect Saturday of trains operating to Asbdod over the next five years, that night, includes:

extending the Tel Aviv-Netanya service to Binyamina;

 a 50-minute journey time on the four daily noo-stop trains between Haifa and Tel Aviv. thanks to signalling improve-meots and the doobling of the

The route is likely to be reduced to 45 minutes in coming daily services on the Tel Aviv-Netanya route from 59 to 67.

· increasing the number of

There will be a greater number

Uzani also announced the long-term intention to operate double-decker trains, with the

with the completion of signalling work in mid-1998.

introduction of the first electrified lines to Kfar Sava and Rishon Lezion. Uzani pointed out that train purchases are far simpler than the more pressing infrastructure investments required. Israel Railways expects a record 6.3 million passengers this year, but maintains that with an annual NIS 500m. budget total could reach 44 million. By October this year, Israel

Railways will receive an additional 20 new carriages, in addition to 20 purchased recently. giving an extra 1,600 seats.

Admitting there have been differences between himself and senior executives in charge of the planned Tel Aviv subway, Uzani said talks are now being beld in which he is insisting that at least two subway stations be coostructed adjoining railway stations along the Ayalon

Netanyahu, Ne'eman, Frenkel to discuss budget today

By DAVID HARRIS

Minister Binyamin Netanyahu, Finance Minister Ya'acov Ne'eman and Bank of Israel Governor Jacob Frenkel are scheduled to meet today to discuss the planned NIS 600 million additional cut in 1997 government.

The cut is needed to ensure the budget deficit does not exceed the government's target of 2.8 percent of the gross domestic product.

The Treasury confirmed yesterday that the government will hold its first discussion of the economy before the end of the mooth, with a view to approving a 1997 cut and to begin debating oext year's budget. Initially, the cabinet was to hold

Stranding th

receive el

BROTH B

7 y 03-5, 1

FECTIVE AN

Medul Lant

2000 thes to ferre pest

out worlds

STORE CORDIN

* * * *

-----

To be the Same Same

A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR

The second

1

The state of the Landson

Total

100 mg STATE STATE

12/2

Marie Service

200 300

Service Servic

Decorate de la constante de la

He to a second of the second o

plicate Containing the Containing th

Contract Charge

BURN

Neds No

STEE SHEET

DALLET IS ON

macroeconomic discussions at the end of every quarter this year, but this did not happen in April.

The government will debate the general state of the economy and the budget and then make the relevant decisions, which will be implemented during the remaining five months of the year. Additionally, there will be discussions of the budget deficit, revenues, expenditure and structural changes.

Internal Treasury talks held yesterday focused on the 1997 and 1998 hudgets, but also looked ahead to the following two years. Currently there are no discussions.

in the Treasury regarding reforms to the taxation system, according to a statement from the ministry.

The current fiscal year's budget was cut last year by NIS 7.2b. in a move which was met by fierce opposition on the part of the so-called social lobby within the coalition.

Though former finance minister Dan Meridor managed to keep that cut's general framework intact and. consequently reduce the budget deficit which he had inherited from the Labor government, it later emerged that to keep the budget within its legal limits a supplementary cut must be introduced already Grappling with this situation appears to be the most pressing issue on Ne eman's agenda.

6 MONTHS

DON'T BE LEFT OUT! If you don't have e-mail or even a computer you can still advertise! INTERNET POST CLASSIFIEDS Reach all of Israel and the world for just: $13 US Dollars/NIS 45 ☐ For Two weeks One Month $25 US Dollars/NIS 88 $45 US Dollars/NIS 158 □ Two Month □ Three Months $70 US Dollars/NIS 245 $130 US Dollars/NIS 456 Maximum 30 words List category and sub-category. Don't forget your contact address /phone /fax /e-mail in your message. Fax this form: In US & Canada, 212-599-4743 In Israel & the rest of the world: 972-2-531-5622 or place your ad directly on our web site at http://www.jpost.co.il

NO TELEPHONE SUBMISSIONS.

SOROS. Continued from Page 9

Lukashenko has gone over the edge, said the Rev. Paul Moore, an American who heads Citihope International, a New York charity that has provided more than $5m. in medicine since 1992 and which was recently told it must pay tax on its contributions. As of now, we are out of business in Belarus.

The Belarussian Soros Foundation made 5,000 grants totaling just over $6m, last year.

One of the largest went to the foundations Step by Step education project, which enrolls 1,000 Belarussians from kindergarten to high school. The program, which encourages children to think for themselves, had won the support of two education ministers and four deputy ministers since its inception four years ago.

But problems abounded even before the government charged the foundation with tax fraud, said Irinia Lapitskaya, its director.

Customs officers, for instance, kept a $5,000 wooden play house for Kindergarten No. 56 in Minsk in storage for more than a year until hefty duties were paid.

Also in jeopardy is Soros support for high-school debates, Belarus only law library, the Transformation of the Humanities project, which oversaw the selection and publication of 53 new textbooks last year.

and a $500,000 program to link Belarus to the Internet, a mainstay of Soros philanthropy. The irony is we have connected state institutions to the Internet, but not yet the independent sector, said Igor Boskin, the foundations technical director. So from the governments standpoint, this is a perfect place to stop our work. Foreign Minister Ivan I. Antanovich insisted in an interview that Belarus was becoming more democratic, but slowly. He said Soros had been let down by his staff, who he said were supporting opposition political groups.

In addition, he contended, the foundation had been extremely careless with financial matters, a charge for which he offered no evi-

The foundation has not financed nor will it finance the opposition, Soros replied in the interview. We insist on preserving our independence. We would like to stay in Belarus, but not at any price.

If Soros regrets his decision to spend two-thirds of his time and half of his annual income on promoting democracy abroad and a more tolerant society in the US, there is no sign He exudes the quiet confidence of a man who knows his access to almost any world leader, including

President Clinton, is just a phone call In the interview, he said his philanthropy was still most heavily influenced by his former professor, Sir Karl Popper, a philosopher who wrote a renown critique of Marx and Marxism.

It was Poppers emphasis on addressing unintended conse-quences that led to some of Soros most creative giving the $127m. in grants he made between 1992 and 1996 to Russian scientists to discourage them from selling their nuclear know-how to the highest bidder, for instance; or his $50m. gift in 1992 to help alleviate the suffering of Bosnias civilians.

But he acknowledged that he was increasingly concerned about political developments in the Balkans and efforts by East European governments to centralize power.

Soros is deeply disappointed in Washingtons failure to seize what he saw as a historic moment created by the fall of communism. The West, he said, has failed to pour money and resources into bolstering the former communist nations pluralistic, tolerant and independent forces the forces that underpin Western democ-

At the same time, he said, he is encouraged by the growing social cohesion of the people of the former Soviet bloc.

Yes, he had known failure, Soros said. But I'm willing to have the failures to get the successes, he contin-

I was just naive in thinking that it was only a question of time before the US government and the American people would feel the

ISTATE MONEY MARKETS Patah (foreign currency deposit rates) (11.9.96)

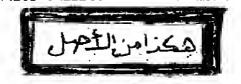

Currency (deposit for:) 3 MONTHS U.S. dollar ($250,000) 4.750

O.S. bolist (220,000)
Pound sterling (£100,000)
German mark (DM 200,000)
Swiss franc (SF 200,000)
Yen (10 million yen) Shekel Foreign Exchange Rates* (14.7.97) CHECKS AND

TRANSFERS BANKNOTES Currency basis U.S. dollar German mark Pound sterling French franc 3.8754 3.5900 2.0031 6.0667 0.5925 3.1503 1.7809 2.4355 0.4594 3.8138 3.5330 1.9713 1.9662 6.0043 0.5876 3.1226 1.7646 2.4155 0.4557 0.4585 0.5210 Prench tranc
Jepehese yen (100)
Dutch florin
Swiss franc
Swedish krone
Norwegian krone
Danksh krone
Finnish mark
Canadien dollar
Australian dollar 0.4802 0.5276 0.6765 2.6233 2.6493 0.7885 0.9700 2.8469 2.0644 Australian dollar S. African rand Beiglan franc (10) Austrian schilling (10) Italien lira (1000) Jordanian dinar 5.0835 1.0800

*These rates vary according to bank. **Bank of larget. SOURCE: BANK LEUM!

DRIVE CAREFULLY

An over-night sensation

Half a decade after becoming its president, Israeli hotelier Eric Pfeffer brings Howard Johnson to the Holy Land

By HICKY BLACKBURN

It's obvious Eric Pfeffer has told his story many times. He has it down par-from the lessons he learned as a youngster in his father's business at the age of 15, to the moment he met his wife, to his climb up the corporate ladder. Still, it's an interesting story, and he tells it with much enthusiasm. "Most successful businessmen bave big egos, and they like to talk about themselves," he admits

To A15 10 de Moshe La

Moshe to advise to said he sent confidence economy

mored chose

Abert a g

255 178 mmme

Netanyah

Ne'eman

Frenkel

to discuss

BY DAVID HARM

France Ma

Fig.

- 102 DE

- 15 76 miles

11 11 H

さにつる

عالحت تستخالا

ः । व्यक्त

TO THE TAX

11.70 22.22

10000000

- 22

the second section of the 25

. . . . .

100

مينو. مينون مين در در . مينون در در در

- ----

17:50

_- -- ^

مكان المعلق المستان والمستان

, jar

/ #7/21 | CES 25 - 18/65

And Service Control of Control

2. *

BALLERY WES

÷

· 1 (1-5

1. 17 1. 13 - 1. 15 5 m

المعاشدين

- - - - -

متناز واس

.. _<2626

Section (Section)

Chairt pas

budget toda

Who is Exic Pfeffer? Internationally he's known as the president and managhe's known as the president and manag-ing director of the new global services division of HFS Incorporated, the world's largest franchiser of hotels and residential real-estate brokerage offices. Locally, he's a regular bero. In just 15 years, the 45-year-old Israeli rose from desk clerk of a hotel in Miami, to presi-dent of one of America's biggest hotel dent of one of America's biggest hotel chains. It's one of those success stories that Israelis love to hear.

Pfeffer, who was in Israel recently to launch the company's newest venture four new Howard Johnson botels - was born in Venezuela and spent mueb of his. childhood there. His parents were Holocaust survivors from Poland who met after World War II. His father was a natural-born entrepreneur, running a variety of businesses through his life. Sometimes he made pots of money, other times he went bankrupt. From an early age, Pfeffer was encouraged to work in his father's stores. "At Christmas I had the role of opening the door and letting two people out and two in. The place was packed," he says.

When he was 12 years old, Pfeffer was sent from Venezuela to boarding school in Netanya, to be near his older brother who was also studying in Israel. Their parents arrived three years later.

Pfeffer's father opened a restaurant in laffa cailed lacob's Quiek Bar. It was an unparalleled flop. "In one-and-a-half years he went bankrupt," says Pfeffer. "If someone was rude to a waitress, he'd throw them out. He didn't have a restaurant mentality, especially for laffa."

Every day after high school, Pfeffer would take two buses to the restaurant to watch over the cash register while his father, who got up at 4 a.m. every day, rested. "He was control-oriented," says Pfeffer. "I learned an important lesson though, that the ringing of cash registers is music to my ears. Basically a company's report card is its bottom line. I never forget that. In corporations people tend to go from pay check to pay check. I always know the bottom line."

After high school, Pfeffer served in the army and fought in the Yom Kippur War. Afterward he planned to study industrial engineering at the Technion, but two friends persuaded him that with his language skills, the United States would be a better option.

Pfeffer began studying hotel management at the University of Miami and a few days after his arrival took a job in a petrol station to support himself. It was there that be met his future wife, who he married six weeks later. After 22 years, they are happily married with two Marriage gave Pfeffer a green card and the chance for a "proper" job. In December 1976, he began working as a desk clerk for a Howard Johnson hotel in north Miami. Affectionately known as Holo, the Howard Johnson botels were, at that time, based only in North America. They were primarily aimed at the mid-price market.

When Pfeffer graduated from college, he took a job as assistant general manager at the Howard Johnson botel near Disney World io Orlando, Eighteen months later, he was general manager of the hotel in Miami where he'd been a desk clerk previously.

Over the next few years, be rose quick-

Pfeffer: Where personal roots and company strategy meet.

33, he was a regional manager in charge of 24 hotels and 20 restaurants. In 1991. a year after the company was bought out by HFS, he became president of the Howard Johnson chain.

"I was very young," admits Pfeffer, "In Europe or the Middle East, they won't let you manage things until you have gray hair. In the US it's different. If you can deliver, age doesn't matter. I learned a lot from the Israeli army. There, it's natural to learn how to take control."

During this period Pfeffer effected many important changes. For starters, Holo needed a new image. Famous for its orange roofs, which are as much an American icon as apple pie, Pfeffer decided it was time to move away from this look. His first task was to create a ly through the ranks until, by the age of new logo, after which he gave hotels the go-ahead to build without the trademark orange roofs. In a bid to improve streamline service, he kicked out 37 botels for quality shortfalls.

He also began a policy of globalization, breaking ground outside North America for the first time, in destinations such as Colombia, Mexico and Dubai. Under his leadership, 40 international franchised lodging properties were added to the company and agreements for more were signed with Lebanon. Jordan, Syria, Egypt, Thailand, Malaysia and South Africa. The company now has 500 properties around the world.

As part of this move, Israel was a natural choice. So far four hotels have been franchised, the Neptune in Eilat, the Ruth Rimon Inn in Safed, the Galei Eilat and the Galei Kinneret in Tiberias. Owned by Israel Land Development Hotels Corp., which is now representing Howard Johnson in Israel, the hotels have all been upgraded to Holo standards and will operate under the company's top brand name, Howard Johnson Plaza. All are in the three to five star

Six more hotels will be opened here over the comiog year, and Shlomo Groffman, chairman of the Israel Land Development Hotels Corp., says the eompany plans to open another five or six hotels in Cyprus, Greece, Turkey and the territory controlled by the Palestinian Authority. In April 1996, Pfeffer became head of a new global services division at HFS. His role is to oversee internacional sales, services and preferred vendor activities for HFS Inc. Growth is his aim.

HFS owns many large franchise companies including Days Inn. Kings Inn. Super 8, Villager Lodge and Wingate Inn in lodging; and Century 21, ERA and Coldwell Banker in residential real estate. It also owns Avis Inc., the second largest car-rental company and Resort Condominiums International Inc., the largest provider of vacation timeshare exchanges worldwide.

Three years ago, HFS brought Days Inn to Israel. It now has seven hotels. A branch of ERA, a company which recruits agents to buy and sell hooses. has opened in Jerusalem and a partnership agreement has been signed with Century 21. HFS also plans to bring Super 8 to Israel.

"Israel's tourism industry has really evolved in the last few years," says Pfeffer, "In the past, Israelis were not service-oriented. It went against the grain. Parents wanted their children to be engineers or lawyers not hotel managers or waiters. That has improved, partly because of competitive forces, but also because you can't have pretty hotels and restaurants without delivering the product." In addition, he says. facilities, infrastructure and destinations have all improved.

Despite the blast of publicity accompanying Howard Johnson's arrival in Israel, the hotels are opening at a bad time. Since 1996, there has been a sharp decline in the number of visitors vacationiog in Israel, and this deterioration is likely to continue while regional instability and the threat of terror attacks con-

Pfeffer, however, seems relatively unconcerned. "When the market is doing badly, hotels look for other ways to promote their business. They want security blankets like franchising."

Brand names are also becoming an important worldwide trend. "Every hotel chain has come to Israel now. It's the process of globalization. Everyone wants international names."

For Holo, the failing tourism industry in Israel will have an impact - if profits at the boiels go down, the company's profits will follow suit so will the company's - but it's a small dip in a large bank account.

"Everything is cyclical anyway," says Pfeffer. "I don't know why business people always expect revenues to go up. It's naive and unrealistic."

For all his confidence, bowever, there is still an edge of uncertainty in Pfeffer's voice. Israel may be a country with much potential for the American tourist," but politics and peace do have an important role to play.

Without a peace accord, market ups and downs will continue. The government wants to double the number of US visitors to one million by the year 2000. That's a major undertaking. I hope and pray peace will succeed, not just for the tourism industry. Safety fears are a major obstacle."

Still, he refuses to give up. "I like to look at the glass half full," he says." I'm optimistie. I hope one million Americans

MOTORING

Class conscious

Straddling the line between executive and family cars, the attractive and powerful Lantra 2000 tries to offer the best of both worlds

By JOEL GORDIN

or many years automobiles with an engine size of 2,000cc or more were regarded in Israel as executive-class cars. Their prices were usually in excess of the dividing line between "family-class" and "executive-class" models (currently around NIS 100,000). However, over the past couple of years, a number of less expensive "two-liters" have crept into our showrooms. They have what could be described as "the body (and accessories) of a family car, but the heart (or engine) of an executive car."

US-built models such as the Chevrolet Cavalier and the Chrysler Neon began the trend and were later joined by the Ford Tracer, the Kia Clarus, the Daewoo Aspero, the Renault Megane 2liter - and now the Hyundai Lantra 2000. The dealers obviously prefer to call these automobiles "super family cars," rather than "cars for poor executives," as the press has dubbed them.

The external appearance of the Hyundai Lantra 2000 is identical to the latest, face-lifted versions of its younger sisters, the Lanua 1.6 and 1.8 in their GLS versions - and this is one of its greatest strengths. The new Lantra, with its sleek, curved front end and powerful, flowing, muscular, aerodynamic, sporty body topped off by shining magnesium hubcaps and a rear spoiler is one of the most externally attractive automobiles oo today's local market. It is every bit as eye-catching as the Mazda Lantis or the Renoalt Megane, and there is no doubt that good looks play a buge part in successful sales. Hyundai's CEO in Israel, Doron Vadai'i believes, in fact, that "few buyers inspect the car's engine, but they all look at its body."

The new Lantras are also handsome on the inside. The wellplanned, ergonomical dash has its curves in all the right places. The driver's field of vision, front and rear, is excellent. The standard accessories include everything that a buyer of a super-family automobile could hope to own. The price includes the high-tech automatic shift with overdrive

a factory-installed radiotape and climate controller, power steering; four power windows; electrically controlled side mirrors; central door locking; metallic paint and magnesium hubcaps. The trunk, hood and gasoline tank may be opened from inside the car and the steering wheel can be adjusted for height. Safety features include two front airbags, four disc brakes, plus ABS and an early-brake warning system (the rear brake lights flash when the driver lifts his or her foot from the accelerator, even before pressing on the brake).

The seating is pleasant and functional, rather than plush, and the inside dimensions are comfortable for five, yet not spacious. The trunk may be enlarged by folding forward the rear seat either completely or in part.

The difference between the 2000 and its yonoger sisters is, of course, in the engine. The 1600's engine generates 114 horsepower, the 1800's engine gives 128 horsepower. The 2000's engine, like the sporty Lantra Coupe's, belts oot a massive 138 horses.

The dealers are quick to describe the 2000 as having the body of the standard Lantra and the engine of the Coupe," i.e. the "best of both worlds." However, in practice, when the two are combined, they take away from each other rather than add up to the perfect automobile. Redblooded lovers of roaring, high revs and the sporting life will oot be satisfied by the 2000 and will still have to shell out NIS 99,000 for the the Coupe. The 2000 is powerful rather than sporting. Its sporting" potential is blunted by a somewhat sluggish automatic shift and by the maker's desire to appeal to the more conservative family person - with softer suspension, for example.

The 2000 is better suited for the conservative family person who can't afford (or does not need) a full-blown executive automobile, but who travels long distances and prefers a big engine for its greater performance on bills or while overtaking. This in contrast to dri-

The 2000 is a whiz on our speedlimited highways. If you cancel the overdrive, you can cruise at between 90 km./h. and 100 km./h. at around 2,500 r.p.m., which means a silent, relaxed drive. The soft suspension sucks up the bumps, and there's oo trouble with the road-holding. The steering is light, but precise. There are no manufacturer's figures available for gas consumption, but I calculated it to be around 11 km/l.

The price for the bigger engine is high. For example, the 1600 automatic GLS, which has the identical body and the same accessories, costs NIS 82.500. The 1800 GLS automatic costs NIS 84,500. Most Israelis, I believe, would like more than just a more powerful engine for the extra NIS 7,000-NIS 9,000. They will either pay less and buy the 1.6 or 1.8 or they (or their company) will shell out more than NIS 100,000 for a flashy executive car with bigger measurements and upmarket accessories.

In any event, the 2000 cannot be dismissed as a "car for poor execuoves." Taken at face value, it is a solid, attractive, powerful, driverfriendly automobile.

HYUNDAI LANTRA 2000 GLS ENGINE SIZE: 1,975cc, .16 cylinder HORSEPOWER: 138 at 6.000

TORQUE: 18.4 at 4,800 r.p.m.

GEARS: automatic MAXIMUM SPEED: 195 km./h. ACCELERATION: From 0-100 km./h. io 10.8 secs. PRICE: NIS 91,900 (1997 models are currently on offer for NIS

High-flying deals

I y with Tracer to the US."

It's the latest lingle from the Israel Automobile
Company, No, the local Ford dealers are not starting a new airline. However, if you buy a Ford Tracer before the end of August, you receive a nound-trip ticket on El Al to the US presumabily to the east on the chassis. The reason that coast, thining September (The au-fine tickets may be exchanged for another gift of similar value.)

The offer is worth analyzing carefully. The starting price for the US-made family-class Tracer is NIS 84,900, rising to NIS 87,900 for a version with opinion ket accessories such as cruise control A nicket to the US in Separaber costs around 31,100 or NIS 3,850 (although it obviously costs the company much less than that). That means the enyer is getting a gift worth about five person of the automobile's price. One of the antematically loss about 10% of their value on August 15. and the state of t

Against this consider the rising price of the dollar, which will probably hike the price of the US-made Tracer by at least 5%-10% very shortly.

Remember, there is no difference between the 1997 and 1998 Tracers except for the date stamp many dealers offer gifts on automobile purchases rather than discomied prices is that "sales" can play havor with used-car prices and cause distress and resentment among customers who bought before the "sale." Local dealers, especially those who are stick with stocks of last year's models arract purchasers by offering anything from radiotapes to burgiar plarms to telephones - to free airline tickets.

One company that actually prefers to reduce prices rather than hand out gifts is Cohnobile, the Hyundai dealers. Currently, they have cut the price of the 1997 offloading 1997 models that Hyundai Lantra 2000, reviewed above by about 2%, from MIS 91,900 to NIS 88,900. - J.G. → PEOPLE ◆ — the State to the punch in launching its 50th anniversary celebrations. On the day of the launch, Mickey Federmanni, chairman of the Dan board of directors, traveled to each of the company's hotels nation-wide to hotst the Dan flag. He was aided at each destination by the mayor of the city. The company's flagship botel, the Dan Tel Aviv, was purchased by brothers Yekutiel and Samue Federmann in 1947. The chain now comprises 9 hotels with a total of 2,500 rooms and a staff of approximately 3,000. The company's turnovet in 1996 was $134 million.

BY GREER EW CASHMAN

Moshe Marom has been named head of the projects division at Elad Systems where he has been employed for the past three years. In his new position, Marom will be responsible for planning development, information systems, turn-key projects, and management and maintenance of internal and external development systems.

Omni Food Brands, franchisees for Flaggen Dazs and Domino's Pizza, have named Amira Efrat as vice-president for finances. Effat, who has worked for OFB for four years, was previously the companyler for the company and its subsidiaries, and prior to that was comptroller for Regent holds economics and accommency degrees from the Hebrew University, Jerusalem.

Haim Krupsky, who heads the Isracard corporation, and El Al Director-General You Feldschub have signed a three month-agreement effective from July 15, whereby Isracard users who are members of El-Al's frequent flyers clob can use stars acquired in the More Gifts with Isracard campaign toward frequent fiver miles... Four stars equal one frequent. flyer point Barry' Spielman has been appointed executive director of Bar-Han University's Global. Board of Trustees. Spichman was previously manager of marketing communications at RND networks Ltd., a member of the RAD Group, He holds a BA in political science from Barilan and an MA in national. security studies from George Washington University. He also has an MS in management from Boston University. A major in the IDF (Res.), Spielman served for seven years in the IDF: Spokesman's office.

The Bezeg Board of Directors has approved the appointment of Yerneham Seri as acting director-general of Bezeg

The Dan Hotel chain has beaten in byestments, which has a 26.35 Cable Communications. Seri, the State to the punch in percent stake in Omni. Efrat, 36, who has been with Bezen since 1966 filling several senior positions, has a master's degree in public administration from Bar-flan University. He is also a graduate of Tet Aviv University, specializing in social studies and political science.

> Moti Sadeh has been appointed vice-president for sales at Eldor experience in establishing and managing computer companies, financial management, marketing and sales.

After nine years with the Club. Hotel group, Itzhak Welf has been appointed the company's general manager. Prior to assuming his new position, he was general manager of Club. Hotels bitemational and headed the team that constructed the Club Hotel Eilat, which opened earlier this year Yorana. Grozner another veteran Club Hotel employee, has been named deputy general manager of Club Hotels' management company, which is responsible for the operations of Clob Hotel Bilat, Club Ion, Eilat, and Club Hotel, Tiberias. Before joining Cinh Hotels several years ago, Grozner held senior management positions with the Sheraton, Canadian Pacific and Hyatt chains.

THE CONFERENCE CIRCUIT ◆ BY GREER FAY CASHMAN

Israeli Market to International 20.7 The Ministry of science is organizing a seminar on the Benefits and Tel Aviv.

Hazards of Human Genetic Cloning. The seminar, sponsored in conjunction with an international science workshop for youth under the auspices of the Association for Excellence in Education, will take place in the auditorium of the (Malcha, Jerusalem) School for Science and the Humanities. Speakers will focus on the medical, moral, halachic and legal implications of human eloning.

20.7 Awareoess of the Land of Israel and the State of Israel Among the Jews of Spain and of the East is the focal point of a five-day conference taking place at the Hebrew University's Truman Institute. The conference will also deal with Jewish coexistence with the Palestinians and the first meetings with Palestinian leadership, which resulted from the initiative of Eliahu Eliashar.

21.7 The liberalization of Israel's foreign currency laws has prompted the Financial Institute of Israel to launch a discussion on Opening Up the appoint an auditor, approve cer-

Financial Resources. The event will be held at the Sheraton Hotel, 24.7 Contrary to the popular belief that the world belongs to the young, people in marketing know differently. A seminar entitled The World Belongs to the 50 Plus Age Group, organized by Focus Ha'aretz and sponsored by Bank Hapoalim, will focus on just how important this segment is. Speakers of the seminar, which is being beld at Gan Oranim, will include advertising, marketing, health-care and investment specialists, as well as several socialites who are well past 50 and going strong.

28.7 The Annual Meeting of Shareholders in the Shulamit Gardens Hotels will take place at 12.30 p.m. at the company's registered offices, 6 Hanatziv Street, Tel Aviv. Participants will be asked to receive and approve the 1996 report of the board of directors, and the profit and loss statement for 1996, They will also be asked to elect a new board of directors, tain financial transactions and approve an addition to the English version of the compaoy's name.

29.7 Over 600 visitors from abroad will joio an equal number of their local counterparts in Jerusalem for the 12th World Congress on Jewish Studies. The 10-day congress, which embraces a wide range of topics including Bible, history, the Jewisb people, Jewish law, Jewish literature, Jewish media, the languages of the Jews, etc. will be held primarily at the Mount Scopus and Givat Ram campuses of the Hebrew University.

31.7 Magicians from around the world will be pulling rabbits out of hats, sawing people in half, drawing endless lengths of silk scarves from their sleeves and finding eoins behind ears at the Tel Aviv Municipality's first International Magicians' Festival, which will take place at the Tel Aviv Museum for the Arts. Among those performing at the threeday event is leff McBride, winner of the magicians' contest conducted in Los Angeles by The Las Vegas Review.

72.8125

35,375 .77,375 .36,625

TASE ROUNDUP

Stocks fall as investors wait for CPI report

Mishtanim 299.31 ▼ 0.88%

Maof 305.23 ▼ 0.95%

The Jerusalem Post Tuesday, July 15, 1997

By JOSHUA MITHICK

fell yesterday as investors looked for direction from the Consumer Price Index report, due today.

Losers were led by Bank Leumi, down one percent to 5.74, Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd., off 0.75% to NIS 224.25, Bank

Key Representative Rates US Dollar . . . . NIS 3.5580 + 0.17% Sterling . . . . NIS 6.0043 - 0.37% .... NIS 1.9862 - 1.84%

NEW YORK MARKET INDEXES

OTHER MARKET INDEXES

-0.09

-0.084 -9.2 -0.55 +0.0215

EDATE 14-JUL-87

NEW YORK METAL FUTURES

LONDON METAL FIXES

DATA COMMUNICATIONS VIA

ABA COMPUTER STSTEMS LIMITE

ें अस्तिक विकास के जान के

Commission's trading Lie.

34 Sen Yelvada St. Jerosolem

Mediterranean Investments,

Tel. 09-958-5873. All other

Tel. 02-624-4963. Due to technical failures data may

Jerusalem Post will not be held responsible for the transaction made on the Readers who wish to report

missing or misquoted data

should do so on postcards

Jerusalem Post Business

Desk, P.O.B. 81, Jerusalem

Pacific Mediterranean

Capital Markets Group

Equity & macro research Money management

Corporate finance

dentione: 972.9,9585877.3 160 972,0,9585896 E. Mail, 100274 (2004) computers com consequences of any basis of these data.

only, addressed to

Tel Aviv shares data

supplied by Pacific

data supplied by Commstock Trading Ltd.,

be inaccurate. The

Paramet Carriero

अवर्ष निवास्त्र निवास

Stocks, Small

SOURCE: S&P CONSTOCK

A243

Last 7922,98 2800,71 232,63 2434,57 807,82 426,58 478,1 896,53 918,37 and developer Industrial Buildings Ltd. off 1.75% to NIS 6.66. Bucking the trend, Bezeq Ltd., the state-run telephone company, rose 1.5% to NIS 10.26. The government said it sold 12.4% of the company to Merrill Lynch & Co., a New York securities firm, for $250 million. Stocks are mixed partly because of "tension on the West Bank," said Daniella Finn, chief of research at Hanot Batucha.

Hapoalim Ltd., which slipped 1.5% to NIS 7.77, Koor Industries

Ltd., down 1.25% to NIS 352.59,

Ira Slomowitz, a trader at Israel Brokerage and Investments, said that "people are afraid to get too involved" before the CPI report "so they haven't been putting in

The Maof Index of the 25-most traded shares fell 0.95% to 305.23 and the Mishtanim Index of the 100-most traded shares lost 0.88% at 299.31. The Maof touched a record 310.31 on July 8. The Mishtanim record of 303.95 was set July 9. The most active stock was Bank Leumi, with NIS 10.7m of shares traded.

Across the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange, NIS 156.5m. worth of shares changed hands. That's 27% lower than the average daily transactions during June. About five shares dropped for every four that

WORLD MARKET ROUNDUP

Several Euro bourses end at record highs

LONDON (Reuter) - Several European stock markets closed at record highs yesterday, propelled by the strong US dollar.

The dollar lingered near a six-year peak against the mark. despite dealers reporting Bank of Italy intervention to prop up the mark against a firm lira. Single-European-currency jit-ters and expectations that high German unemployment will continue to keep interest rates there low compared with other countries has kept the mark under pressure against most currencies. Many economists predict that if the planned single currency, or euro, starts on time in 1999, it will be softer than the mark,

That, coupled with perceptions that British rates will rise further this year and the next step in US rates will be higher, kept the mark Serseasse out

TRAGEDY

Satrued from Pag

TO THE PARTY OF

MACHINES TO BE BOOK TO

Sec. 37.40

The state of the s

Stations such asset Services

Serieral

SHEAR DOORS IN

DWELLINGS Jerusaiam Arae

HOLIDAY RENTAL

BEAR JERUSA EM THE ATTENTION

TERE TO STAY

BOWE COM

- 22 - 100 415

4-10 - A - 100

-

976

The Bank of England raised its base rate a quarter point last week, but most analysts predict more rate increases will be necessary to slow consumer demand and keep inflation tame.

The FTSE 100 closed: at 4,857.4, up 57.9 points, or 1.21

The DAX-30 index closed at 4,124.19, up 83.22 points, or 2.06%. In later screen-based trade the IBIS DAX index ended at 4,142.19, up 67.89 points, or

WALL STREET REPORT

Nasdaq ends at new high; Dow ekes out gain

NEW YORK (Reuters) - The the Dow Jones industrial average record high yesterday, powered by The Nasdaq index rose 21.24 points, expectations that technology compa- or 1.41 percent, to new high of ter results.

The blue-chip market, meanwhile, eked out a small gain following a late afternoon recovery. Based on early and unofficial data, Nasdaq composite index closed at a ended up 1.16 points at 7,922.98. In the broader market, advancing issues led declines by a small margin on moderate volume of 489 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange.

WHERE TO GO

Notices in this feature are charged at NIS 28.08 per line, including VAT. Insertion every day of the month costs NIS 520.65 per line, including VAT, per month.

JERUSALEM JEHUSALEM Conducted Tours
HEBREW UNIVERSITY. Tours of the Mount Scopus campus, in English, daily Sun.-Thur., 11 a.m. from Bronfman Reception Center, Sherman
Administration Bldg. Buses 4a, 9, 23, 26, 28. For info, call 5862819.
HADASSAH. Visit the Hadassah installations, Chagall Windows. Tel. 026416333, 02-6776271.

TEL AVIV

TEL AVIV MUSEUM. Andres Serrano:
The Morgue. Soviet Photography from the Museum collection. Lucian Freud:
selection of works. Tzvi Hecker: Sunflower. Portraits: By a group of Israeli artists. Virtual Reality: The domestic and realistic in contemporary israeli art. HELENA RUBINSTEIN PAVILION FOR CONTEMPORARY ART. Silomo Ben-David and Amon Ben-David, The Inverted Campaign.
Hours: Weekdays 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Tue.
10 a.m.-10 p.m. Fri. 10 a.m.-2 p.m.
Meyerholf Art Education Center, Tel.
6919155.8 6919155-8.

WHAT'S ON IN HAIFA, dial 04-

GENERAL ASSISTANCE

EMERGENCY PHARMACIES

PHARMACIES
Jerusalem: Amona, 9 Leib Yaffe, 6731901; Balsam, Salah e-Din, 627-2315; Shuafat, Shuafat Road, 581-0108; Dar
Aldawa, Herod's Gate, 628-2058.
Tel Aviv: Bermy, 174 Dizengoff, 5222386; Superpharm Girnel, 1 Ahirneir, Ramat Aviv Girnel, 641-7171. Till 1
a.m. Wednesday: Pharma Dat Jabotinsky, 125 ibn Gvirol, 548-2040.
Till midnight: Superpharm Ramat Aviv, 40 Einstein, 641-3730; London
Ministore Superpharm, 4 Shaul
Hamelech, 696-0115.
Ra'anana-Ktar Sava: Shoef, 78
Ahuza, Ra'anana, 748-1066.
Netanya: Tzel-Arazim, 24 Weizmann, 834-1732.
Halta: Hadas, 53 Horev, 826-2673.

Halta: Hadas, 53 Horev, 826-2673. Krayot area: Kupet Wollin Clent Zevulun, 192 Derech Aldo, Kiryat Bialik, 878-7818. Herzilya: Clai Pharm, Beit Merkazim, 6 Maskit (cnr. Sderot Hagalim), Herzilya Pituah, 955-8472, 955-8407. Open 9

8.m. to midnight. Upper Nezareth: Clai Pharm, Lev Ha'ir Mall, 657-0468. Open 9 a.m. to DUTY HOSPITALS

Jerusalem: Bikur Holim (internal, obstatrics); Shaare Zedek (surgery, orthopedics, pediatrics, ENT); Hadassah Ein Kerem (ophthalmology). Tel Aviv. Tel Aviv Medical Center Dana Pediatric Hospital (pediatrics); Tel Aviv. Medical Center Dana Pediatric Center (internal). Medical Center (internal, surgery).

100

102

101

POLICE FIRE FIRST AID

In emergencies dial 101 (Hebrew) or 911 (English) in most parts of the country. In addition: in emergencies dial 101 (Hebrew) or 911 (English) in most parts of the country. In addition: In emergencies dial 101 (Hebrew) or 911 (English) in most parts of the country. In addition:

COuntry, in addition:
Ashdorf 8551333
Ashdorf 8551333
Ashdorf 8551333
Ashdorf 8551332
Bearshelor 8274767
Beit Shemesh 8523133
Dan Region* 5793333
Ellar 6332444
Haite: 8512233 Namarya 9912833 Natanya 9912833 Natanya 9604444 Patah Tikua 9311111 Rehovot 9451333 Rishon 9642333 Suled 6920333 Tel Aviv 5460111 Tiberisa 6792444

Mobile Intensive Cere Unit (MRCU) service in the area, around the clock.

Medical help for tourists (in English) 177-022-9110 The National Poison Control Center at Rambam Hospital 04-852-9205, 24 hours a day, for information in case of poisoning. Eran – Emotional First Aid – 1201. Eran – Emotional Pirst AlG – 1201. also Jerusalem 561-0303; Tel Aviv 546-1111 (chikirenyouth 546-0739). Rishon Lezion 956-6661/2, Halfa 867-2222, Beersheba 649-4333, Netanya 862-5110, Karmiel 988-8770, Kiar Sept 787-4856 Sava 767-4555, Hadera 634-6789. Crisis Center for Religious Women Crisis Center for Religious Women 02-655-5744/5. 24-hour service, confidentiality guaranteed. Wizo hotilines for bettered women 02-6514111, 03-546-1133 (also in Russian), 07-637-6310, 08-855-0506 (also in Amharic). Rape Crisis Center (24 hours), Tel Aviv 523-4819, 544-9191 (men), Jerusalem 625-6558, Haifa 853-0533, Elat 633-1977. Hadasseh Medical Organization israel Cancer Association support service 02-624-7676).

"In local currencies

Post Tuesday, July 15, 18

305.23 ▼ 0.95

been puin Index of the Be NIS Som ve

Trace daily

ecord highs

The state of the s Excland me pm , The same of 124: 12Ez 200 Obc. John John Lands

ds at new high kes out gain

Euro bourses

7 to 1 with one 2 -- -- 1 1 - 2 Paul Mais

1. 上版

NO. 2 2

2 - 1. Carlotte 1. Carlotte

化二氯化二二甲基

-----

7.0 11 12 15

IE TO GO

100 mg 100 mg

120

SPORTS

Zohar won't play in Betar's European match

Israel midfielder ltzik Zohar will not be available for Berar Jerusalem's first match against Macedonian side Sileks Kratovo in the first preliminary round of the European Champions' League

Zohar, who is currently trying out with Crystal Palace in Finland, is still a Standard Liege player. He was on loan to Betar for last season and as yet, the Jerusalem elub has not secured his services as it is unclear where he will play next season. Ori Lewis

Brochard takes first Tour mountain stage

LOUDENVIELLE, France (Reuters) - Laurent Brochard, king of the mountains leader, won the ninth stage of the Tour de France

The Frenchman's first Tour success came after he had taken the first two of the four climbs on the 182 km leg from Pau to Loudenvielle in the heart of the Pyrenees.

Brochard's Festina team mate and compatriot Richard Virenque, one of the race favorites and third overall last year, was second. Frenchman Cedric Vasseur just managed to retain the overall leader's yellow jersey. He came in two minutes 57 seconds behind Brochard but remains 13 seconds ahead of German Jan Uilrich, who could have snatched the lead as be finished a strong third.

Sargsian beats Steven for Hall of Fame title

NEWPORT, RI (Reuters) – Fifth seed Sargis Sargisan of Armenia picked up his first career ATP Tour title Sunday by outdueling eighth seed Brett Steven of New Zealand 7-6, 4-6, 7-5 in the final of the $255,000 Hall of Fame Tennis Championships.

The 24-year-old Sargsian, the 1995 US national collegiate singles champion while attending Arizona State, earned a first prize of

The 28-year-old Steven, ranked 90th in the world, was also seeking his first career ATP Tour title. He had knocked off second seed Mark Woodforde and third seed Grant Stafford en route to his first final since appearing in his native Auckland in 1996.

Gebrselassie out of world championships

ADDIS ABABA (Reoter) - Ethiopia's Olympic 10,000 meters champion and world record holder Haile Gebrselassie said yesterday he would not participate in next month's world championships in Athens because the track was too hard.

"I completed the Atlanta Olympics 10,000 metres event suffering great injuries with blood flowing from my soles. It took me a long time to recover from that injury and I do not want to undergo similar sufferings," he said.

Gebrselassie said he decided to withdraw after bearing the Athens track was similar to the one used in Atlanta, which he said favored sprinters at the expense of distance runners.

Alison Nicholas wins US Women's Open

CORNELIUS, Oregon (Reuter) - Little Alison Nicholas of England pulled off a gigantic upset when she held off Hall of Fame golfer Nancy Lopez to win the US Women's Open by one stroke Sunday, Nicholas shot an even-par 71 at Pumpkin Ridge, culminating with a one-foot putt at the final hole to become just the second British player to win the most important title in women's golf, joining 1987 champion Laura Davies.

The 40-year-old Lopez, who has won just about every other title worth winning and is a favorite of the American fans, still has never captured the biggest championship of them all. She has finished sec-

TRAGEDY

Continued from Page 1

Firefighters stationed just outside the stadium actually witnessed the collapse and were able to quickly throw in ropes and ladders to help people out of the river, said Mondi Yitzhaki, spokesman for the National Firefighters

"That saved a lot of people,"

Yitzhaki said, adding that there 25 crews on site. were "Firefighters simply jumped into the water and started pulling them to the banks," he said.

Injured survivor Evelyn Cohen recalled how people were failing all over her as she tumbled into the

"I had people on top of me, but my head was above the water. Other people were under the water and couldn't move to get others out," she said.

The opening ceremony goes on

By DEREK FATTAL

Against a disturbing backdrop of the emer-gency services' flashing lights, the opening ceremony of the 15th Maccabiah Games went ahead last night.

A terse and visibly upset President Ezer Weizman formally launched the ceremonies with a brief statement, while Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu stood elose by. A few minutes later the two men left with their respective wives to visit the injured in hospital.

Due to the impracticality of trooping the athletic delegations through the National Stadium - there was no bridge to allow them to get into the stadium - the organizers decided to forgo

their francic search of the murky Yarkon waters, the confused spectators in the stadium witnessed an increasingly inappropriate brew of Israeli folk dancers. pop music and IDF music troupes, go through the motions of the opening ceremony, punctuated by a memorial to the victims of outrages.

that part of the proceedings.

tims of the Holocaust, Israel's wars, and vic-

In accordance with past practice, the names of the Israeli athletes slain at the 1972 Munich As divers from the security forces continued Olympic Games were read out, once again reviving bitter memories of Avery Brundage's haunting call for the "Games 10 go

Cames suspended

The organizing committee last night decided to suspend all competition for 24 hours.

works display, and interminable periods of dancing and festive songs. A tape recording of Yitzhak Rabin calling for "an end to bloodshed" was the prelude to a

The crowd of some 50,000

were then treated to a cele-bration of 100 years of Zionism, and a short fire-

large gospel choir singing "Hallelujah."

By the time an astronaut figure was propelled through the stadium to rap music, even chief organizer Yoram Eyal was probably beginning to squirm with discomfort at the decision to continue the ceremony.

The only tasteful moment in a totally miserable evening came with Kerri Strug ran into the stadium with the torch and handed to a solemn-looking Mickey Berkowitz who bounded up the steps to light the Maccabiah

Two young women console each other after the bridge collapse at the National Stadium last night.

(Han Ossendryver, Israel Sun)

CLASSIFIEDS

PRICES ARE AS FOLLOWS - All rates include VAT: Single Weekday - NIS 134.55 for 10 words (minimum), each edditional word NIS 13.45 FRIDAY AND HOLIDAY EVE - NIS 210.60 1th words (minimum), each additional word NIS 21.06
TWO FRIDAYS - NIS 351 for 1th words, (minimum), each additional word NIS 35.10

MONDAY, WEDNESDAY and FRI-DAY (package) - NIS 304.20 for 11 words (minimum), each additional word - NIS

30.42.
WEEK RATE (6 insertions) - NIS 432.90 for 10 words (minimum), each additional word - NIS 43.29.
FOUR FRIDAYS (peckage) - NIS 555.75 for 10 words (minimum), each additional word - NIS 55.57.
MONTHLY (24 insertions) - NIS 1053 for 10 words (minimum), each additionel word - NIS 105.30.
Rates are valid until AUG 31 1997.

DEADLINES omoss: Jerusalem - weekdays: 12 noon the day before publication; for Friday 4 p.m. on Thursday.

Tel Aviv and Halfa - weekdays: 12 noon, 2 days before publication; for Friday and Sunday: 4 p.m. Thursday in Tel Aviv and 12 noon Thursday in Halfa. For telephone enquiries please call

DWELLINGS General

WHERE TO STAY THE JERUSALEM INN at the City Cen-ter - double rooms with private battroom, T.V., telephone, $36-$48 until 20/3/97. Tel. 02-625-2757, Fax: 02-625-1297.

JERUSALEM LODGES LTD. Short and long term rentals, Bed and breakfast,
P.O. Box 4233, Jerusalem 91044.
Tel. 02-5611745, Fac 02-563-7586. E-Mail: jerel@jerel.co.il

DWELLINGS

Jerusalem Area

HOLIDAY RENTALS NEAR JERUSALEM THEATER, 73 m., TEAN JEHUSALEM INFATER, 73 M., 3 + small office, lenace, fully turnished, kosher, 12 steps up, no smoking, sleeps 2 advits, single bed + crib. pullout couch, $1000. For 6 months - year. Tel. 02-561-7654, Fax. 02-566-9118.

E-mail: debads@lpost.co.ll

DWELLINGS Jerusalem Area

RENTALS HAPALMACH / HATAYASIM - 4 - OWIIer's defuxe, fully furnished & equipped, Kosher. July 27 - August 20, or weekly, central a/c, luxurious. Tel. 02-671-4202, central a/c, luxuriou 050-291-629 (NS).

HARAY BERLIN, 3, fully furnished & equipped. September 1, annuel or monthly, magnificent view, quiet. Tel. 02-671-4202, 050-291-529 (NS). NEAR JERUSALEM THEATER, 3 small office 73, dude shemesh, quiel, tully turnished, kosher, nonsmoking. stone fireplace, sleeps 4 plue crib, pull out couch. Tel. 112-561-7854, Fax. 02-566-9118, E mail: debade@jpost.co.li

SALES

TALBIEH, QUIET, TURN-KEY 2.5, garden, best investment. Exclusive to CORRINNE DAVAR. Tel. 02-673-3385. DWELLINGS

Tel Aviv HOLIDAY RENTALS

BEAUTIFUL 2,3 ROOM end etudio apartments. Ben Gurion Bivd. and Habi-mah. Tourists short/long term. Tel. 03-

RENTALS AZOREI CHEN, LLIXURIOUS, 5 + balcony, double parking, country club. YAEL REALTOR (Maldan). Tel. 03-842-6253.

GORDON ST., LUXURIOUS apartments, see view. ILTAM REAL ESTATE. Tel. 09-958-9611.

DWELLINGS Sharon Area

RENTALS

HERZLIYA A PITUAH, LUXURY house, six badrooms, banquet size dining room, suitable tor Ambassador level. ILTAM REAL ESTATE. Tel. 09-958-

SALES/RENTALS

HERZLIYA PITUAH, KFAR Shmarya-hu, for sale/rent, fuxurious villa. Long term. Immediate. Tal. 09-954-0994, 050-338-128.

Spanish delegation to honor Blanco's memory

DWELLINGS

Halfa and North

SALES

HADERA, BEAUTIFUL SUN-FILLED

nationa, searchifut Sun-Fitted penthouse, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, in brand new project, wonderful sea view, across from beach, immediate, great price. Tel. 02-533-6244 (eve.), or 050-245055

DWELLINGS

Eilat and South

SALES

ARAD - BEAUTIFUL VILLA, 6, luxuri-ous, 200 sq.m., immediata. Tel. 07-997-1234, 07-997-7337, 050-332-234.

SITUATIONS VACANT

Jerusalem

HOUSEHOLD HELP

AU-PAIR FOR 3 children, plus house-work, good conditions. Tel. II2-542-2192.

SITUATIONS VACANT

Tel Aviv

GENERAL

KOREAN SPEAKERS WANTED for per-manent job in Ramat Gan! High salary! Call Michal at 03-575-8255.

HOUSEHOLD HELP

SOUTH-AFRICAN AU PAIR AGENCY IS

SOUTH-AFRICAN AU PAIR AGENCY Is-rael based, requires many South Air-can/other girls, live-in eu pairs country-wide. Top conditions + high salary. Wonderful job opportunities. Tel. 03-619-

MMEDIATE JOBS AVAILABLE, friendliest families, best conditions, the agency with e heart for the Au Pairs. Call Hilma, Tal. (03) 985-9937.

METAPELET, PLEASANT FAMILY,

high salary . Live-in / live-out. Good conditions. Tel 03-537-1036.

VEHICLES

General

GENERAL

QUALITY NEW &USED CARS

TAX FREE & UNRESTRICTED

Buying • Selling • Trading • Leasing 2 Celebrating 35 Years • Countrywite Service Passport • Passport • Our Specialty Tel. 060-240-877, Tel./Fax. 02-652-3735

ARIE PALOGE

Home may be far from the Spanish Maccabiah delegation, but they found this week's kidnapping and murder of political leader Miguel Angel Blanco difficult to

The team had decided to don black armbands at last night's opening ceremony and at all sports events. "We didn't know him personally, but as Spanish citizens, we wanted to shout 'Enough terror,' "said del-ignore.

egation head Stewart Wolfson. · With so much Jewish youth gathered in one place, it's an ideal opportunity to gamer an interest in Jewish identity. The art exhibition, 'The Path of the Menoral,' devoted to building tools for a Jewish identity, will open tomorrow at the Kfar 6 pm. Pierre Gildesgame Maccabi Sports Museum Director Rivka Rabinovich (who is also chairperson of Mivtzah Edot) and Museum chairman Fred Worms will be present. Heather Chair

be

drawo egainst Pete Sampras in the first round of this year's Wimbledon. Today at the Israel Tennis Center at Ramat Hasharon, Baum will face Israel's Tomer Dank, the top seed in draw with an ATP ranking.

Perhaps Baum's only relief is that he won't have to face the daunting figure of Shlomo Glickstein, former Israeli Davis Cup captain and the long-time No. 1 player who is tak-ing part in the Masters' (over 35 event).

The men's open event has players

in tennis tourney from 24 countries, while in the women's open draw there are 40

By DANIEL J. CHALFEN

Britain's Nicholas Baum must feel like Mikael Tillstrom when did was

Seeds expected to blossom

the men's singles open event and the only player in the SI-player players from 14 countries.

Freak results are improbable." according to John Barnett, from Britain's masters (over 55) contingent and one of his team's leaders. "In a soccer match you can score one lucky goal and beat Manchester United, but to win in tennis, you need points, games and sets," he said, reflecting the prevailing attitude that in the tennis event, at least, the medals will go to the top seeds. The men's second and third seeds are respectively Americans Doub Bloom and Scott Leivotz. In the women's event, all top three seeds have WTA rankings. They are No. 1 Shiri Burstein (Israel) and Jacquelin Rosen and Alison Cohen (US).

The drop-out-and-feed-in style tournament gives those losing in the early rounds e chance to continue their efforts to gain some glory, as they can still vie for the bronze medal.

flame. At 9:40 p.m., Eyal closed a truly awful event with a belated speech finally acknowledging, the tragedy that had taken place earlier.

hopefuls do their best

Olympic

By ORI LEWIS and HEATHER CHAIT

The five cities bidding to host the 2004 Olympic Games made a pre-sentation at Kfar Maccabiah yes erday as they continue their hectic globe-trotting schedule to try and gain support for their efforts.

The five cities, Athens, Buenos Aires, Cape Town, Rome and Stockholm all sem representatives to lobby for their cause, but while the listeners may have been more or less interested, there was only one person who really counted in the packed hall yesterday.

That was Alex Gilady, the only Israeli on the International Olympic Committee and one of an exclusive club of 100 men and women who have the power to award the Games and all that goes with them to one of the bidding cities.

All five made a good impression, with a short speech and then video film of their prospective Olympic venue. The films used some virtual reality clips to show what their virtually-real Olympic Games would look like and it was impressive. For the uninitiated, it is hard to distinguish between the bids, and if one did not know which of the videos was being played, one might not even have been able to recognize which city was being touted. The politically-correct bid appeared to be Cape Town, with the

Games having never been hosted on the African Continent, and South Africa having recently emerged

In Cape Town's video presentation, President Nelson Mandela's presence was noticeably downplayed. Why?

Derek Hanekom, Minister for Agriculture said, "We know Mandela is our winning ticket. The message is that there is life after Mandela, and Thabo Mbeki [prominent in the video] is widely perceived as the next president, reflecting the political stability in South

What about South Africa's notorious crime rate? "It takes time to undo the problems we inherited," says Hanekom, but in the eight years between now and then we will see significant progress." Hanekom, e member of the cabinet Olympic bid sub-committee, was imprisoned from 1983-1986 and returned from exile to South Africa in 1990 after the ban on the African National Congress was lifted. Gilady made the point of telling the guests that the winning bid, to be announced on September 5, was also the date on which in 1972 the 11 Israeli athletes were massacred in Munich.

Yesterday's results: Field Hockey: Argentina 3, The Netherlands 0 Soccer: Brazil 4, Denmark 1.

Maccabiah Hetline

For updates on venues, tickets, and other information, tele-phone the Maccabiah bottine -03-67(15999; or view the internet site at: http://www.maccabiworld.org.ii

LOCAL SCENE

Matusevich sets new high-jump mark

By HEATHER CHAIT

High-jumper Constantin Matusevich set a new national record at a meeting in Norway yesterday when he cleared the bar at 2.35 meters. Matusevich bettered his own record by one centimeter. He won the high jump event, beating European champions Stern Hohen of Norway in the process.

the world this year and is probably good enough to see him gain a medal at the IAAF World Championships which takes place in Athens next month. Yachting: Olympians Shani Kedmi and Anat Fabrikant lead the field in the European

Manusevich's achievement places him fifth in

Championships taking place in Nieuwpoort, After four races, the Israeli women are in front, yesterday having won the third race and eight more races to go in the championships.

Kayaking: A gold medal went to kayakers Rami Tsur and Michael Palagnov et the world championships in Posnan, Poland. The duo won the 200 meters and took the silver medal in the 500 meters. Competing in the event were 22

Bowls: Ramat Gan's bowls club is cleaning. up in all the competitions, their latest conquest the zoned trips event. After winning the national league and the Wingate Fives, Ramai Gan's men and women's teams won the finals at Savyon, both by a lone shot. George Kaminsky, Yair Gavish and Avi Rakiya beat Ra'anana's Gordon Silberstein, Sam Goldblatt and Gerald Sacks 13-12 while Tami Kamzel, Nina Hakak and Shosh Assiyaho came through on the last head to beat the host team's Chaya Prager, Yael Baroner and Tova Mlockier 13-12. Goif: Eli Gitlin and Solly Friedman won their finishing fourth in the fourth race. There are second successive better ball competition with a nine-under-par 64 strokes. Husband and wife Norma and Cyril Kaufman were second on 67 and Sergio Liberson from Argeotina partnered Siggy Meiteles to take third place with 69. The Caesarea practice driving range and greens have been inundated with visitors preparing for the Maccabiah stableford competition which begins today and the main championships from July 20-23. Wheelchair tennis: Eyal Sartov, national wheelchair tennis champion, scored a stunning victory in the Netherlands Open Championships. Sartov beat the world champion, Ricky Moliere, in front of a home crowd 6-4, 4-6, 6-4 in the quarterfinals. Sartov's current world ranking is eight.

Sports Editors: Joseph Hollings and Ori Lineis

bined for a major-league record 31

strikeouts, including 14 by Randy

Texas went ahead in the ninth on

Damon Buford's leadoff homer against Bobby Ayala (6-3); Mark McLemore's triple and Ivan

Ayala fanned four, giving Seattle's pitchers 18. Texas starter

Bobby Witt struck out nine and

Rangers relievers Dan Patterson

(6-3) and John Wetteland struck

Wetteland broke the record

White Sox 7, Royals 6

Host Kansas City lost for a team-record 12th consecutive

Frank Thomas homered for the third straight game and Albert

Belle hit a three-run shot as the White Sox won their seventh straight and swept a four-game series in Kauffman Stadium for the first time. Chicago won

Blue Jays 3, Red Sox 2

Shawn Green homered again to back another strong pitching per-formance - this time by Woody

A day after Roger Clemens struck out 16 in his return to Fenway Park, Williams (4-8) allowed three hits in 6% innings.

Rookie Kelvim Escobar, the

Loser Tim Wakefield (3-10)

Tigers 3, Yankees 1 Bobby Higginson went 4-for-5

Higginson homered and drove in all three runs for visiting Detroit, who avoided being swept in the four-game series with their first win over New York since last

Dave Nilsson and Jack Voigt homered off Mike Mussina (10-3)

as the resurgent Brewers completed their first three-game sweep in

Roberto Alomar homered for the Orioles, whose six-game losing streak is their longest since an

Jim Thome drove in three runs with a bomer and donble and

Brian Giles added a two-run

Bartolo Colon allowed three identical skid in April 1996. Indians 12, Twins 5 homer for the visiting Tribe.

Brewers 6, Orioles 4

and Willie Blair (7-4) allowed five pitched a six-hitter for his first sixth Blue Jays pitcher, got two outs for his first career save.

complete game this year.

hits in seven innings.

Baltimore since 1987.

time, stranding 14 runners.

despite walking 10.

when he fanned Rob Ducey to end

Rodriguez's sacrifice fly.

Major League Statistics

(Through Friday's Games)

Alvarez Ch 126 106 45 97 8 6 2.57

Appier KC 138 112 44 116 6 7 2.80 Percitte NY 140 135 40 95 10 5 2.94

Julhosepson Der 128 102 45 91 8 6 2.95 Hussina Bal 124 103 28 122 10 2 3.26

Henryen for 160 LS3 43 98 9 6 3.26

Tewksbury Han 102 116 21 58 4 7 3.35

Dickson Aug. 125 135 29 74 9 4 3.37

Gardon Bos 121 103 47 100 5 7 3.40

134 110 60 160 8 4 255

122 115 42 73 12 5 2.57

Sluman, 8 other Americans, disqualified from British Open

TROON, Scotland (AP) Trying to make up six shots in the final round of the Quad City Classic at Coal Valley, Illinois, Jeff Sluman was disqualified from another tournament thousands of miles away.

He simply couldn't be at two laces at one time but apparently didn't tell the Royal and Ancient Club that he wouldn't make to the qualifying round at Irvine, Scotland, for this week's British Open. Now he'll get a nasty letter from the R. and A. This is not the first time we have had to write such letters," said R. and A. secretary Michael Bonallack. "We usually get a reply from the players' management companies saying it was

"It is a serious matter because simply not turning up could deny somebody else the chance to play in the Open." Sluman was one of eight Americans and a South African who didn't show up Sunday for qualifying for Troon and were disqualified.

US Tour players Tommy Armour III, Rocco Mediate, Patrick Burke, Taylor Smith, Paul Govdos, Tom Byrum, Tom Gillis and South African Warren Schutte can all expect something in the post.

One American who is here is defending champion Tom Lehman. In fact be came a week early and walked away with a five-stroke victory over many of his Open rivals by winning the Gulfstream World Invitational at Loch Lomond.

It did his confidence a little good."This win has put me in a very positive frame of mind," said Lehman, who triumphed over a field that included US Open titlist Ernie Els, Greg Norman and Nick Faldo.

"To play that well for four straight days isn't something you do very often. And two bogeys in 72 holes — that's something I've never done,' said Lehman, who placed third, second, third in his last three US Opens but now aims to become the first player since Tom Watson 14 years ago to win back to back British Opens.

Expos' Martinez one-hits Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) - The Montreal Expos' Pedro Martinez (11-4) pitched a one-hitter on one of Cincinnati's hottest days and Mike Lansing tripled twice, going 3-for-3 before leaving with beat exhaustion, as Montreal won 2-0

Martinez (11-4) pitched his league-leading eighth complete game and his third shutout in 17 starts, allowing only Bret Boone's single in the fifth inning, striking out nine, walking one and hitting

The game-time temperature was 87 degrees F and the artificial turf made it well over 100 on the field. Dodgers 9, Giants 3

Dennis Reyes became the first left-hander to start for Los Angeles in nearly five years, allowing three runs and four hits in six innings as he beat visiting San Francisco in his major-league

Reyes ended a major-league record 681-game streak of consecutive starts by right-handers. Bob Ojeda had been the last lefty to start for Los Angeles, getting a no-decision against Cincinnati in September 1992.

With the score tied at 3. Raul Mondesi hit his 18th bomer leading off the sixth as Los Angeles handed Shawn Estes (12-3) his first loss since May 6.

Padres 13. Rockies 11 Quilvio Veras hit a go-ahead three-run double off Jeff McCurry (1-2) as San Diego rallied from an 11-8 deficit in the top of the ninth. sending Colorado to its ninth loss in 10 games. San Diego bad trailed 6-0 and 10-5. Larry Walker went 3-for-4 with four RBIs to raise his average to .406. Tony Gwynn went 1-for-6 and slipped to .398.

Pirates 5, Astros 3 Kevin Polcovicb had key hits in consecutive two-run innings and Pittsburgh, which bad scored only once previously in the four-game series, rallied from a 3-0 deficit to notch a bome win.

Clint Sodowsky (1-1) got his first NL victory despite walking two and throwing a run-scoring wild pitch in two-thirds of an inning, and Rich Loiselle pitched a hitless ninth for his 11th save in Cardinals 11, Cubs 5 Gary Gaetti homered for the fourth time in four days - one of four visiting St. Louis bomers.

The Cardinals had 20 hits. Gaetti's three-run drive off Steve Tracbsel (4-7) capped a five-run fifth inning. Ray Lankford hit his 19th homer to give the Cardinals a seven-run cushion in the eighth, a three-run shot off Ramon Tatis. Marlins 9, Phillies 3 Gary Sheffield became the first Florida player to homer twice in an inning, then left with a strained hamstring as Florida won at home.

LA's Greg Gagne

Philadelphia lost for the 14th time in 16 games and the 32nd time in its last 37, dropping to a major-league worst 25-63. It was 37th time in major league history a player homered twice in an inning, the first since Montreal's Mike Lansing on May 7. Mets 7, Braves 6 (10)

Alex Ochoa's pincb-hit bome run with two outs in the top of the 10th belped the Mets overcome a six-run deficit. It was the Mets' third come-from-behind win in the four-game set and New York's sixth victory in seven games overall. Ochoa's second bomer of the season came off Mike Bielecki (3-6) and was the Mets' major league-leading seventh pinch-hit AMERICAN LEAGUE

Rangers 4, Mariners 2 Host Seattle and Texas com- runs and three hits in five innings.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

TEAM BATTING

3148 482 920 110 454 292 3996 529 896 143 507 289 283| 466 8|| | 177 430 286 3101 460 873 85 429 281 3682 427 840 69 403 .277 3015 438 835 98 419 276 2984 436 825 90 419 276 3060 460 844 85 440 275 New York 2969 451 803 103 431 2270 Kansas City 2875 385 763 74 367 265 Milwankee

Giambi Oak 269 36 80

Carallo Mil 310 43 92 6

Cordero Bos 283 47 84 11

ByAnderson Ba 317 52 94 7

Garciaparra Bos 368 63 109 14

CDavis KC 235 33 69 14

CRipken Bal 345 45 - 101 11

Hollins Ana 305 57 89 11

Salmon Ana 313 46 91 16 62

ToClark Det. 306 62 88 23 74

lufranco De 264 41 76 3 · 22

Alicea Ana 240 38 69 4

DaWilson Sea294 41 84 7 Naehring Bos259 38 74 9

Merced Tor 319 38 91 8

Leyritz Ana. 250 41 71 10 44 284
DaHarinez Ch. 261 38 74. 10 38 284
JuGouralez Tex. 254 40 72 21 70 283
Steinbach Min 251 35 71 8 39 283

Sorrento Sea 259 44 73 17 42 .282

215 213 217

Gomez SD 327 45 86 McCracken Col 195 39 51

TEAM PITCHING

3.83 751 327 258 589 10 18 4.37 802 376 313 513 3 23 4.49 832 381 292 493 5 20 4.50 795 381 318 560 4 20

4.57 797 380 274 492 4 14 4.61 758 374 303 509 5 22

5.00 843 428 291 472 2 17 5.12 888 450 365 517 1 20

5.21 830 457 348 626 4 21

5.77 987 515 364 529 | 25

INDIVIDUAL PITCHING

McGwire Oak 305 44 86 31 71

Surboff Bal 274 46 81

Valentin Bos3 | 3 5

10 6 2T3

INDIVIDUAL PITCHING Pittartinez Hon 124 81 35 154 10 4 1.74. Kile Hou 150 114 58 116 11 3 2.84

GHaddex Att 125 104 13 99 11 3 236

Sunday's AL results: Toronto 3, Boston 2; Detroit 3, NY 1; Milwaukee 6. Baltimore 4; Cleveland 12, Minnesota 5; Chicago 7, Kansas City 6 Anabeim 5, Oakland 3; Texas 4, Seattle 2.

Seattle 2.
Sunday's NL results: Pittsburgh 5.
Houston 3; Montreal 2. Cincinnati 0;
St. Louis 11, Chicago 5; San Diego 13, Colorado 11; Los. Angeles 9, San Francisco 3; Florida 9, Philadelphia 3;
NY 7, Atlanta 6 (10).

A Case of Ring Worm Dennis Rodman debuts as a pro wrestler

SWEET AGONY - Chicago Bulls-turned-grappler Dennis Rodman grimaces as as he lifted off the to another level, I'll bold onto his ground by Lex Lugar.

DAYTONA BEACH, Florida (AP) - Chicago Bulls bad boy Dennis Rodman, who was sus-pended by the NBA for headbutting a referee and stomping a courtside photographer, put those moves to use Sunday in his debut as a professional wrestler.

However, Rodman and his tag-However, Rodman and his tag-team partner, Hulk Hogan, lost to Lex Luger and Giant, who stands 7-foot-4 (224 cm.) and 450 lbs. (204 kg), in the World Championship Wrestling match. The 25-minute bout ended after

Luger got Hogan in a "torture rack" submission hold above his

"I feel great," Rodman said after

Rodman, wearing glitter, rouge and stripes on his face and black nail polish, posed for pictures with Hogan before the match.

"It ain't about being big or strong. It's about having it in the bead," Rodman said. "I'm not one-dimensional."

"Rodman's going to be great," Hogan said before the match.
"He has to make a real good show tonight because everyone is Rodman joins the Green Bay Packers' Reggie White as a pro-fessional athlete trying a second career of body slams and head-locks in the ring.

Rodman should be able to hold his own because he's an excellent athlete, said Alan Sharp, a WCW

"He bumps and grinds with the biggest monsters in the NBA.

Let's see what he can do with the boys in the WCW," Sharp said. Rodman has been training for the match since the Bulls won their fifth NBA championship in seven years last mouth, Hogan said he didn't expect Rodman to become a permanent face on the wrestling circuit but he wouldn't be averse to fighting

The bottom line is if he takes it pantyhose," Hogan said.

Clemens For 138 100 36 140 13 3 1.69 DeLucia Arra 35 22 21 34 6 3 2.02

n Post Tuesday, July 15, 19 tatistics

$ (L) 1 4 133 F I I 2219 4-

n ii . 71 TO 15 195 - v I-30 N N 1 1 081 4-V=2-18 Starte In Il Wille TEAM PRICES

SA H B H 45 325 754 200 201 Mt 2.37 702 (40) 35 40 1 55 743 300 70 40 1 1.77 71 339 34 40 1 22 794 349 30 40 1 10 18 34 m William William 1000000 2 李 特別和單 THE PARTY OF THE P 214 : " 2 LL 201 46 31 31.

HOMOTOP PROPERTY Di i Baai The section of the se ** 28 5 5 5 8 1 ii un gj 1000年 10001 1000 1 1 3 TH BI 四 海豚用门 - 1 Server of Exhibit

1.3.12 14: 335 4 32 2.0 4 4.34 3.4% $ 645 3 4 3 3 4 4 . ... * * * *

5 (2-

4

á 5.

7 3 kg

$ 764

3 % ::

医连线

4 4 7

3.8 Section As 4 4 77 • • 3.5

19 349 M W VALUE OF SPRING **---- 14 1 5 Mil ing general

.... + Banis

4.43 011

11 4 5 11

275 01

* 2 3 11

3.11

3 9 8 7

11 2 11

.... * 5 % 6 g kg

5.5.5 F 1 1 1 1 2 2 3 1 1

margarite diffati

* 29 34 29 34

. . . 111 1 1 3 3

1951

..... : E51

16 24 5 5 4 9

7

.....

200

 $\tau_{\rm opt} \sim 2.02$

2.2 27847

And on the Co.

400

San Santa B

4-2

$ 100 pt 1

, £

4.2<sup>50, 4</sup>

...*

ليخل كالسبيس :

1.00

200

1 - 1 P

2551

1221

6.71

للكن شين الله

With the beautiful at the 9

ROZAZO

.........

70.00

A. 150

5-27-3

P. Mark

7

.

ر المارية المارية المواقع المارية المواقع المارية المارية المارية المواقع المارية المواقع المارية المواقع الم المارية المارية المواقع المواق

CRITICS' CHOICE MUSIC The Arad Festival opens tonight with concerts by Mam Caspi (the stadium, 9), Rita, and Shlomo Bar (the pool, 9), David Broza (Masada, 3 a.m), Zchava Ben (artists' village, midnight), 100 years of Hebrew song (same place at 8 p.m) and much more. There is massive security, a huge police presence, plenty of emergency services, and strict scrutiny of tickets. Helen Kaye

The Safed Klezmer Festival opened yesterday in Arad and continues today with 33 shows, most of them free, in seven venues around the Old City. Highlights include a concert by violin virtuoso Mirel Reznik at 9 p.m in the Seraya; the German Karsten Troike ensemble in the Gan Hakassum at 6:30 and at the Seraya (outside) at 8:30 p.m.; the Italian Klezroyim in the same place at 11:30 p.m and before that at the Ma'ayan Haradum at 7:30. It's fun. There are shuttle buses from the parking lots outside the city every few minutes. Activities are from 6:30 to 11:30 p.m. Helen Kaye Helen Kaye

Jeremy Kaplan and The Flowers perform tonight (9) at the Israel Museum sculpture garden in lerusalem. This open-air performance is free with museum admission and is part of the Israel Museum's summer outdoors music events. Michael Ajzenstadt

DANCE

HELEN KAYE

The vibrant Vienna State Opera Ballet Company makes its local debut with three works: Kenneth McMillan's choreography to Mahler's Song of the Earth, Symphony in Three Movements, and Movements to music by Stravinsky, both by choreographer Renato Zanella, who's been the company's artistic director for 18 months and has galvanized its normally staid repertoire. It doesn't hurt that he has some marvelous dancers including Simona Noia, whose early training as a gymnast contributes hairline precision to the instinctive poetry of her dancing. At the Tel Aviv Performing Arts Center tonight at 8:30, tomorrow at 1 p.m. and on Samrday at 9 p.m. Try not to miss it.

TELEVISION

ELANA CHIPMAN

Twenty Plus is a new local drama series follow-

ACROSS

1 Fine worker-oot all appear so (8)

5 Sailors, possibly ten, are missing (6)

9 Project a man has become

10 Story about a non-drinker that's just idle talk (6)

12 Rose is gentle in a rough sort of way (9)

13 Standard article for a

14 The Spanish Italian agreement over land (4) 16 Calm at getting into

19 Beak taking the stage (7)

21 Look for exercise record (4)

24 Barker, civic leadar, or soldier? (5)

woman (5)

position (7)

involved in to gain advancement (8)

CRYPTIC CROSSWORD

25 Turned up with awfully sour, terse characters (9) 27 Colours—some may have

28 Fine monarch's judgement

29 Decorated and given guidance after as well (6)

30 Works of poets are being

DOWN

1 Cap tha revolutionary's

2 This point may be put on record (6)

3 Her calling could be perilous (5)

4 Similes used as a combative device (7)

been significant (6)

translated (8)

animosity (6)

Jeremy Kaplan and his band The Flowers perform tonight in Jerusalem.

ing the life of three young Israelis sharing an apart-ment and dealing with the various problems young people experience: Love life, studies, work, careers, and the like. The series is a sequel to the very popular series A Matter of Time, which ran a few years ago and even features some of the same actors, such as Moshe Ben-Bassat and Shai Kapon. Airing on Fridays at 5:30 p.m., and repeated on Tuesdays at the same time, on Channel 2.

FILM FESTIVAL

ADINA HOFFMAN

Robert Altman's Jazz '34: Remembrances of Kansas City Swing is a lively, patchwork of a jam session, constructed of a dozen or so numbers that the director chopped out of his drowsy epic Kansas City. Watching that film, one had the distinct feeling that Altman had simply cooked up a thin melodramatic storyline as an excuse to hire a batch of accomplished contemporary musicians like Joshua Redman, Craig Handy, James Zollar, and Cyrus Chestnut, dress them in Depression-era duds and stage the "cutting contests" he remembered so fondly from the Hey Hey Club of his Kansas City youth. This time around, using footage left over from the first film, Altman lets all the plot pretense drop and simply allows the players to play. The result is leagues better; a satisfying three-way cross between documentary, fiction and concert film. (Rebecca Crown, 8:30 p.m.)

6 The inspiration of a

8 Tha adolescent generate

11 Stora in the cheapest possible way (4) 15 Frenzied cur restrained by only one leather strap (9)

17 Minister holds one, note, the most highly valued (8) 18 Coffee making directions

20 Trading-centre where a vehicle must reverse (4)

21 Youngster going around at

23 The way-out singer is

26 Ha has to acknowledge the queen's letters (5)

SOLUTIONS

TICP HONOUR
REGIONAL A R P P U R KNAVERY
OSCAR S O R A
R O G SYSTRAIN
R ORN D
WITTEN DRN D
WITTEN D
WITT

Yesterday's Quick Solution

ACROSS: 1 Polly, 4 Nation, 9 Rashled, 10 Tepid, 11 Sent, 12 Revisit, 15 Dra, 14 Even, 15 Then, 18 Sty, 20 Consent, 21 Near, 24 Right, 25 Amenity, 26 Shrewd, 27 Muted.

efinted.
DOWN: 1 Please, 2 Learn, 5 Yell, 5
Activity, 6 Impasse, 7 Nudity, 8
Adors, 13 Undertow, 15 Vinegar, 17
Scores, 18 Steam, 19 Prayed, 22
Edict, 23 Deem.

church to settle differences (5,2) 22 Numbskull's first aid (6)

newspapermen love to supporter in a flap (5-4)

7 Superficial alien (8)

confusion (8)

follow (8)

supreme (6)

IN CHANNEL 1

6:30 News flash 6:31 News in Arabic 6:45 Exercise Time

7:00 Good Morning EDUCATIONAL TV

8:00 Cartoons 10:00 Eric's World 10:30 My Life as a Dog 11:00 A Matter of Time 11:35 Hot Science 12:10 A.J., Time Traveller 13:00 Carloons (rpt)

15:15 Gogo's Adventures with English CHANNEL 1

15:30 Zappy Wave 15:33 X-Man - cartoon 15:55 A-Wall - Carloon 15:50 Super Ben 16:00 Hearlbreak High 10:45 Super Ben 16:50 Zappy Quiz 16:59 A New Eveniny 17:34 Zappy Wave -live broadcast from Western Galilee 17:50 Garfield 18:10 Super Ben 18:15 News in English ARABIC PROGRAMS 18:30 Apropo 19:00 News HEBREW PROGRAMS 19:30 News flash 19:31 Cosby 20:00 News 20:40 The 15th Maccabiah - daily round-up 20:50 Weekly Lotto

20:55 Mine Host Meni 22:00 The People's Century - part 2: 1914: Killing Fields 23:00 News 23:30 News 00:00 Verse of the Day

Top of the World (1974) - a wealth

Viking kingdom 10:45 Cartoons

12:00 Tush Tush

13:30 The Fresh

Prince of Bel Air

13:00 Platfus

High 14:30 Tic Tac

15:00 Aladdin

19:00 Behind the Sce of The Lost World 19:20 The Price is:

22:00 Lemon

Jonathan Segal 00:00 News

E CHANNEL 2

6:15 Today's Programs 6:30 Aladdin 7:00 Coffee with Tel-Ad 9:00 The Island at the 20:00 News man searching for his missing son in the Arctic finds a lost 21:40 Showcase 22:30 Telekesse 23:00 Cinema 3 11:00 The Legend of Prince Valiant

■ ETV 2 (23)

14:00 Degrassi Junior 19:30 Family Connections 20:00 A New Evening 20:30 Dites Moi Tout 21:00 The Onedin Line 16:00 The Bold and the Beautiful 17:00 News maga-zine with Rafi Reshef 21:50 Blue Snake -17:30 Twenty Plus 18:00 Thirtysomething documentary about the preparation of a new ballet 22-50 i, Claudius (pt.9)

I FAMILY

Plight - with Ald Avni 20:00 News 20:30 Glitter - new 1978) - Israeli film about growing up in Tel Aviv in the early '60s. With Yiftah Katzur, Tzahi Noy and

00:05 Midnight Short - short movies 00:40 Herman's Head 1:05 Jazz at the Red Sea 1996 - Spiro Gyra San Francisco 13:40 Wings 2:00 The Vierna Chamber Orchestra plays Haydn's Piano

JORDAN TV (unconfirmed)

15:00 Holy Koran 20:00 Tet

Things 22:00 News in English 22:30 West Beach 23:15 Drug Wars

23:00 CNN 23:30 The 700 Ctub 00:00 Quantum CABLE ■ ITV 3 (33)

16:00 Power Rangers 16:30 Discussion in

17:00 Man and Nature 18:00 Sea of Thoughts 19:00 News in Arabic 19:30 Video Clips 20:45 Rumpole of the

15:30 Burned Bridge 18:35 Hot Science (rpt) 17:10 A.J., Time Traveller (rpt) 18:00 Family Album 18:30 Bitz on Carbons 19:00 Tastes

CHANNEL (3)

7:00 Good Evening 7:30 Love Story with Yossi Siyas (rpt) 8:00 Dallas (rpt) 9:00 One Life to Live 9:45 The Young and the Restless (rpt) the Hestless (rpt) 10:30 Days of Our Lives (rpt) 11:15 Zingarz (rpt) 12:00 Bernaby Jones 12:45 The Streets of

Concerto in D

15:35 French programs 16:05 Super Sport Folly 16:30 Doghouse 17:00 Square One TV 17:15 The Album Show 18:10 French programs 19:00 News in French 19:30 News headlines 19:35 Coach 20:30 Encounter 21:10 The Nature of

IN MIDDLE EAST TV

7:00 TV Shop
14:30 700 Club
15:00 Gerbert
15:30 Utban Peasant
16:00 Larry King
17:00 Family Challenge
17:45 Bealman's World
18:10 Periect Strangers
18:35 Saved by the Bell
19:00 Showbaz
19:30 World News
Tonight (Arabic)
20:00 Showcase
20:50 The Karate Kid
Part II (1986) – the Karate Kid goes to Okintawa with his teacher. With Raiph Macchio
22:20 MET News Profile
23:00 CNN 7:00 TV Shop

Justice for the

IN CHILDREN (6)

6:30 Cartoons 11:20 Pink Panther 12:00 Children's 12:20 Moesha 13:00 Balman 13:30 Hugo 14:10 Dennis the

14:50 Treasure Island 15:20 Project Geeker 15:45 Pink Panther

18:30 Children's Olympics 16:50 Moesha 18:30 Special Report from the Man and his Home fair in Tel Aviv 19:30 Hugo 20:00 Animaniacs

20:15 Married with

14:00 Dallas (rpt) 14:50 Days of Our Lives 15:40 Xena, Warrior

16:30 Zingar 17:15 One Life to Live 18:00 Good Evening Ath Guy Pines

1:05 Barnaby Jones MOVIE CHANNEL (4)

11:30 Chacun Pour Toi (French, 1993) - a hairdresser takes in a desperate young man 13:10 New in the Romance (1994) (rpl) 15:00 Last of the Dogmen (1995) (rpt) 16:55 New in the 17:05 Raining Stones (1993) (rpt) 18:45 A Movie and Breakfast (Hebrew.

Resistance fighters during WWII. With Simone Signore.

man murders a drug dealer in order to steel his money, but doesn't know that the money is marked 1:00 Six Days, Six Nights (French, 1994) - erotic tale

9:10 Surprise Garden 9:40 Dennis the Menace 10:20 Treasure Island 10:50 Project Geeker

19:30 20:00 PRIME

Glitte

Popsicle

Money Wheel 15:30 CNBC US Squawk Box

Animals 18:00 The Site

19:00 National

Geographic Telev 20:00 The Ticket 20:30 VIP

STAR PLUS

6:30 Nine to Five

8:30 Oprah Wintrey

9:30 The X-Files 10:30 Santa Barbara

11:30 The Bold and the Beautiful 12:00 Hindi shows

13:30 WWF Superstars 14:30 Doogle Howser 15:00 The Wonder

Years 15:30 Yan Can Cook

18:00 Hindi programs 18:30 Star News

19:00 Some Mothers

19:30 Space: Above

and Beyond 20:30 The Bold and

21:00 Santa Barbara 22:00 Star News 22:30 Baywatch 23:30 Dynasty 00:30 Vegas

1:30 Oprah Winfrey

Do 'Ave 'Em

the Beautiful

17:00 Dream House 17:30 Company of

Beach

The Other

Hits 90210

Suddenly

The Single

Love Story

with yossi

Seinfeld (rpt)

Guv

Siyas

Beverly

Two

Fathers

Justice for the Innoces

Past Perfect

News Bash

Cosby

News

The 15th

Maccabla

Weekly

Lotto dra

Mine Host

Meni Pe'er

People's

Dream On

ntury

20:30

21:00

21:30

22:00

22:30

23:00

20:40 Roseano

ESECOND

SHOWING (6)

21:10 The Cosby Show 21:35 Different World

22:00 Procedure 769

(1995) - documentary about the execution of Robert A. Harris

23:25 L'Armee Des Ombres (French, 1969) - drama about a group of French

Bordeaux (rpt) 9:30 Mozart in Japan

11;10 Requiem by

11:50 Forte Piano (rpt)

19:15 The Young and the Restless 19:45 Sunset Beach 20:30 The Other Hall 20:55 Beverly Hills 90210 21:40 Suddenly Susan 22:05 The Single Guy 22:30 Love Story with Yossi Siyas 23:00 Semfeld (rpt) 23:25 Bebylon 5 (rpt) 00:15 The Streets of

Cinema 13:25 A Christma

1977) - a young cou-ple marry shortly after meeting, but break up soon afterwards. They meet again when mutual friends get divorced 20:25 Two Fathers,

Directed by Jean Pierre Melville Innocent (1993) (rpt)
22:00 Past Perfect
(1994) -- sci-fi action thriller. A policeman on the trail of a drug E CHANNEL 8 gang discovers that he is being bested by cops from the future 8:00 Floyd on Italy, part 3 (rpt) 8:30 Travelogue: 23:35 Dirty Work Australia (rpt 9:00 World of Wine: (1992) - a bail bonds-

12:30 Beyond 2000 (rpt) 12:55 Healthy Body (rpt) 13:30 Future Quest The Medicine Show (not) 14:00 Nature on Track Lion Heart (rpt) 14:25 Beyond 2000 15:15 Understanding Beauty (rpt) 18:10 Human Nature 17:00 Open University 19:05 Beyond 2000 19:30 A Healthy Body 20:00 Future Quest, part 14: To Boldly Go... 20:30 Nature on Track

Toad in the Hole 21:00 Eight On Eight with Yael Dan 21:45 Understanding Universe 22:40 Human Nature 23:30 Open University

I SUPER CHANNEL 5:00 Travel Xpress 7:30 NBC Nightly News 8:00 MSNBC News 9:00 Today 10:00 European

III CHANNEL 5 5:30 Bodies in Motion 16:00 Bodies in Motion 16:30 Extreme Olympics

18:00 International 19:00 The Survivors Series - Athletics 20:30 To be announced 21:00 Boxing 22:00 South American Soccer 23:00 Fabulous World 23:30 Extreme Olympics ■ EUROSPORT

9:30 Tour de France 18:30 Motors Magazine 19:30 Tractor Pulling 20:30 Freende Magazine 21:00 Power Litting 22:00 Boxing, Germany 23:00 Tour de France 1:00 Equestrian: Nations' Cup, Sweden

STAR SPORTS

20:30 VIP 21:00 Dateline 22:00 Major League Basebell highlights 23:00 The Tonight Show with Jay Leno 00:00 Late Night with Conen O'Bren 6:00 Auto: Formula 1, British Grand Prix 8:00 Sports Unlimited 9:00 Sports India 9:30 Chinese Soccer 1:00 Later 1:30 NBC Nightly News

League 11:30 Golt Inside PGA 12:00 Super League 7:00 Yan Can Cook 7:30 El TV 8:00 The Wonder Years Rugby 14:00 Watersports 15:00 Sports Unlimited 18:00 English Cricket Sunday League 21:30 Cricket Asia Cup

M BBC WORLD

News on the hour 7:30 Window on Europe 8:00 Newsdesk 9:30 Hard Talk (rpt) 10:30 Window on 10:30 Window on Europe (rpt) 11:30 Top Gear (rpt) 12:30 Hard Talk (rpt) 13:30 Tomorrow's World (rpt) 14:00 Newsdesk 15:30 Window on

Europe (rpt) 16:15 World Business Report 16:30 Asia-Pacific Newshour 17:30 Holiday (rpt) 18:30 Hard Talk with Tirn Sebastien 19:30 Airport (rpt) 20:00 The World Today 21:30 Hard Talk (rpt) 22:30 Baltding Sights 00:00 Newsdesk Newshour

00:00 Nev 1:00 Asia Today

INTERNATIONAL News throughout the day 8:30 Pinnacle Report 7:30 Insight 8:30 Moneyline (rpt)

The Cosby Eight Understand Procedure Nature 9:30 World Sport 10:30 Showbiz Today 11:38 CNN

A Hosithy

Body

utura

Duest

Track

eture or

Married with Children

Roseanne

/orld

Newstoom 12:30 World Report 13:30 American Edition 13:45 Q&A (rpt) 14:00 Asian News 14:30 World Sport (rpt) 15:15 Asian News 15:30 Business Asia 16:00 Larry King Live 17:30 World Sport (rpt) 18:30 Asia Today

20:45 American Edition 21:00 World Business Today 22:00 Larry King Live 00 European News 23:30 Insight 00:00 World Busines

RADIO

Today Update 00:30 World Sport 1:00 World View

IN VOICE OF MUSIC 8:06 Morning Concert 9:05 Josquin des Pres; F. Couperin; Mozart; Debussy; Stravinsky; Janacek 12:00 Light Classical - works by Leroy Anderson 13:00 Artists of the Week - Fine Arts Quartet, Schubert; Samuel Adler 14:06 Folk music -

Sofia Women's Choir Bulgaria 15:00 From the Recording Studio -Allan Stemlield (plano) Hummet Zvi Avni; V. Ulmann: Rossini 16:00 My Concert, with Gil Shohat 18:00 New CDs -Locatelli: A. de Cabezon; Okeghem; K.H. Graun

C.P.E. Bach; Haydn; - (1) German Symphony Orch., Berlin (2) Works by Clara Schumann; 3 Remances for violin and piano op 22 22:00 A Musical

MOVIES

Squawk Box

G.G. Gil. Jeruselem Meil (Maihe) = 6788448
Liar Liare-That Old Feeling 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:15, 9:45 - The Seinte-Beavis and Buttheed-The Stupids 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:16, 9:45 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dislogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - Space Jam-All Babe (Hebrew dislogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - The Chambers-Killing 20e 7:15, 9:45 - Something Ristly 7:15, 9:45 JERUSALEM THEATER Charite and Louise 5, 7 - Anna Karenina 9:30 RAV CHEN 1-7 = 6792799 Cradit Card Reservations= 6794477 Rav-Mecher Building, 19 Haroman St., Taipiot Private Parts-Alercules (Fisham dislogue) 11:30, 9:45 - Con Ales-Pools Rush in 7:30, 9:45 - Hercules (Hebraw dislogue) 11:3 m.m., 1, 5 - Speed 2:5, 7:15, 9:45 - Return of the Jadi 11 a.m. - Donnie Busseo 7:15, 9:45 - The English Patient 9:45 - Absolute Power 7:15 - 10:1 Delimations 11 a.m., 5 - Alesta-Protection Cat 11 a.m., 1, 5 - June 2 June 2 June 11 a.m., 1, 5 - MEVASSERET ZION G.G. Gil. = 5700868 Liar Liar 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:15, 9:45 - The English Point English 2 June 2 June 2 June 11 a.m., 1:15, 5 MEVASSERET ZION G.G. Gil. = 5700868 Liar Liar 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:15, 9:45 - The English Point English 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point English 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point English 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point English 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point English 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point English 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point English 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point English 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point 2 June 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point 2 June 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point 2 June 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point 2 June 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point 2 June 2 June 11:45, 9:45 - The English Point 2 June 2 JERUSALEM

o mec.#ASSEME! ZION G.G. GIL # 5700868 Lier Lier 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:15, 9:45 • The Fifth Element 4:45, 7:15, 9:45 • 101 Delmatians 11:30 a.m.SMADAR # 5618168 The Fifth Element 1, 12 midnight TEL AVIV

DIZENGOFF=5101370 Anna Karenina 11

a.m., 1, 3, 5, 7:45, 10 - Kolys 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5, 7:45, 10 - Heed Above Water 1, 5, 7:45, 10 - Jerte Byer 11 a.m., 3 - Blood and Wine GAT Private Parts 23, 5, 7:30, 9:45 GOR-DON Romae and Juliet 6, 8, 10 G.G. HOD Jene Byre 11 a.m., 3 - Slood and Wine GAT Private Parts 230, 5, 730, 945 GORDON Romeo and Juliet 6, 8, 10 G.G. HOD 1-4w 5228226 Hod Passage, 101 Dizengoli St. Killing Zoe-Something Fishyr 730, 10 - All Babe (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30, 10 - Bearts and Buti-head 5, 7:30, 10 - The Brighish Petient 11:30 a.m., 2:30, 5, 7:30, 10 - The Brighish Petient 11 a.m., 4, 7, 10 - Secrets and Lies 11 a.m., 2, 4:30, 7:30, 10 - The Brighish Petient 11 a.m., 4, 7, 10 - Set-Nate Hero 1:15, 8 - Doom Generation 10:15 - Shine 11:15 a.m., 2 - Beauthul Thing 4 - The Prisoner of the Mountains 2, 4, 8 G.G. PEER = 5442141 That Old Feeling 5, 7:30, 10 - All Babe (Hebrew dialogue) -The Adventures of Pinoccio (Hebraw dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5 - Different for Girls 5, 7:30, 10 - Space Jim 11:30 a.m., 5 - Verdigo 7:15, 9:45 RAV-CHEN = 5282288 Dizengoli Center Speed 2 230, 5, 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5 - Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) 7:30, 9:45 - 101 Delmetters-Alastics 11 a.m. - Con Air 2:30, 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Hint Dern Cat 11 a.m., 2:30, 5, 7:30, 9:45 - The Dern Ca

The English Patient 6, 9:15PANORAMA Lisr Lier 11 a.m., 4:30, 7, 9:30 • Kolya 7:15, 9:30 • The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hotrow Gialgoue) 11 a.m., 4, 6 • Anna Kerenine 7:15, 9:30 • All Babe (Hotrow Gialgoue) 11 a.m., 4:6 • Anna Kerenine 7:15, 9:30 • All Babe (Hotrow Gialgoue) 11 a.m., 4:16 • RAV-GAT 1-2 w 8674311 Speed 2-con Air 4:30, 7, 9:30 RAV-MOR 1-7 w 8416898 Hercules (English dialgoue) 11 a.m., 1, 5 • Speed 2 4:30, 7, 9:30 • Foolis Bush in 7:15, 9:30 • Hercules (Hotrow Gialgoue) 11 a.m., 1, 5 • Speed 2 4:30, 7, 9:30 • Foolis Bush in 7:15, 9:30 • Absolute Power 7, 9:30 • Return of the Jadi 11 a.m. - Con Air 7, 9:30 • Donnie Brasco 9:30 • High School High 11 a.m., 1, 4:45 • Private Parts 7, 9:30 • That Darn Cat 11 a.m., 1, 5 • 101 Dalmettens 11 a.m., 5 • Alaska 11 a.m., 1:15, 4:45 • Jungle 2 kungle 11 a.m., 1, 5 • Donnie Brasco 9:30 • That Darn Cat 11 a.m., 1, 4:45 • Jungle 2 kungle 11 a.m., 1, 5 • Donnie Brasco 9:30 • That Darn Cat 11 a.m., 1, 4:45 • Jungle 2 kungle 11 a.m., 4:45, 7 ARAO
STAR =9950904 The Fifth Element 11:30 a.m., 2:30, 5, 7:30, 10 • Con Air 7:30, 10 • The Adventures of Phocotio (Hotrow Gialgoue) 11:30 a.m., 5 • Beavis and Butti-head 11:30 a.m., 5 • 7:45, 10 • Priscilla 2:30 • Smesh 2:30
ARIEL
The English Petient 9 ASHDOO

ARIEL
The English Patient 9
ASI-DOD
G.G. Gil. = 8647202 Vertigo 7:15, 10 Beavis and Bust-head--Viecking Bell Blues
7:30, 10 - All Babe (Hebraw dialogue)
--Space Jem --The Nurty Professor 11:30 a.m., 5 - The Fifth Element 11:30 a.m., 5 / 7:30, 10
G.G. ORie-711223 Liar Liar--The Stupids
11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocohio (Hebraw dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5 Keing Zoe 7:30, 10 RAV CHEN **9661120
Spaced 2 7:15, 9:45 - The English Patient
9:15 - Hercules (English dialogue) --Private Parts 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air--Donnie Brasco
5, 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Hebraw dialogue)
11 a.m., 5 - That Dam Cst 11 a.m., 5, 7:15 Jungie 2 Jungie---High School Hight 11 a.m., to

11 a.m., 5 - That Dem Cet 11 a.m., 5, 7:15 - Jungle 2 Jungle - High School High 11 a.m., 5 G.G. Sall. # 72977 The Fifth Element-Lier Lier-The Stupids 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - Beavis and Butt-head-killing Zoe 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebraw dialogue) - All Bebs (Hebraw dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5 RAV CHEN Private Paris--Hercules (English dialogue) - Speed 2 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 11 a.m., 5, 7:15, 9:45 - Dornie Brasco 7:30, 9:45 - Jungle 2 Jungle-Hercules (Hebraw dialogue) - Jungle 2 Jungle-Hercules (Hebraw dialogue) - That Dem Cet 11 a.m., 5 BAT YAM

RAV CHEN Hercules (Engish dialogue) or Private Parts 730, 9:45 • Alastic 11 a.m. -Speed 2 5, 7:15, 9:45 • The Fifth Element 7:30, 9:45 • Con Air 7:15, 9:45 • Jungle 2 Jange 2 Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Hercules (Hebrew dislogue) --The Com Cat-All Baba (Hebrew dislogue) --The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dislogue) 11 a.m., 5

BEERSHEBA G.G. Gil. =6440771 Killing Zoe 7:30, 10 • Space Jen 11:30 a.m., 5 • The Seint-The Surpids 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 • Breeking the Waves 6:30, 9:30 • The Adventures of Pinocothio (Flabrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:30 G.G. ORI=6103111 The Fifth 445, 730 G.G. ORIndi03111 The Fifth Elements-Liar Liar 11:30 a.m., 5, 730, 10 Wedding Ball Blues-Beavis and Buti-head 7:30, 10 - Ali Baba (Hebrew dialogue) orthe Natty Professor 11:30 a.m., 5 RAV-NEGEV 1-4 ≈6235278 Speed 2 7:15, 9x45 Hercuries (English dialogue) ∞Con Airo-Private Parts 7:30, 9x45 - Hercuries (Hebrew dialogue) ∞That Dam Cato-Alasko-Jungle 2 Jungle 11 a.m., 5 ELLAT

ELAT Gil. Uar Liar 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 • The

Stupids 11:30 a.m., 7:30, 10 - The Fifth Element 5, 7:30, 10 - All Babe (Hebrew dis-topue) 11:30 a.m., 5 HADIERA

HADERA
LEV The Fifth Bement 10:15 a.m., 5, 7:30.
10 - Hercules (Flebrew dialogue) 10:30 a.m., 12:30, 5, 7:30 - Con Air 10 - All Bebe (Flebrew dialogue) 10:30 a.m., 12:30, 5 - Speed 2 12:30, 5, 7:30, 10 - The English Pattent 7 - Liar Liar 10:30 a.m., 12:30, 10
HERZLYA
COLONY #6902666 Donnile Brasco #Absolute Power 5:30, 7:45, 10 HOLIDAY Different for Girls 8 - Con Air 10 STAR #589068 Hercules (Flebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 1, 4 - Speed 2 7:30, 10 - Liar Liar 5:45, 7:45, 10 - All Baba (Flebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 1, 4 - Speed 2 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Flebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 1, 4 - Speed 2 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Flebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 1, 4 - Speed 2 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Flebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 1, 4 - Speed 2 7:30, 10 - Speed 2

The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dia-logue) 11 a.m., 1, 4, 5, 45 HOD HASHARON Gill. The Fifth Element 5, 7:30, 10 • The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m. • Foole Rush in 7:30, 10 • The Stupids 11:30 a.m., 5 • Liar Lier 10 • Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30 • Speed 27:30, 10 • All Babe (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5 KARMEEL CINEMA Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 5, 7, 9:30 • Speed 2 7, 9:30 • Con Alr 11 a.m., 4:30, 7, 9:30 • Jungle 2 Jungle 11 a.m., 4:45

11 s.m., 4:30, 7, 9:30 - Jungle 2 Jungle 11 a.m., 4:45
KFAR SAVA
G.G. GRL =7677370 Hercules (Hebrew disloyus) =The Stupids 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - Hercules (English disloyus) =Kollye 7:30, 10 - The Fifth Element 11:30 a.m., 1:45, 5, 7:30, 10 - Con Alf 7:30, 10 - Lier Lier 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30, 10 - Speed 25, 7:30, 10 - Speed 25, 7:30, 10 - The Advantures of Pinocolio (Hebrew disloyus) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5

Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 130,5
KRHYAT BIALLIK
G.G. Gill. That Old Feelings-Lier Lier 11
a.m., 5, 7:15, 9:45 - Absolute Power 7:15, 9:45 - 101 Delimations 11 a.m., 5 - The Stupids 11 a.m., 5, 7:15, 9:45 - The English Patient 7, 9:30 - Space Jam 11 a.m., 5 - The Saint 11 a.m., 9:45 - The Firth Element 11 a.m., 5, 7:15, 9:45 - AB Babs (Hebrew dielogue) 11 a.m., 5, 7:15 - The Chamber 7:16, 9:45 - 101 Delimations 5 - Killing Zoe 9:15, 11:45 - Beavis and Buth-head 5, 7:15, 9:45
- The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 5

dalogue) 11 a.m. 5 KIRYAT SHMONA G.G. Gill-6905080 Hercules (Hebrew dia-logue) 11:30 a.m., 4:30, 7 - The Fifth Element 11:30 a.m., 4:30, 7, 9:30 - Liar Lier 11:30 a.m., 4:30, 9:30 - Speed 2 7, 9:30 LOD

LOD STAR=9246823 Con Ak 7:45, 10 - Jungle 2 Jungle 11 a.m., 5 - Beavis and Buth-head 7:45, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocohio (*isbrev dialogue) 11 a.m., 5 - Wedding Bell Blues 7:45, 10 - 101 Datmettens 11 a.m., 5 NAHARIYA HEICHAL HATARBUT The English Patient 8:30 NESS ZIONA

NESS ZIONA G.G. Gill 1-4 # 404729 The Fifth Element 5,730, 10 • The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dial ogue) 11:30 a.m. • The Supides-Lier 11:30 a.m., 5,730, 10 • That Old Feeling 7:30, 10 • All Babe (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5 NETANYA G.G. Gill 1-5 # 628452 The Fifth Element 11:30 a.m., 5,730, 10 • The Stupids 11:30 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 • The Fath Eagrem 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 • The Stupids 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 • Kolya-oThat Old Feeling 7:30, 10 • The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew disloque) --All Baba (Hebrew dis-loque) 11:30 a.m., 5 • Liar Liar 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 RAV CHEN = 8618570 Speed 2 7:15, 9:45 • Con Air 7:15, 9:45 • Hercules (Foolish disloque) 7:30, 9:45 • Private Parts

7:30, 9:45 - Aleska - Jungle 2 Jungle 11
a.m., 1, 5 - Hercules (Hebrew dialogue)
«That Dam Cat 11 a.m., 1, 5
PETAH TRIVA
G.G. HECHAL Speed 2 5, 7:30, 10 - Con
Alr 5, 7:30, 10 - Fools Rush in 5, 7:30, 10 Liar Liars-The Fifth Element G.G. FIAM 13 = 9340818 Eventon Says I Lone You-The English Patients-Absolute Power 7:30 SIRIKIN Private Parts «Hercules (English dialogue) «Milling Zoo 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue)
«Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) «All Esba (Hebrew dialogue) - All Esba
(Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - Liar
Liar 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30, 10 - The Fifth Esment 5, 7:30, 10 - Space Jam - The Sacids 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30, 10
RA'ANANA
CIN MOFET Kotya 8:30 PARIK Hercules
(English dialogue) 7:30, 10 - Spaced 2 11

Chy MiChell Robys 255 PAIN. Helitales (English dislogue) 7:30, 10 - Spaed 2 11 a.m., 1:30, 7:30, 10 - Con Air 10 - Liar Liar 5, 7:30 - The Pitth Element 7:30, 10 -Dormie Brasco 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue) - Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) - Alli Baba (Hebrew dia-logue) 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 - That Dam Cat 11:30 a.m. 1.5

ingue) 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 • That Darn Cat 11:30 a.m., 1.5
a.m., 1.5
RAMAT GAN
RAW-GAN 1-4 = 6197121 Absolute Power
9:45 • Hercutes (Hebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 1.3, 5 • Hercutes (English dialogue) 7:30, 10
• Absolute Power 7:15 • The English Patient 9:45 • Private Parts 7:30, 9:45 •
That Darn Cat 11 a.m., 5 • 101 Datmatiens
1, 3 • Jungle 2 Jungle 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7:30 •
Alastes 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5:15RAW-OASIS 1-3 = 6730887 All Babs 11 a.m., 5 • The Adventures of Phrocctio (Hebrew dialogue)
11 a.m., 5 • Con Air 7:30, 9:45 • Speed 25, 7:15, 9:45 • Ligr Ligr 11 a.m., 7:30, 9:45
RAMAT HASHARON
KOKHAV The Fifth Element 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10

KORHAV The Fitth Element 11 a.m., 5, 730, 10
REHOVOT
CHEN The Fitth Element 11 a.m., 5, 730, 10
9:45 • Kolye 10 • Breaking the Waves 7, 9:45 • Hamlet 8 • Charite and Louise 11 a.m., 5 • The English Patient 7RAV MOR Fools Rush in 730, 9:45 • Jungle 2 Jungle 11 a.m., 5 • Hercules (English dialogue)

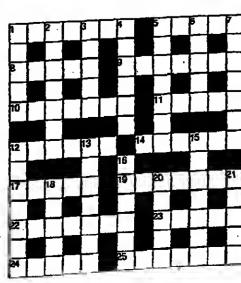

Private Parts 7:30, 9:45 • Speed 2 7:15, 9:45 • Dormie Brasco 9:45 • Con Air 7:30, 9:45 • The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hobrow dialogue) • That Dam Cat 11 a.m., 5 • Hercules (Hobrow dialogue) • All Baba (Hobrow dialogue) 11 a.m., 5 • Liar Liar 11 a.m., 5, 7:30

Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) ≪All Baba (Hebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 5 · Liar Liar 11 a.m., 5 / 7.30

RISHON LEZION
GAL 1-5 = 9619699 Breaking the Wiewes 6:30, 9:30 · Secrets and Lice 7:15, 10 · Head Above Water 7:30, 10GEL 1-3 Liar Liar 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30 · 10 · All Baba (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30 · The Fifth Element 5, 7:30, 10 · The Saint 5 · The Adventures of Pirocchio (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 · 30 · Con Air 130 a.m., 1:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 · All Baba (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 · 7:30 · Con Air 10 · That Old Feeling 7:30, 10 · All Babe (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 · 7:30 · Con Air 130 a.m., 1:30, 5 · 7:30 · Con Air 130 a.m., 1:30, 5 · 7:30 · 10 · Liar Lier 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 · 7:30 · 10 · Liar Lier 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 · 7:30 · 10 · Liar Lier 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 · 7:30 · 11 a.m., 1:5 · Con Air 7:30, 9:45 · Alastia 11 a.m., 1:5 · Con Air 7:30, 9:46 · Alastia 11 a.m., 1:5 · Con Air 7:30, 9:46 · Alastia 11 a.m., 1:5 · Con Air 7:30, 9:46 · Alastia 11 a.m., 1:5 · STAR Speed 2 Speed 11:30 a.m., 5 · 7:30, 10 · High School High 11:30 a.m., 5 · Fools Rush In-Donnie Braseo 7:30, 10 · The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue) • Space Jem 11:30 a.m., 5

All times are p.m. unless otherwise indicat (English dialogue) 7:30, 9:45 • Privalle Parts

DOWN

ACROSS 1 Permitted (7) 5 Articulate (5) 8 Railed transport (5)

9 Got better (7) 10 Argue (7) 11 Portend (5) 12 Sieve (6) 14 Whole (6) 17 Gleam (5) 19 General pardon (7) 16 Chaff (6) 22 Cut up (7)

23 Commerce (5) 24 Fragrance (5)

25 Akin (7)

1 Upper room (5) 4 Make fire of (6) 5 Ne'er-do-well (7)

12 Lives (7) 13 Indulgent (7) 15 Moment (7) 18 Follow (5)

QUICK CROSSWORD

2 Eradite (7) 3 Flinch (5) 6 Sweet topping (5) 7 Support (7)

20 South African province (5) 21 Produce (5)

Here are some sample rates:

One minute to Germany

One minute to South Africa

One minute to the UK

One minute to the US and Canada

Labor Party Chairman Ehud Barak (left) chats with British Prime Minister Tony Blair at 10 Downing Street yesterday, before the beginning of their informal talks.

Barak meets Blair, calls Arafat

By DOUGLAS DAYIS

LONDON - Labor Party Chairman Ehud Barak complained yesterday to Palestinian Authority Chairman Yasser Arafat about Palestinian Legislative Council Speaker Ahmed Qurie's participa-tion in an anti-Israel flag-burning demonstration in Ramallah.

Barak made his protest in a telephone conversation with Arafat in Loodon, where both men were having separate talks with British officials.

Barak told Arafat that Qurie's behavior was oot appropriate for a senior Palestinian negotiator and oot conducive to progress in the peace process.

Arafat is said to have brushed aside the criticism, "but he got the message," a diplomatic source told The Jerusalem Post.

During an hour-long meeting with British Prime Minister Tony Blair, Barak spoke of the threat that is likely to be posed by Iran and Iraq. He said Israel is the pre-eminent power in the region and had a "window of opportunity" that would last for six to eight years, during which it could afford to be generous.

He warned, however, that if Israel did not take the opportunities available now it could face another war, after which it would be confronted by fresh negotiations at which it would confront the same demands.

Barak said he supports an active European role in the peace process and suggested that this could be a major emblem of Britain's presidency of the European Union, which starts in January 1998.

However, Blair turned the initiative aside, responding that while the United States was playing the major role, Europe should complement

During his day-long visit, Barak also met British Labor Party officials who masterminded Blair's sturning electoral victory two months ago amid speculation that they might assist their Israeli counterparts.

Arafat arrived in London just hours before Barak left last night for a meeting in Cairo with Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak.

June CP

because

AROUND THE WORLD

Amelerden	16	61	25	77	CIOUDY
Berlin	14	67	25	79	Clear .
Buenos Aires	10	50	16	61
Cairo	23	73	34	93	p/cloudy
Chicago	26	79	34	93	p/clouby
Copenhagen	12	54	22	72	Charles
Frankfurt	16	61	29	84	plcloudy -
Geneva	18	64	24	75	TRACE .
Helsenki	10	50	22	72	clear.
Hoog Kong	27	BT	31	88	cloudy :
Johney	02	36	17	63	. clear
Lisbon	18	64	31	88	Cigor
London	16	61	23	73	cloudy .
Los Angeles	18	64	26	79	CIGGE
	18	54	30	86	cloudy
Mednd	19	66	22	72	cloudy
Montreel	08	48	16	61	p/cloudy
Moscow	24	75	34	92	picloudy
New York	19	66	26	79	clear
Nice	13	55	24	75	pictousty
Paris	17	63	31	88	clear
Rome	09	48	22	72	clear
Stockholm	08	48	17	63	cloudy
Sydney		75	31	88	pictoudy
Tokyo	24	70	32	90	Clear
Toronto	21	.61	27	81	picloudy
Vience.	16			73	rain .
Zurich	16	81	23	13	1.00

Winning cards

The winning cards in yesterday's first Chance draw were the king of spades, jack of hearts, queen of dia-monds, and queen of clubs. The results of the second draw were the jack of spades, seven of hearts, eight of diamonds, and eight of clubs.

MKs call for probe into deputy mayor's words

By BATSHEVA TSUR

State Control Knesset Committee chairman Ran Cohen (Meretz) has asked the attorneygeneral to look into a remark hy Jerusalem Deputy Mayor Haim Miller that whoever turns to the state comptroller invites punishment as a moser, one who betrays Jews to an enemy.

Technically under Jewish law, a moser can be put to death.

Cohen reminded the committee members that the murder of prime minister Yitzhak Rabin had come on the beels of rabbinical rulings that Rabin was a moser. He called on haredi citizens "to ignore the remarks and to continue turning to the comptroller in order to assist her in the s maintain ethical behavior."

Cohen's call was supported also by MKs Yossi Katz and Eitan Cavel (Labor).

Cohen was speaking at a meeting of the committee attended by State Comptroller Miriam Ben-Porat, who was asked to comment oo the role of the Housing

Ministry and other public bodies in the alleged scam with non-profit organizations during the building of a religious neighborhood in eastern lerusalem. Ben-Porat announced that her office had been looking into the matter since 1995 and that a report could be expected in the next few months. A police representative said the police had also, for some time, been looking ioto allegations of fictitious documents being held by persons who were not eotitled to cheap housing at the site. Despite Miller's warning, several witnesses appeared before the committee, including baredi residents. One haredi man, Shimon Tajuri, related that he had joined a non-profit haredi whose apartments had beenswitched, and that he himself was allocated the house belonging to someone living abroad.

Another haredi man, Haim, said that despite the fact that he had a certificate proving his eligibility for cheap housing, he did not receive an apartment.

A-G asked to probe new reserve duty bill

By ARIEH O'SULLIVAN

A new bill soon to be presented to the Knesset would make major changes in reserve duty, cutting the time men can serve, paying bonuses for any duty over 21 days and ensuring the reserve burden is spread more evenly.

Labor MK Ra'anan Cohen, initiator of the bill, presented the bill to reporters yesterday. This bill is an answer to the declining motivation problem

among reservists and will significantily belp spread the share of the reserve burden equally," Cohen said.

According to the bill, reservists can be called up for 25 days annual service with another 5 days for training and 6 single call-up days for a maximum total of 36 days. Presently reservists can be called for up to 50 days a year. The bill also plans for an average 18 days annual service, compared to 26 today. The bill provides for a payment of NIS 100 for every day served over 21 days a year. Reservists serving in combat units would be released at age 41, while those serving in other units will serve until 47-48. Under the current law, men serve until they are 54. Also, the army would oo longer be able to issue emergency call-up orders, known as "Tzav 8," uniess they are first approved by the Knesset Foreign Affairs and Defense Committee.

Cohen said the bill, which took five years to draft, has the full backing of Defense Minister Yitzhak Mordechai and was mepared in coordination with the IDF. Cohen said that at present 70 percent of eligible Jewish men do not do reserve duty and a thirtl of those who do take on 80% of the serve over 30 days a year. Cohen said younger soldiers, between the ages of 21 and 30, are about three times cheaper to the economy than older reservists, who are more established in their careers, and that the new bill would encourage the IDF to prefer younger reservis burden. He said only about 2%.

Not everyone is satisfied with the proposed bill. Arieh Niger, spokesman for the Forum of Reserve Battalion and Brigade Commanders, who have pushed for compensating reservists, said the bill was a bluff.

He said most reservists only served about three weeks a year already and that the key issue of ecocomic compensation would not work. He said his group was proposing the compensation come in the form of tax breaks.

Listen to Arutz 7, 711 1143 AM 105 FM

